Reg. No.: 2009-21975
Issue No.: 2009, 4031
Case No.: [REDACTED]
Load No.: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date:

Monroe County DHS

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Linda Steadley Schwarb

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a hearing was held on August 6, 2009. Claimant appeared and testified. Claimant was represented by [REDACTED]. Following the hearing, the record was kept open for the receipt of additional medical evidence. Additional documents were received and reviewed.

ISSUE

Did the Department of Human Services (DHS or department) properly determine that claimant is not "disabled" for purposes of the Medical Assistance (MA-P) and State Disability Assistance (SDA) programs?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

- 1) On December 11, 2008, an application was filed on claimant's behalf for MA-P and SDA benefits. Claimant did not request retroactive medical coverage.
- 2) On February 17, 2009, the department denied claimant's application for benefits based upon the belief that claimant did not meet the requisite disability criteria.
- 3) On March 30, 2009, a hearing request was filed to protest the department's determination.
- 4) Claimant, age 47, has a tenth-grade education.
- 5) Claimant last worked in November of 2008 as sandwich maker. Claimant has also performed relevant work as a truck mechanic, construction worker, machine operator, cement worker, and dishwasher. Claimant's relevant work history consists exclusively of unskilled work activities.
- 6) Claimant has a history of hypertension, polycystic kidney disease, multiple deep vein thromboses of the upper and lower extremities with impaired circulation of the right leg and chronic non-healing ulcers.
- 7) At the time of the hearing, claimant had no medical insurance.
- 8) Claimant currently suffers from arteriosclerotic heart disease, chronic renal insufficiency secondary to polycystic kidney disease, chronic vascular insufficiency (particularly in the right lower extremity), chronic non-healing ulcers of the right leg, nicotine addiction, hyperglycemia, and hypertension.
- 9) Claimant has severe limitations upon his ability to walk, stand, sit, lift, push, pull, and carry. Claimant's limitations have lasted for twelve months or more.
- 10) Claimant's complaints and allegations concerning his impairments and limitations, when considered in light of all objective medical evidence, as well as the record as a whole, reflect an individual who is so impaired a to be incapable of engaging in any substantial gainful activity on a regular and continuing basis.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Federal regulations require that the department use the same operative definition for “disabled” as used for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. 42 CFR 435.540(a).

“Disability” is:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months
... 20 CFR 416.905

In determining whether an individual is disabled, 20 CFR 416.920 requires the trier of fact to follow a sequential evaluation process by which current work activity, the severity of the impairment(s), residual functional capacity, and vocational factors (i.e., age, education, and work experience) are assessed in that order. When a determination that an individual is or is not disabled can be made at any step in the sequential evaluation, evaluation under a subsequent step is not necessary.

First, the trier of fact must determine if the individual is working and if the work is substantial gainful activity. 20 CFR 416.920(b). In this case, claimant is not working. Therefore, claimant may not be disqualified for MA at this step in the sequential evaluation process.

Secondly, in order to be considered disabled for purposes of MA, a person must have a severe impairment. 20 CFR 416.920(c). A severe impairment is an impairment which significantly limits an individual's physical or mental ability to perform basic work activities. Basic work activities means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Examples of these include:

- (1) Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying or handling;
- (2) Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- (3) Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- (4) Use of judgment;
- (5) Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- (6) Dealing with changes in a routine work setting. 20 CFR 416.921(b).

The purpose of the second step in the sequential evaluation process is to screen out claims lacking in medical merit. Higgs v. Bowen 880 F2d 860, 862 (6th Cir, 1988). As a result, the department may only screen out claims at this level which are "totally groundless" solely from a medical standpoint. The Higgs court used the severity requirement as a "de minimus hurdle" in the disability determination. The de minimus standard is a provision of a law that allows the court to disregard trifling matters.

In this case, claimant has presented the required medical data and evidence necessary to support a finding that he has significant physical limitations upon his ability to perform basic work activities such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, and handling. Medical evidence has clearly established that claimant has an impairment (or combination of impairments) that has more than a minimal effect on claimant's work activities. See Social Security Rulings 85-28, 88-13, and 82-63.

In the third step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment (or combination of impairments) is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. This Administrative Law Judge finds that the claimant's medical record will not support a finding that claimant's impairment(s) is a "listed impairment" or equal to a listed impairment. See Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404, Part A. Accordingly, claimant cannot be found to be disabled based upon medical evidence alone. 20 CFR 416.920(d).

In the fourth step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment(s) prevents claimant from doing past relevant work. 20 CFR 416.920(e). It is the finding of this Administrative Law Judge, based upon the medical evidence and objective, physical and psychological findings, that claimant is not capable of the walking, standing, lifting, or carrying required by his past employment. Claimant has presented the required medical data and evidence necessary to support a finding that he is not, at this point, capable of performing such work.

