CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA-P) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department administers the MA-P program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Pursuant to Federal Rule 42 CFR 435.540, the Department uses the Federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) policy in determining eligibility for disability under the MA-P program.

Under SSI, disability is defined as:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.... 20 CFR 416.905.

A set order is used to determine disability. Current work activity, severity of impairments, residual functional capacity, past work, age, or education and work experience are reviewed. If there is a finding that an individual is disabled or not disabled at any point in the review, there will be no further evaluation. 20 CFR 416.920.

If the impairment or combination of impairments does not significantly limit physical or mental ability to do basic work activities, it is not a severe impairment(s) and disability does not exist. Age, education and work experience will not be considered. 20 CFR 416.920.

Statements about pain or other symptoms do not alone establish disability. There must be medical signs and laboratory findings which demonstrate a medical impairment. 20 CFR 416.929(a).

In determining disability under the law, the ability to work is measured. An individual's functional capacity for doing basic work activities is evaluated. If an individual has the ability to perform basic work activities without significant limitations, he or she is not considered disabled. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(iv).

Medical findings must allow a determination of: (1) the nature and limiting effects of the impairment(s) for any period in question; (2) the probable duration of the impairment; and, (3) the residual functional capacity to do work-related physical and mental activities. 20 CFR 416.913(d).

All of the evidence relevant to the claim, including medical opinions, is reviewed and findings are made. 20 CFR 416.927(c).

For mental disorders, severity is assessed in terms of the functional limitations imposed by the impairment. Functional limitations are assessed using the criteria in paragraph (B) of the listings for mental disorders (descriptions of restrictions of activities of daily living, social functioning; concentration, persistence or pace; and ability to tolerate increased mental demands associated with competitive work). 20 CFR, Part 404, Subpart P, Appendix 1, 12.00(C).

The Administrative Law Judge is responsible for making the determination or decision about whether the statutory definition of disability is met. The Administrative Law Judge reviews all medical findings and other evidence that support a medical source's statement of disability. 20 CFR 416.927(e).

In the present case, Claimant alleged physical and mental disabilities during the hearing. Additional evidence was needed to determine the extent and severity of Claimant's alleged conditions. This Administrative Law Judge ordered the Department to schedule an appointment for an internist and psychiatrist to evaluate Claimant. It was impressed upon Claimant the necessity to attend such an evaluation. Claimant failed to attend the evaluation. Pursuant to the aforementioned manual item, this Administrative Law Judge cannot make a finding that Claimant is disabled since Claimant failed to report for the scheduled evaluation. It should be further noted that Claimant failed to contact Administrative Hearings or the Department with a good cause reason for failing to report for the evaluation as ordered. Therefore, Claimant cannot be found disabled pursuant to 20 CFR 918(a).

DECISION AND ORDER

This Administrative Law Judge, based on the findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides that Claimant is not “disabled”.

Accordingly, the Department’s decision in this matter is AFFIRMED.
