Issue No: 2009/4031
Case No: [REDACTED]
Load No: [REDACTED]

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Marlene B. Magyar

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on April 29, 2008. Claimant personally appeared and testified.

ISSUE

Did the department properly determine claimant is not disabled by Medicaid (MA) and State Disability Assistance (SDA) eligibility standards?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

(1) Claimant is a divorced, 55-year-old smoker who has Masters Degrees in Business Administration, Human Resources and Public Administration (See July 7, 2008 Physical Exam Report, pgs 1 and 2).

(2) Claimant's past relevant work history includes working at [REDACTED] in electrical testing, quality assurance and supervisory positions; she also did seasonal tax preparation but she professes not to have worked in this field or held any other jobs since April, 2006.

(3) Nerve conduction studies done in June, 2006 verify bilateral carpal tunnel syndrome with numbness/weakness/pain; this has been treated conservatively with pain medications but no surgical intervention is noted to date (Department Exhibit #1, pgs 16-19).

(4) Upon independent physical examination on July 7, 2008, claimant's grip strength was equal bilaterally and her upper extremity gross and fine dexterity were fully intact (See July 7, 2008 Physical Exam Report, pg 3).

(5) Claimant's surgical history is positive for a remote gastric by-pass; the Medical Examination Report (DHS-49) completed by her family practitioner on January 22, 2007 confirms continued medical obesity at 5'5" tall and 192 pounds (BMI=31.9)(Department Exhibit #1, pg 5).

(6) Claimant's medical records also verify a COPD diagnosis not uncommon for someone with a lengthy smoking history beginning at age 21 (See July 7, 2008 Physical Exam Report, pg 1).

(7) Claimant uses an [REDACTED] inhaler as needed for shortness of breath symptom management (Department Exhibit #1, pg 6A).

(8) Claimant lives alone, she has a valid driver's license/vehicle access, and she performs all self cares/basic daily living activities independently (Department Exhibit #1, pgs 7-7C).

(9) On June 26, 2007, claimant applied for disability-based MA/SDA alleging she is unable to perform any type of substantial gainful work activity due to her pervasive total body pain, fatigue, asthma, insomnia, memory problems and depression/panic attacks.

(10) On April 18, 2008, claimant underwent an independent full scale psychiatric evaluation.

(11) Claimant's affect was normal however her mood appeared to be somewhat dysthymic; additionally, she demonstrated good short-term memory with spontaneous/logical/goal-directed speech; her Global Assessment Function (GAF) score was assessed at 60 (normal)(See April 18, 2008 [REDACTED], pgs 1-3).

(12) Claimant's treating doctor has prescribed [REDACTED] for her depressive symptoms.

(13) Claimant also uses a cane for balance when out in the public secondary to a remote, work-related slip-and-fall injury during her years at [REDACTED] (See Finding of Fact #2 above).

(14) A slight left-sided limp was confirmed on independent physical examination (See July 8, 2008 Physical Examination Report, pg 3).

(15) When the department issued a disability disallowance notice to claimant on August 15, 2007, she filed a hearing request dated November 1, 2007.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program which provides financial assistance for disabled persons is established by 2004 PA 344. The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3151-400.3180. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Pursuant to Federal Rule 42 CFR 435.540, the Department of Human Services uses the federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) policy in determining eligibility for disability under the Medical Assistance program. Under SSI, disability is defined as:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.... 20 CFR 416.905

The SDA program differs from the federal MA regulations in that the durational requirement is 90 days. This means that the person's impairments must meet the SSI disability standards for 90 days in order for that person to be eligible for SDA benefits.

The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish it through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescribed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related activities or ability to reason and to make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is being alleged, 20 CFR 416.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.908 and 20 CFR 416.929. By the same token, a conclusory statement by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind is not sufficient without supporting medical evidence to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.929.

A set order is used to determine disability. Current work activity, severity of impairments, residual functional capacity, past work, age, or education and work experience is reviewed. If there is a finding that an individual is disabled or not disabled at any point in the review, there will be no further evaluation. 20 CFR 416.920.

If an individual is working and the work is substantial gainful activity, the individual is not disabled regardless of the medical condition, education and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(c).

If the impairment or combination of impairments do not significantly limit physical or mental ability to do basic work activities, it is not a severe impairment(s) and disability does not exist. Age, education and work experience will not be considered. 20 CFR 416.920.

Statements about pain or other symptoms do not alone establish disability. There must be medical signs and laboratory findings which demonstrate a medical impairment.... 20 CFR 416.929(a).

...Medical reports should include –

- (1) Medical history.
- (2) Clinical findings (such as the results of physical or mental status examinations);
- (3) Laboratory findings (such as blood pressure, X-rays);
- (4) Diagnosis (statement of disease or injury based on its signs and symptoms).... 20 CFR 416.913(b).

In determining disability under the law, the ability to work is measured. An individual's functional capacity for doing basic work activities is evaluated. If an individual has the ability to perform basic work activities without significant limitations, he or she is not considered disabled.

20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(iv).

Basic work activities are the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Examples of these include --

- (1) Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling;
- (2) Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- (3) Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- (4) Use of judgment;
- (5) Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- (6) Dealing with changes in a routine work setting. 20 CFR 416.921(b).