In the fifth step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment(s) prevents claimant from doing other work. 20 CFR 416.920(f). This determination is based upon the claimant's:

- (1) residual functional capacity defined simply as “what can you still do despite your limitations?” 20 CFR 416.945;
- (2) age, education, and work experience, 20 CFR 416.963-.965; and
- (3) the kinds of work which exist in significant numbers in the national economy which the claimant could perform despite his/her limitations. 20 CFR 416.966.

See Felton v DSS, 161 Mich. App 690, 696 (1987). Once claimant reaches Step 5 in the sequential review process, claimant has already established a prima facie case of disability. Richardson v Secretary of Health and Human Services, 735 F2d 962 (6th Cir, 1984). At that point, the burden of proof is on the state to prove by substantial evidence that the claimant has the residual functional capacity for substantial gainful activity.

In this case, claimant has a history of poorly controlled hypertension, polycystic kidney disease, deep vein thrombosis of the upper and lower right extremities with placement of a Greenfield filter, and diminished circulation of the right leg with chronic non-healing ulcers.

Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED]. His discharge diagnosis was cellulitis of the right lower extremity, chronic right lower extremity ulcer, and acute DVT of the right lower extremity. Secondary diagnoses included hypertension, hyperglycemia, hypertriglyceridemia, and chronic renal insufficiency with history of polycystic kidney disease. Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED] for acute diabetic leg ulcer and acute uncontrolled hypertension. Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED]. His discharge diagnosis was right lower extremity venostasis ulcers, hypertension, and hypercoagulable state.

Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED]. He was diagnosed with prophic ulcer, chronic vascular insufficiency, history of deep vein thrombosis (DVT), arteriosclerotic heart disease, and hypertension. Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED]. His discharge diagnosis was non-healing ulcer of the right lower extremity with polymicrobial infection, recurring deep vein thrombosis of the lower extremities, history of pulmonary embolus, uncontrolled high blood pressure, history of polycystic kidney disease, and non-compliance (apparently due to lack of medical insurance).

On [REDACTED], claimant's primary care physician diagnosed claimant with chronic non-healing ulcer on the right lower leg, nicotine addiction, vascular insufficiency of the right leg, hypertension, and hyperglycemia. Claimant was seen by an internist for the [REDACTED] on [REDACTED]. The internist provided the following impression:

1. DEEP VEIN THROMBOSIS, ULCERS AND "MY SKIN IS ROTTING": The examinee has a history of deep vein thrombosis of the bilateral lower extremities with chronic cellulitis as well as treatment for blood clots in both legs, right arm, and in particular the right lower extremity. He continues to have chronic open ulcers on the right lower extremity. The examinee is currently on Coumadin for previous deep vein thrombosis and pulmonary embolism. He does have a Greenfield filter placed.
2. POLYCYSTIC KIDNEY DISEASE: The examinee has a history of polycystic kidney disease and has been followed for chronic renal insufficiency.
3. HYPERTENSION: The examinee has a history of hypertension, currently on medication. Blood pressure is poorly controlled on exam today. He does need further management for this problem...

With respect to deep vein thrombosis, the examinee should avoid prolonged standing and repetitive use of his lower extremities as well as prolonged sitting.

After careful review of claimant's extensive medical record and the Administrative Law Judge's personal interaction with claimant at the hearing, this Administrative Law Judge finds that claimant's exertional and non-exertional impairments render claimant unable to engage in a full range of even sedentary work activities on a regular and continuing basis. 20 CFR 404, Subpart P, Appendix 11, Section 201.00(h). See Social Security Ruling 83-10; Wilson v Heckler, 743 F2d 216 (1986). The department has failed to provide vocational evidence which establishes that claimant has the residual functional capacity for substantial gainful activity and that, given claimant's age, education, and work experience, there are significant numbers of jobs in the national economy which the claimant could perform despite claimant's limitations. Accordingly, this Administrative Law Judge concludes that claimant is disabled for purposes of the MA program.

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program which provides financial assistance for disabled persons is established by 2004 PA 344. The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3151-400.3180. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

A person is considered disabled for purposes of SDA if the person has a physical or mental impairment which meets federal SSI disability standards for at least 90 days. Receipt of SSI or RSDI benefits based upon disability or blindness or the receipt of MA benefits based upon disability or blindness (MA-P) automatically qualifies an individual as disabled for purposes of the SDA program. Other specific financial and non-financial eligibility criteria are found in PEM Item 261. Inasmuch as claimant has been found "disabled" for purposes of MA, he must also be found "disabled" for purposes of SDA benefits.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides that claimant meets the definition of medically disabled under the Medical Assistance and State Disability Assistance programs as of December of 2008.

Accordingly, the department is ordered to initiate a review of the December 11, 2008, application, if it has not already done so, to determine if all other non medical eligibility criteria are met. The department shall inform claimant and his authorized representative of its determination in writing. Assuming that claimant is otherwise eligible for program benefits, the department shall review claimant's continued eligibility for program benefits in March of 2011.
