ISSUE

Was the Department correct in denying Claimant's MA application?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

- (1) Claimant applied for MA benefits on January 26, 2009 with retroactive coverage to October 2008.
- (2) Claimant's application was denied on March 24, 2009 because the Claimant was under sanction for failure to cooperate with child support requirements.

- (3) A noncooperation notice was sent to Claimant on October 17, 2007. Claimant was considered noncooperative with the child support enforcement program because he failed to respond to two letters to contact the office of child support by September 19, 2007 and by October 9, 2007.
- (4) Claimant did not dispute that he was noncooperative with the child support enforcement program.
- (5) Claimant requested hearing on May 21, 2009 contesting the denial of his MA application.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Clients must comply with all requests for action or information needed to establish paternity and/or obtain child support on behalf of children for whom they receive assistance, unless a claim of good cause for not cooperating has been granted or is pending. Failure to cooperate without good cause results in disqualification. BEM 255

Clients must cooperate with the local office in determining initial and ongoing eligibility to provide verification. PAM 130, p. 1. The questionable information might be from the client or a third party. Id. The Department can use documents, collateral contacts or home calls to verify information. Id. The client should be allowed 10 calendar days to provide the verification. If the client cannot provide the verification despite a reasonable effort, the time limit to provide should be extended at least once. PAM 130, p.4; PEM 702. If the client refuses to provide the information or has not made a reasonable effort within the specified time period, then policy directs that a negative action be issued. PAM 130, p. 4. Before making an eligibility determination, however, the department must give the client a reasonable opportunity to resolve any discrepancy between his statements and information from another source. PAM 130, p. 6.

In the present case, Claimant's application was denied because he was under sanction at the time of application for failing to cooperate with the Office of Child Support. Claimant argues that he should have been given an opportunity to resolve the child support cooperation issue prior to a denial issuing. Claimant argues that a verification checklist should have been sent to the Claimant prior to the denial issuing, but cites no policy to support this position. This Administrative Law Judge finds that the noncooperation notice dated October 17, 2007 provided Claimant adequate notice regarding the sanction and gave him sufficient opportunity to address the sanction. Claimant was disqualified at the time of application. Therefore the Department's decision to deny the MA application because the Claimant was under sanction and disqualified was correct.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law decides that the Department was correct in the denial of MA benefits, and it is ORDERED that the department's decision in this regard be and is hereby AFFIRMED.
