Reg. No: 2009-5303

Issue No: 2009/4031

Case No: [REDACTED]

Load No: [REDACTED]

Hearing Date:

February 23, 2009

Oakland County DHS

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Linda Steadley Schwarb

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a hearing was held on February 23, 2009. Claimant appeared and testified. Claimant was represented by [REDACTED]. Following the hearing, the record was kept open for the receipt of additional medical evidence. Additional documents were received and reviewed.

ISSUE

Did the Department of Human Services (DHS or department) properly determine that claimant is not "disabled" for purposes of the Medical Assistance (MA-P) and State Disability Assistance (SDA) programs?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

(1) On August 11, 2008, an application was filed on claimant's behalf for MA-P and SDA benefits. The application requested MA-P retroactive to July of 2008.

(2) On October 23, 2008, the department denied claimant's application for benefits based upon the belief that claimant did not meet the requisite disability criteria.

(3) On November 3, 2008, a hearing request was filed to protest the department's determination.

(4) Claimant, age 45, has a high school education.

(5) Claimant last worked in April of 2006 as a secretary. Claimant has also performed relevant work as a driver for persons with mental disabilities and as a laundry mat attendant.

(6) Claimant has a history of asthma, bipolar disorder, diabetes mellitus, obsessive compulsive disorder, and sleep apnea.

(7) Claimant was hospitalized [REDACTED] following a suicide attempt. Claimant's discharge diagnosis was vent-dependent respiratory failure secondary to decreased responsiveness; suicide attempt with history of prior attempts; ingestion of unknown substances including, however not limited to, Xanax; crack cocaine abuse; depression/mood disorder; hypertension; obesity; diabetes mellitus type 2; non anion gap metabolic acidosis; gastroesophageal reflux disease; asthma; and obstructive sleep apnea.

(8) Following discharge from the hospital, claimant was transferred to [REDACTED]. Claimant remained in [REDACTED]. Her discharged diagnosis was bipolar affective disorder, mixed; and history of cocaine dependence. Claimant's GAF score at discharge was "about 50."

(9) Claimant suffers from hypertension; obesity; diabetes mellitus type 2; gastroesophageal reflux disease; asthma; obstructive sleep apnea; osteoarthritis of the bilateral knees; bilateral carpal tunnel syndrome, moderately severe with severe ulnar neuropathy below the elbow with ongoing denervation; schizoaffective disorder, bipolar type; and history of cocaine dependency. Claimant's GAF score on February 12, 2009 was 45.

(10) Claimant has severe limitations upon her ability to walk, stand, lift, carry, and handle as well as limitations upon her ability to utilize judgment, respond appropriately to others, and deal with changes in a routine work setting. Claimant's limitations have lasted or are expected to last for 12 months or more.

(11) Claimant's complaints and allegations concerning her impairments and limitations, when considered in light of all objective medical evidence, as well as the record as a whole, reflect an individual who is so impaired as to be incapable of engaging in any substantial gainful activity on regular and continuing bases.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Federal regulations require that the department use the same operative definition for “disabled” as used for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. 42 CFR 435.540(a).

“Disability” is:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months
... 20 CFR 416.905

In determining whether an individual is disabled, 20 CFR 416.920 requires the trier of fact to follow a sequential evaluation process by which current work activity, the severity of the impairment(s), residual functional capacity, and vocational factors (i.e., age, education, and work experience) are assessed in that order. When a determination that an individual is or is not disabled can be made at any step in the sequential evaluation, evaluation under a subsequent step is not necessary.

First, the trier of fact must determine if the individual is working and if the work is substantial gainful activity. 20 CFR 416.920(b). In this case, claimant is not working. Therefore, claimant may not be disqualified for MA at this step in the sequential evaluation process.

Secondly, in order to be considered disabled for purposes of MA, a person must have a severe impairment. 20 CFR 416.920(c). A severe impairment is an impairment which significantly limits an individual’s physical or mental ability to perform basic work activities. Basic work activities means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Examples of these include:

- (1) Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying or handling;

- (2) Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- (3) Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- (4) Use of judgment;
- (5) Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- (6) Dealing with changes in a routine work setting. 20 CFR 416.921(b).

The purpose of the second step in the sequential evaluation process is to screen out claims lacking in medical merit. Higgs v. Bowen 880 F2d 860, 862 (6th Cir, 1988). As a result, the department may only screen out claims at this level which are “totally groundless” solely from a medical standpoint. The Higgs court used the severity requirement as a “de minimus hurdle” in the disability determination. The de minimus standard is a provision of a law that allows the court to disregard trifling matters.

In this case, claimant has presented the required medical data and evidence necessary to support a finding that claimant has significant physical and mental limitations upon claimant’s ability to perform basic work activities such as walking, standing, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling; use of judgment; responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers, and usual work situations; and dealing with changes in a routine work setting. Medical evidence has clearly established that claimant has an impairment (or combination of impairments) that has more than a minimal effect on claimant’s work activities. See Social Security Rulings 85-28, 88-13, and 82-63.

In the third step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment (or combination of impairments) is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. This Administrative Law Judge finds that the claimant's medical record will not support a finding that claimant's impairment(s) is a "listed impairment" or equal to a listed impairment. See Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404, Part A. Accordingly, claimant cannot be found to be disabled based upon medical evidence alone. 20 CFR 416.920(d).

In the fourth step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment(s) prevents claimant from doing past relevant work. 20 CFR 416.920(e). It is the finding of this Administrative Law Judge, based upon the medical evidence and objective, physical and psychological findings, that claimant is not capable of the walking, standing, lifting, or personal interaction required by her past employment. Claimant has presented the required medical data and evidence necessary to support a finding that she is not, at this point, capable of performing such work.

