Claimant

Reg. No: 2008-26325
Issue No: 2009
Case No: [REDACTED]
Load No: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date:
December 3, 2008
Wayne County DHS

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Linda Steadley Schwarb

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a hearing was held on December 3, 2008. Claimant appeared and testified. Claimant was represented by [REDACTED] of [REDACTED]. Following the hearing, the record was kept open for the receipt of additional medical evidence. Additional documents were received and reviewed.

ISSUE

Did the Department of Human Services (DHS or department) properly determine that claimant is not "disabled" for purposes of the Medical Assistance (MA-P) program?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

(1) On February 12, 2008, an application was filed on claimant's behalf for MA-P benefits. The application requested MA-P retroactive to November of 2007.

(2) On April 23, 2008, the department denied claimant's application for benefits based upon the belief that claimant did not meet the requisite disability criteria.

(3) On July 17, 2008, a hearing request was filed to protest the department's determination.

(4) Claimant, age 49, has a high school education. Claimant reportedly received special education services in self-contained classrooms from kindergarten through 12th grade.

(5) Claimant's last reported relevant work experience was in 2005 as a housekeeper. Claimant has also performed relevant work as a handyman and a janitor. Claimant's relevant work history consists exclusively of unskilled work activities.

(6) Claimant has a history of bipolar disorder with psychiatric hospitalizations and recurrent deep vein thrombosis.

(7) Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED] through [REDACTED] for acute left deep vein thrombosis, questionable pelvic mass, and seizure disorder.

(8) Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED] through [REDACTED] as a result of deep vein thrombosis of the left lower extremities, seizure disorder, bipolar disorder, anemia, history of tobacco use, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, and chest pain.

(9) Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED]th through [REDACTED] as a result of acute onchronic deep vein thrombosis of the left lower extremity extending to the left iliac vein, cellulitis of the left leg, bipolar disorder, and seizure disorder.

(10) Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED] through [REDACTED] as a result of chronic deep vein thrombosis, asthma/chronic obstructive pulmonary disease exacerbation, seizure disorder, and bipolar disorder.

(11) Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED] through [REDACTED] for cellulitis of the left lower extremity, recurrent deep vein thrombosis of the left lower extremity, seizure disorder, bipolar disorder, anemia, and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease.

(12) Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED] through [REDACTED] for venous embolism and thrombosis of the deep vessels of the proximal lower extremity with secondary diagnoses of bipolar disorder, anemia, chronic airway obstruction, tobacco use disorder, constipation, debility, and epilepsy.

(13) Claimant currently suffers from recurrent deep vein thrombosis; Bipolar I disorder, most recent episode depressed, severe, with psychotic features; seizure disorder; chronic obstructive pulmonary disease; and anemia.

(14) Claimant has severe limitations upon his ability to walk, stand, sit, lift, push, pull, and carry as well as limitations with regard to understanding and memory; use of judgment; responding appropriately to others; and dealing with changes. Claimant's limitations have lasted for 12 months or more.

(15) Claimant's complaints and allegations concerning his impairments and limitations, when considered in light of all objective medical evidence, as well as the record as a whole, reflect an individual who is so impaired as to be incapable of engaging in any substantial gainful activity on a regular and continuing basis.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Federal regulations require that the department use the same operative definition for “disabled” as used for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. 42 CFR 435.540(a).

“Disability” is:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months
... 20 CFR 416.905

In determining whether an individual is disabled, 20 CFR 416.920 requires the trier of fact to follow a sequential evaluation process by which current work activity, the severity of the impairment(s), residual functional capacity, and vocational factors (i.e., age, education, and work experience) are assessed in that order. When a determination that an individual is or is not disabled can be made at any step in the sequential evaluation, evaluation under a subsequent step is not necessary.

First, the trier of fact must determine if the individual is working and if the work is substantial gainful activity. 20 CFR 416.920(b). In this case, claimant is not working. Therefore, claimant may not be disqualified for MA at this step in the sequential evaluation process.

Secondly, in order to be considered disabled for purposes of MA, a person must have a severe impairment. 20 CFR 416.920(c). A severe impairment is an impairment which significantly limits an individual’s physical or mental ability to perform basic work activities. Basic work activities means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Examples of these include:

- (1) Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying or handling;
- (2) Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- (3) Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- (4) Use of judgment;
- (5) Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- (6) Dealing with changes in a routine work setting. 20 CFR 416.921(b).

