Reg. No: 2008-14933
Issue No: 2009/4031
Case No: [REDACTED]
Load No: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date:

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Marlene B. Magyar

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on July 24, 2008. Claimant personally appeared and testified.

ISSUE

Did the department properly determine claimant is not disabled by Medicaid (MA) and State Disability Assistance (SDA) eligibility standards?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

- (1) Claimant is a single, 34-year-old high school graduate with no history of mental health or substance abuse treatment or counseling.
- (2) Claimant resides with his fiancé in [REDACTED].

(3) Claimant stands approximately 5'9" tall and weighs approximately 160 pounds; he is right hand dominant.

(4) Claimant's past relevant work history includes being a car salesman, a casino dealer and an assembly foreman at [REDACTED] until June 24, 2007 (Department Exhibit #1, pgs 7-9).

(5) Claimant stopped working when his 2006 diagnosed esophageal mass (leiomyoma) enlarged to the point of causing him intractable nausea, vomiting and pain which required an overnight hospitalization (7/5/07-7/6/07) for physical stabilization and referral to a surgeon for possible resection of the benign tumor (Department Exhibit #1, pgs 38-45).

(6) On October 26, 2007, a disability application was filed by claimant's then representative seeking assistance with the medical bills associated with his surgery (an esophageal leiomyomectomy) in August 2007 and a monthly cash grant (MA/SDA).

(7) Claimant's surgery was done at the [REDACTED] and updated progress notes from one year later (7/08) summarize as follows:

...He has been having severe pain which is his baseline every day, sometimes it lasts for multiple hours, and sometimes it lasts for the whole day. He has been able to eat a little bit more than normal. He has been keeping down oatmeal occasionally. This has been going on for multiple years, but since he had an esophageal leiomyomectomy about a year ago, his pain has worsened. He has lost 80 pounds during all of this during the last year to two. He takes [REDACTED] which all are helping. He is having normal bowel movements and occasional constipation. His pain is worse in the morning. He smokes a few cigarettes a day and he has been vomiting up to 8 times a day. He has actually not had any hospitalizations or ED visits in the last month, prior to initiating methadone he had 4-5 ED visits/hospitalizations per month...

...We do not feel that the administration of IV narcotics during inpatient hospitalizations is beneficial to the patient; in fact, it probably worsens his symptomatology. Therefore, we discussed with him today that we would continue his maintenance dose of [REDACTED]; however, he would not be given narcotic medications in IV form during inpatient hospitalizations and he is to only receive supportive care such as IV fluids and antiemetics during any such stay. He was agreeable to this. I gave him a prescription for 30-day supply of [REDACTED] to be taken by mouth 3 times a day. He was given a prescription for 90 tablets with no refills. He remains on narcotic contract and will present for his next refill. He asked if they could be mailed. I explained that they can be mailed; however, if they are lost, there will be no replacement and he understood this. Because he lives so far away for his last refills he had the scripts mailed and then subsequently had a friend pick them up. Also, we think he would be benefited by going to the [REDACTED], as his pain increased after esophageal leiomyomectomy and perhaps he would benefit from plexus block...(Client Exhibit A, pg 3).

(8) Claimant's physical examination that day revealed an afebrile pulse of 90 and abnormal blood pressure at 98/60; the remainder of claimant's exam was deferred due to pain (Client Exhibit A, pg 3).

(9) As of claimant's July 24, 2008 MA/SDA hearing date, the recommended plexus block had not been done (See Finding of Fact #7 above).

(10) Claimant was still experiencing constant, daily moderate/severe pain and routine vomiting incidences despite full compliance with his pain medication dosing schedule.

(11) Claimant's other reported symptoms were excessive fatigue, insomnia, loss of appetite, nausea, chronic stomach pain and more severe vomiting episodes since his surgery than prior to it.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program which provides financial assistance for disabled persons is established by 2004 PA 344. The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3151-400.3180. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Pursuant to Federal Rule 42 CFR 435.540, the Department of Human Services uses the federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) policy in determining eligibility for disability under the Medical Assistance program. Under SSI, disability is defined as:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.... 20 CFR 416.905

The SDA program differs from the federal MA regulations in that the durational requirement is 90 days. This means that the person's impairments must meet the SSI disability standards for 90 days in order for that person to be eligible for SDA benefits.

The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish it through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescribed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related activities or ability to reason and to make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is being alleged, 20 CFR 416.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.908 and 20 CFR 416.929. By the same token, a conclusory statement by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind is not sufficient without supporting medical evidence to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.929.

When determining disability, the federal regulations require several factors to be considered, including: (1) the location/duration/frequency/intensity of an applicant's pain; (2) the type/dosage/effectiveness/side effects of any medication the applicant takes to relieve pain; (3) any treatment other than pain medication that the applicant has received to relieve pain; and (4) the effect of the applicant's pain on his or her ability to do basic work activities.

20 CFR 416.929(c)(3). The applicant's pain must be assessed to determine the extent of his or her functional limitations in light of the objective medical evidence presented. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(94).

...In determining whether you are disabled, we will consider all of your symptoms, including pain, and the extent to which your symptoms can reasonably be accepted as consistent with objective medical evidence, and other evidence.... 20 CFR 416.929(a).

...Pain or other symptoms may cause a limitation of function beyond that which can be determined on the basis of the anatomical, physiological or psychological abnormalities considered alone.... 20 CFR 416.945(e).

...In evaluating the intensity and persistence of your symptoms, including pain, we will consider all of the available evidence, including your medical history, the medical signs and laboratory findings and statements about how your symptoms affect you... We will then determine the extent to which your alleged functional limitations or restrictions due to pain or other symptoms can reasonably be accepted as consistent with the medical signs and laboratory findings and other evidence to decide how your symptoms affect your ability to work.... 20 CFR 416.929(a).