In the fifth step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment(s) prevents claimant from doing other work. 20 CFR 416.920(f). This determination is based upon the claimant's:

- (1) residual functional capacity defined simply as "what can you still do despite you limitations?" 20 CFR 416.945;
- (2) age, education, and work experience, 20 CFR 416.963-.965; and
- (3) the kinds of work which exist in significant numbers in the national economy which the claimant could perform despite his/her limitations. 20 CFR 416.966.

See Felton v DSS 161 Mich. App 690, 696 (1987). Once claimant reaches Step 5 in the sequential review process, claimant has already established a prima facie case of disability. Richardson v Secretary of Health and Human Services, 735 F2d 962 (6th Cir, 1984). At that point, the burden of proof is on the state to prove by substantial evidence that the claimant has the residual functional capacity for substantial gainful activity.

In this case, claimant has a history of bipolar disorder with past suicide attempts, asthma, diabetes mellitus, and sleep apnea. Claimant was hospitalized following a suicide attempt in [REDACTED]. Following discharge from the hospital, she was transferred to [REDACTED] to address her mental health issues. Upon discharge from the hospital, claimant's diagnosis was bipolar affective disorder mixed and history of cocaine dependence. Claimant had EMG testing performed on the upper extremities on November 26, 2008. The testing documented bilateral carpal tunnel syndrome, moderately severe, plus a severe ulnar neuropathy below the elbow with on-going denervation. On January 9, 2009, claimant's treating primary care physician [REDACTED] opined that claimant was incapable of lifting any amount of weight and limited to standing and walking less than 2 hours in an 8 hour work-day. The physician indicated that claimant was incapable of pushing/pulling and fine manipulation with the bilateral upper extremities. On January 9, 2009, claimant's treating physiatrist [REDACTED] diagnosed claimant with severe carpal tunnel syndrome with denervation and osteoarthritis of the bilateral knees. The specialist opined that claimant was incapable of lifting any amount of weight and limited to standing and walking less than 2 hours in an 8 hour work-day. The physician indicated that claimant was incapable of simple grasping and fine manipulation with the bilateral upper extremities. On January 19, 2009, claimant was evaluated by a consultant internist for the department. The consultant diagnosed claimant with asthma/allergies; smoker with chronic cough; possible obstructive sleep apnea; bipolar-depression; insulin dependent diabetes mellitus; diarrhea; left sacroileitis with left sciatica, left hip osteoarthritis, knee osteoarthritis, low back pain, and carpal tunnel syndrome. Claimant was seen by a consultant psychiatrist for the department on February 12, 2009. The consultant diagnosed claimant with schizoaffective disorder, bipolar type and obsessive-compulsive disorder. The psychiatrist gave claimant a current GAF score of 45.

After careful review of claimant's extensive medical record and the Administrative Law Judge's personal interaction with claimant at the hearing, this Administrative Law Judge finds that claimant's exertional and non-exertional impairments render claimant unable to engage in a full range of even sedentary work activities on a regular and continuing basis. 20 CFR 404, Subpart P. Appendix 11, Section 201.00(h). See Social Security Ruling 83-10; Wilson v Heckler, 743 F2d 216 (1986). The department has failed to provide vocational evidence which establishes that claimant has the residual functional capacity for substantial gainful activity and that, given claimant's age, education, and work experience, there are significant numbers of jobs in the national economy which the claimant could perform despite claimant's limitations. Accordingly, this Administrative Law Judge concludes that claimant is disabled for purposes of the MA program.

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program which provides financial assistance for disabled persons is established by 2004 PA 344. The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3151-400.3180. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

A person is considered disabled for purposes of SDA if the person has a physical or mental impairment which meets federal SSI disability standards for at least 90 days. Receipt of SSI or RSDI benefits based upon disability or blindness or the receipt of MA benefits based upon disability or blindness (MA-P) automatically qualifies an individual as disabled for purposes of the SDA program. Other specific financial and non-financial eligibility criteria are found in PEM Item 261. In as much as claimant has been found “disabled” for purposes of the MA program, she must also be found “disabled” for purposes of SDA.

The Medical Social Work Consultant (MSWC), in conjunction with the Medical Review Team (MRT), is to consider the appropriateness of directing claimant to participate in mental health and/or substance abuse treatment as a condition of receipt of benefits. Unless the MSWC determines that claimant has good cause for failure to participate in mandatory treatment, claimant will lose eligibility for SDA. PEM, Item 260 p. 5; PEM 261 p. 3 and 4.

Further, a referral is to be made to Adult Protective Services for an evaluation of possible financial management problems. Specifically, before SDA benefits may be paid to claimant, Adult Protective Services is to assess the appropriateness of a payee or conservatorship for claimant because of mental health and or substance abuse or other problems which may prevent adequate management or discharge of financial or other personal affairs. See Adult Services Manual, Item 383.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides that claimant meets the definition of medically disabled under the Medical Assistance and State Disability Assistance programs as of July of 2008.

Accordingly, the department is ordered to initiate a review of the August 11, 2008. application, if it has not already done so, to determine if all other non-medical eligibility criteria are met. The department shall inform claimant and her authorized representative of its determination in writing. Assuming that claimant is otherwise eligible for program benefits, the department shall review claimant's continued eligibility for program benefits in May of 2010.

The Medical Social Work Consultant, in conjunction with the Medical Review Team, is to consider the appropriateness of ordering claimant to participate in mandatory mental health and or substance abuse treatment as a condition of receipt of benefits. Further, referral is to be made to Adult Protective Services consistent with this order.