The purpose of the second step in the sequential evaluation process is to screen out claims lacking in medical merit. Higgs v. Bowen 880 F2d 860, 862 (6th Cir, 1988). As a result, the department may only screen out claims at this level which are “totally groundless” solely from a medical standpoint. The Higgs court used the severity requirement as a “de minimus hurdle” in the disability determination. The de minimus standard is a provision of a law that allows the court to disregard trifling matters.

In this case, claimant has presented the required medical data and evidence necessary to support a finding that he has significant physical and mental limitations upon his ability to perform basic work activities such as walking, standing, sitting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling; understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions; use of judgment; responding appropriately to supervisor, co-workers, and usual work situations; and dealing with changes in a routine work setting. Medical evidence has clearly established that claimant has an impairment (or combination of impairments) that has more than a minimal effect on claimant’s work activities. See Social Security Rulings 85-28, 88-13, and 82-63.

In the third step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant’s impairment (or combination of impairments) is listed in Appendix 1 to Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. This Administrative Law Judge finds that the claimant's medical record will not support a finding that claimant's impairment(s) is a "listed impairment" or equal to a listed impairment. See Appendix 1 to Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404, Part A. Accordingly, claimant cannot be found to be disabled based upon medical evidence alone. 20 CFR 416.920(d).

In the fourth step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment(s) prevents him from doing past relevant work. 20 CFR 416.920(e). It is the finding of this Administrative Law Judge, based upon the medical evidence and objective, physical and psychological findings, that claimant is not capable of the walking, standing, lifting, or personal interaction required by his past employment. Claimant has presented the required medical data and evidence necessary to support a finding that he is not, at this point, capable of performing such work.

In the fifth step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment(s) prevents claimant from doing other work. 20 CFR 416.920(f). This determination is based upon the claimant's:

- (1) residual functional capacity defined simply as "what can you still do despite your limitations?" 20 CFR 416.945;
- (2) age, education, and work experience, 20 CFR 416.963-.965; and
- (3) the kinds of work which exist in significant numbers in the national economy which the claimant could perform despite his/her limitations. 20 CFR 416.966.

See Felton v DSS 161 Mich. App 690, 696 (1987). Once claimant reaches Step 5 in the sequential review process, claimant has already established a prima facie case of disability.

Richardson v Secretary of Health and Human Services, 735 F2d 962 (6th Cir, 1984). At that point, the burden of proof is on the state to prove by substantial evidence that the claimant has the residual functional capacity for substantial gainful activity.

In this case, claimant has had a long history of bipolar disorder and recurrent deep vein thrombosis. He has had multiple, frequent hospitalizations for deep vein thrombosis. On April 3, 2008, claimant's internist diagnosed claimant with cellulitis, recurrent deep vein thrombosis, seizure disorder, and bipolar disorder. The internist opined that claimant was limited to occasionally lifting less than 10 pounds and limited to standing and walking less than 2 hours in an 8-hour workday. As a result of claimant's chronic deep vein thrombosis, the internist indicated that claimant was incapable of operating foot or leg controls on a repetitive basis. Claimant's treating psychiatrist [REDACTED] has diagnosed claimant with Bipolar I disorder, most recent episode depressed, severe with psychotic features. Throughout the last year, the treating psychiatrist has indicated that claimant's current GAF score was 48. On April 7, 2008, an evaluating psychiatrist opined that claimant was markedly limited in all areas of understanding and memory, sustained concentration and persistence, social interaction, and adaption.

After careful review of claimant's extensive medical record and the Administrative Law Judge's personal interaction with claimant at the hearing, this Administrative Law Judge finds that claimant's exertional and non-exertional impairments render claimant unable to engage in a full range of even sedentary work activities on a regular and continuing basis. 20 CFR 404, Subpart P. Appendix 11, Section 201.00(h). See Social Security Ruling 83-10; Wilson v Heckler, 743 F2d 216 (1986). The department has failed to provide vocational evidence which establishes that claimant has the residual functional capacity for substantial gainful activity and that, given claimant's age, education, and work experience, there are significant numbers of jobs in the national economy which the claimant could perform despite claimant's limitations.

Accordingly, this Administrative Law Judge concludes that claimant is disabled for purposes of the MA program.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides that claimant meets the definition of medically disabled under the Medical Assistance program as of November of 2007.

Accordingly, the department is ORDERED to initiate a review of the February 12, 2008 application, if it has not already done so, to determine if all other non-medical eligibility criteria are met. The department shall inform claimant and his authorized representative of its determination in writing. Assuming that claimant is otherwise eligible for program benefits, the department shall review claimant's continued eligibility for program benefits in March of 2010.