The residual functional capacity is what an individual can do despite limitations. All impairments will be considered in addition to ability to meet certain demands of jobs in the national economy. Physical demands, mental demands, sensory requirements and other functions will be evaluated.... 20 CFR 416.945(a).

To determine the physical demands (exertional requirements) of work in the national economy, we classify jobs as sedentary, light, medium and heavy. These terms have the same meaning as they have in the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, published by the Department of Labor... 20 CFR 416.967.

Sedentary work. Sedentary work involves lifting no more than 10 pounds at a time and occasionally lifting or carrying articles like docket files, ledgers, and small tools. Although a sedentary job is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out job duties. Jobs are sedentary if walking and standing are required occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met. 20 CFR 416.967(a).

Medical findings must allow a determination of (1) the nature and limiting effects of your impairment(s) for any period in question; (2) the probable duration of the impairment; and (3) the residual functional capacity to do work-related physical and mental activities. 20 CFR 416.913(d).

Medical evidence may contain medical opinions. Medical opinions are statements from physicians and psychologists or other acceptable medical sources that reflect judgments about the nature and severity of the impairment(s), including your symptoms, diagnosis and prognosis, what an individual can do despite impairment(s), and the physical or mental restrictions. 20 CFR 416.927(a)(2).

All of the evidence relevant to the claim, including medical opinions, is reviewed and findings are made. 20 CFR 416.927(c).

A statement by a medical source finding that an individual is "disabled" or "unable to work" does not mean that disability exists for the purposes of the program. 20 CFR 416.927(e).

If an individual fails to follow prescribed treatment which would be expected to restore their ability to engage in substantial gainful activity without good cause, there will not be a finding of disability.... 20 CFR 416.994(b)(4)(iv).

The Administrative Law Judge is responsible for making the determination or decision about whether the statutory definition of disability is met. The Administrative Law Judge reviews all medical findings and other evidence that support a medical source's statement of disability.... 20 CFR 416.927(e).

When determining disability, the federal regulations require that several considerations be analyzed in sequential order. If disability can be ruled out at any step, analysis of the next step is not required. These steps are:

1. Does the client perform Substantial Gainful Activity (SGA)? If yes, the client is ineligible for MA. If no, the analysis continues to Step 2. 20 CFR 416.920(b).
2. Does the client have a severe impairment that has lasted or is expected to last 12 months or more or result in death? If no, the client is ineligible for MA. If yes, the analysis continues to Step 3. 20 CFR 416.920(c).
3. Does the impairment appear on a special listing of impairments or are the client's symptoms, signs, and laboratory findings at least equivalent in severity to the set of medical findings specified for the listed impairment? If no, the analysis continues to Step 4. If yes, MA is approved. 20 CFR 416.290(d).
4. Can the client do the former work that he/she performed within the last 15 years? If yes, the client is ineligible for MA. If no, the analysis continues to Step 5. 20 CFR 416.920(e).
5. Does the client have the Residual Functional Capacity (RFC) to perform other work according to the guidelines set forth at 20 CFR 404, Subpart P, Appendix 2, Sections 200.00-204.00? If yes, the analysis ends and the client is ineligible for MA. If no, MA is approved. 20 CFR 416.920(f).

Claimant is not disqualified from receiving MA/SDA at Step 1, because she has not been gainfully employed since the 2006 tax season (See Finding of Fact #2 above).

At Step 2, claimant's diagnosed physical impairments, in combination, have left her with some range of motion limitations and pain. However, it must be noted no severe mental impairments have been shown, and claimant's diagnosed physical impairments appear capable of adequate management with the prescription medications currently being prescribed, as long as claimant maintains compliance.

Furthermore, it must be noted the law does not require an applicant to be completely symptom free before a finding of lack of disability can be rendered. In fact, if an applicant's symptoms can be managed to the point where substantial gainful employment can be achieved, a finding of not disabled must be rendered. Nevertheless, claimant's medically managed physical impairments meet the de minimus level of severity and duration required for further analysis.

At Step 3, the medical evidence on this record does not support a finding that claimant's diagnosed impairments, standing alone or combined, are severe enough to meet or equal any specifically listed impairments; consequently, the analysis must continue.

At Step 4, claimant's medical records support a finding she is capable of returning to skilled, sedentary work of the type she formerly engaged in, despite her histrionic protestations to the contrary at hearing. As such, this analysis could end at Step 4 with a finding that claimant can perform her past relevant work. However, even if an analysis of Step 5 was required, claimant would be unsuccessful in establishing a legal disability.

At Step 5, an individual's age, education and previous work experience (vocational factors) must be assessed in light of the documented impairments. Claimant is a 55-year-old individual with several post-graduate degrees and a skilled, sedentary work history. Consequently, at Step 5, this Administrative Law Judge finds, from the medical evidence of record, claimant retains the residual functional capacity to perform sedentary work, as that term is defined above.

Claimant's biggest barrier to employability appears to be her lack of recent connection to the competitive work force. Claimant should be referred to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] for assistance with job training and/or placement consistent with her skills, interests and abilities. Claimant is not disabled under the MA/SDA definitions, because she can return to other sedentary work, as directed by Med-Voc Rule 201.05.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides the department properly determined claimant is not disabled by MA/SDA eligibility standards.

Accordingly, the department's action is AFFIRMED.
