DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF: [REDACTED]

Claimant

Reg. No: 2009-15587

Issue No: 1038

Case No: [REDACTED]

Load No: [REDACTED]

Hearing Date:

April 15, 2009

Wayne County DHS

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Robert J. Chavez

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a hearing was held on April 15, 2009.

ISSUE

Did the Department of Human Services (DHS) correctly impose a negative case action and three month sanction upon the claimant for non-compliance with work-related activities?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

- (1) Claimant was an FIP recipient in Wayne County.
- (2) On 12-22-08 , claimant was sent a DHS-2444, Notice of Non-Compliance, which indicated that she had been noncompliant in the JET program.
- (3) This notice scheduled a triage for 1-6-09 at 10:20 a.m.

(4) Claimant had recently moved, and did not get the triage notice until after the triage.

(5) Claimant did not attend triage.

(6) Claimant's FIP case was closed in a response to claimant's missed triage appointment.

(7) Claimant's DHS-71, Good Cause Determination, read that "no good cause will be determined due to no show to triage...customer may call anytime during the negative action period and good cause will be determined at that time."

(8) Claimant did not call until after the negative action period.

(9) Claimant's case was sanctioned and closed.

(10) This is claimant's first incident of noncompliance.

(11) On 2-11-09, claimant filed a request for hearing, alleging that she never received the notifications for her appointments.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Family Independence Program (FIP) was established pursuant to the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, Public Law 104-193, 8 USC 601, et seq. The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the FIP program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3101-3131. The FIP program replaced the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) program effective October 1, 1996. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) provides services to adults and children pursuant to MCL 400.14(1) and MAC R 400.5001-5015. Department policies are contained in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

All Family Independence Program (FIP) and Refugee Assistance Program (RAP) eligible adults and 16- and 17-year-olds not in high school full time must be referred to the Jobs, Education and Training (JET) Program or other employment service provider, unless deferred or engaged in activities that meet participation requirements. These clients must participate in employment and/or self-sufficiency-related activities to increase their employability and to find employment. PEM 230A, p. 1. A cash recipient who refuses, without good cause, to participate in assigned employment and/or self-sufficiency-related activities is subject to penalties. PEM 230A, p. 1. This is commonly called “non-compliance”. PEM 233A defines non-compliance as failing or refusing to, without good cause:

...Appear and participate with the Jobs, Education and Training (JET) Program or other employment service provider...” PEM 233A p. 1.

However, noncompliance can be overcome if the client has “good cause”. Good cause is a valid reason for noncompliance with employment and/or self-sufficiency-related activities that are based on factors that are beyond the control of the noncompliant person. PEM 233A. The penalty for noncompliance without good cause is FIP closure. However, for the first occurrence of non-compliance on the FIP case, the client can be excused. PEM 233A.

Furthermore, JET participants cannot be terminated from a JET program without first scheduling a “triage” meeting with the client to jointly discuss noncompliance and good cause. If a client calls to reschedule, a phone triage should be attempted to be held immediately, if at all possible. If it is not possible, the triage should be rescheduled as quickly as possible, within the negative action period. At these triage meetings, good cause is determined based on the best information available during the triage and prior to the negative action date. Good cause must be considered, even if the client does not attend. PEM 233A.

If the client establishes good cause within the negative action period, penalties are not imposed. The client is sent back to JET, if applicable, after resolving transportation, CDC, or other factors which may have contributed to the good cause. PEM 233A.

DHS's procedures towards overcoming claimant's noncompliance were inadequate. While there are legitimate questions as to whether the claimant could have attended the triage, or whether the claimant even had good cause, these questions are, ultimately, irrelevant. The only relevant fact is that PEM 233A requires the Department to make a good cause determination, even if the claimant does not show up for the triage. The Department has presented no evidence that a good cause determination was ever made. While the DHS-71 indicates that a good cause form was filled out, the Department's comments on that form belie the determination; the Department specifically states on this determination that a determination of no good cause was being made because of the no show, and good cause would only be considered if the claimant contacted the Department before the negative action period. This is plain error.

DHS is required to hold the triage without the client, and consider all factors that are known about the client that may have contributed to good cause. A good cause determination must then be made, using these known factors. PEM 233A, p. 9. The available evidence shows that this determination was not made, and implies that the triage was not held, thus placing the Department in error.

This Administrative Law Judge must therefore conclude that DHS was in error in its triage and post-triage procedures, and that the claimant's case should never have closed.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides that the Department of Human Services was in error when they failed to make a good cause determination.

Accordingly, the Department's decision in the above-stated matter is, hereby,
REVERSED.

The Department is ORDERED to reschedule a triage for the claimant, and reopen claimant's case retroactive to the date of case closure. The Department is further ORDERED to institute any appropriate triage procedures, including a good cause determination, and the provision of a DHS-754, should good cause not be found, as is consistent with the Program Eligibility and Program Administrative Manuals for a first incident of non-compliance.