...Since symptoms sometimes suggest a greater severity of impairment than can be shown by objective medical evidence alone, we will carefully consider any other information you may submit about your symptoms.... 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3).

...Because symptoms such as pain, are subjective and difficult to quantify, any symptom-related functional limitations and restrictions which you, your treating or examining physician or psychologist, or other persons report, which can reasonably be accepted as consistent with the objective medical evidence and other evidence, will be taken into account...in reaching a conclusion as to whether you are disabled.... 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3).

...We will consider all of the evidence presented, including information about your prior work record, your statements about your symptoms, evidence submitted by your treating, examining or consulting physician or psychologist, and observations by our employees and other persons.... 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3).

...We will consider your statements about the intensity, persistence, and limiting effects of your symptoms, and we will evaluate your statements in relation to the objective medical evidence and other evidence in reaching a conclusion as to whether you are disabled.... 20 CFR 416.929(c)(4).

...Your symptoms, including pain, will be determined to diminish your capacity for basic work activities...to the extent that your alleged functional limitations and restrictions due to symptoms, such as pain, can reasonably be accepted as consistent with the objective medical evidence and other evidence. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(4).

If you have more than one impairment, we will consider all of your impairments of which we are aware. We will consider your ability to meet certain demands of jobs, such as physical demands, mental demands, sensory requirements, and other functions as described in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this section. Residual functional capacity is an assessment based upon all of the relevant evidence. This assessment of your capacity for work is not a decision on whether you are disabled but is used as a basis for determining the particular types of work you may be able to do despite your impairment. 20 CFR 416.945.

...We will consider whether there are any inconsistencies in the evidence and the extent to which there are any conflicts between your statements and the rest of the evidence, including your medical history, medical signs and laboratory findings, and statements by your treating or examining physician or psychologist or other persons about how your symptoms affect you.... 20 CFR 416.929(c)(4).

[As Judge]...We are responsible for making the determination or decision about whether you meet the statutory definition of disability. In so doing, we review all of the medical findings and other evidence that support a medical source's statement that you are disabled.... 20 CFR 416.927(e).

In claimant's case, the pain and other symptoms he describes are consistent with the objective medical evidence presented. Consequently, great weight and credibility must be given to his testimony in this regard.

When determining disability, the federal regulations require that several considerations be analyzed in sequential order. If disability can be ruled out at any step, analysis of the next step is not required. These steps are:

1. Does the client perform Substantial Gainful Activity (SGA)? If yes, the client is ineligible for MA. If no, the analysis continues to Step 2. 20 CFR 416.920(b).
2. Does the client have a severe impairment that has lasted or is expected to last 12 months or more or result in death? If no, the client is ineligible for MA. If yes, the analysis continues to Step 3. 20 CFR 416.920(c).
3. Does the impairment appear on a special listing of impairments or are the client's symptoms, signs, and laboratory findings at least equivalent in severity to the set of medical findings specified for the listed impairment? If no, the analysis continues to Step 4. If yes, MA is approved. 20 CFR 416.290(d).
4. Can the client do the former work that he/she performed within the last 15 years? If yes, the client is ineligible for MA. If no, the analysis continues to Step 5. 20 CFR 416.920(e).
5. Does the client have the Residual Functional Capacity (RFC) to perform other work according to the guidelines set forth at 20 CFR 404, Subpart P, Appendix 2, Sections 200.00-204.00? If yes, the analysis ends and the client is ineligible for MA. If no, MA is approved. 20 CFR 416.920(f).

Claimant is not disqualified from receiving MA/SDA at Step 1, because he is not currently employed and he has not been employed since 2007.

At Step 2, the objective medical evidence clearly shows claimant's symptoms have lasted the necessary durational periods required to continue this inquiry into his alleged disability.

At Step 3, claimant's impairment does not appear to rise to the level necessary to be specifically disabling by law; consequently, an analysis of his ability to engage in his past relevant work is required.

At Step 4, it is clear claimant cannot perform his past relevant work. This conclusion is based not only on the objective medical evidence, but also on the credible testimony received at hearing. Certainly, a return to these jobs would most likely exacerbate claimant's pain and could result in further decline of claimant's already debilitating condition. Consequently, an analysis of Step 5 is required.

At Step 5, an individual's age, education, work experience and residual functional capacity are assessed in relation to the documented impairment(s). However, these rules do not apply in cases where an individual is found to have no residual functional capacity because he or she cannot perform even sedentary work as that term is defined at 20 CFR 416.967(a).

Under the facts and circumstances presented by this case, claimant has shown, by clear and convincing documentary evidence and credible testimony, his limitations are severe enough to prevent him from engaging in even sedentary work. Consequently, claimant meets the MA/SDA durational criteria and disability standards cited above. The department's finding to the contrary simply cannot be upheld.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides the department erred in determining claimant is not currently disabled for MA/SDA eligibility purposes.

Accordingly, the department's decision is REVERSED, and it is Ordered that:

(1) The department shall process claimant's October 26, 2007 MA/SDA application, and shall award him all of the benefits to which he may be entitled as long as he meets the remaining financial and non-financial eligibility factors.

(2) The department shall review claimant's condition for improvement in September 2010.

(3) The department shall obtain updated medical evidence from claimant's general physician, treating specialists and pain clinic notes, etc. regarding his continued treatment, progress and prognosis at review.

(4) The department also shall schedule claimant for an independent consultative physical and psychological evaluation at the time of review.
