ISSUE

Whether claimant has established disability for Medical Assistance (MA)?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds a material fact:

1. August 19, 2008, claimant applied for MA and retroactive MA.
2. October 2, 2008, the Medical Review Team (MRT) denied claimant's application. Department Exhibit A.
3. October 7, 2008, the department sent claimant written notice that the application was denied.
4. October 20, 2008, the department received claimant's timely request for hearing.

5. November 20, 2008, the State Hearing Review Team (SHRT) denied claimant's application. Department Exhibit B.
6. March 17, 2009, the telephone hearing was held.
7. Claimant asserts disability based on depression, heart disease, cardiovascular accident (CVA).
8. Claimant testified at hearing. Claimant is 52 years old and weighs 140 pounds. Claimant was unable to give any further testimony regarding personal information.
9. No past relevant work history was provided at hearing.
10. Claimant was approved disability benefits by the Social Security Administration (SSA) with a disability onset date of July 24, 2008. BRIDGES SOLQ Report, 9-10-2010.
11. April 26, 2008, claimant underwent surgery that revealed a perforated sigmoid: due to perforated diverticulitis. During hospital stay, claimant was diagnosed with complex tachycardia, mild global left ventricular systolic dysfunction and mild mitral valve regurgitation. Department Exhibit A, pgs 47-54.
12. May 2, 2008, claimant was admitted to hospital to undergo cardiac testing. Test findings reveal no significant coronary artery disease. Left ventricular function is abnormal. Ejection fraction calculated by contrast ventriculography was 50 percent. Department Exhibit A, pgs 34-40.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by the Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Pursuant to Federal Rule 42 CFR 435.540, the Department of Human Services uses the federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) policy in determining eligibility for disability under the Medical Assistance program. Under SSI, disability is defined as:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months....
20 CFR 416.905

A set order is used to determine disability. Current work activity, severity of impairments, residual functional capacity, past work, age, or education and work experience is reviewed. If there is a finding that an individual is disabled or not disabled at any point in the review, there will be no further evaluation. 20 CFR 416.920.

If an individual is working and the work is substantial gainful activity, the individual is not disabled regardless of the medical condition, education and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(c).

If the impairment or combination of impairments do not significantly limit physical or mental ability to do basic work activities, it is not a severe impairment(s) and disability does not exist. Age, education and work experience will not be considered. 20 CFR 416.920.

Statements about pain or other symptoms do not alone establish disability. There must be medical signs and laboratory findings which demonstrate a medical impairment.... 20 CFR 416.929(a).

...Medical reports should include –

- (1) Medical history.
- (2) Clinical findings (such as the results of physical or mental status examinations);
- (3) Laboratory findings (such as blood pressure, X-rays);
- (4) Diagnosis (statement of disease or injury based on its signs and symptoms).... 20 CFR 416.913(b).

In determining disability under the law, the ability to work is measured. An individual's functional capacity for doing basic work activities is evaluated. If an individual has the ability to perform basic work activities without significant limitations, he or she is not considered disabled. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(iv).

Basic work activities are the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Examples of these include –

- (1) Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling;
- (2) Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- (3) Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- (4) Use of judgment;
- (5) Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- (6) Dealing with changes in a routine work setting.
20 CFR 416.921(b).

Medical findings must allow a determination of (1) the nature and limiting effects of your impairment(s) for any period in question; (2) the probable duration of the impairment; and (3) the residual functional capacity to do work-related physical and mental activities. 20 CFR 416.913(d).

Medical evidence may contain medical opinions. Medical opinions are statements from physicians and psychologists or other acceptable medical sources that reflect judgments about the nature and severity of the impairment(s), including your symptoms, diagnosis and prognosis, what an individual can do despite impairment(s), and the physical or mental restrictions. 20 CFR 416.927(a)(2).

All of the evidence relevant to the claim, including medical opinions, is reviewed and findings are made. 20 CFR 416.927(c).

For mental disorders, severity is assessed in terms of the functional limitations imposed by the impairment. Functional limitations are assessed using the criteria in paragraph (B) of the listings for mental disorders (descriptions of restrictions of activities of daily living, social functioning; concentration, persistence, or pace; and ability to tolerate increased mental demands associated with competitive work).... 20 CFR, Part 404, Subpart P, App. 1, 12.00(C).

If an individual fails to cooperate by appearing for a physical or mental examination by a certain date without good cause, there will not be a finding of disability. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(4)(ii).

When determining disability, the federal regulations require that several considerations be analyzed in sequential order. If disability can be ruled out at any step, analysis of the next step is not required. These steps are:

1. Does the client perform Substantial Gainful Activity (SGA)? If yes, the client is ineligible for MA. If no, the analysis continues to Step 2. 20 CFR 416.920(b).
2. Does the client have a severe impairment that has lasted or is expected to last 12 months or more or result in death? If no, the client is ineligible for MA. If yes, the analysis continues to Step 3. 20 CFR 416.920(c).
3. Does the impairment appear on a special listing of impairments or are the client's symptoms, signs, and laboratory findings at least equivalent in severity to the set of medical findings specified for the listed impairment? If no, the analysis continues to Step 4. If yes, MA is approved. 20 CFR 416.290(d).
4. Can the client do the former work that he/she performed within the last 15 years? If yes, the client is ineligible for MA. If no, the analysis continues to Step 5. 20 CFR 416.920(e).
5. Does the client have the Residual Functional Capacity (RFC) to perform other work according to the guidelines set forth at 20 CFR 404, Subpart P, Appendix 2, Sections 200.00-204.00? If yes, the analysis ends and the client is ineligible for MA. If no, MA is approved. 20 CFR 416.920(f).

Due to the SSA's approval of claimant's disability with a disability onset date of July 2008, it is not necessary for the Administrative Law Judge to discuss disability for July 2008 and after. The months at issue are the two retroactive months of May 2008 and June 2008.

At Step 1, claimant is not engaged in substantial gainful activity and so is not disqualified from receiving disability at Step 1.

At Step 2, during April 2008, claimant suffered a perforated bowel, underwent surgery and placement of colostomy, and was diagnosed with tachycardia. Objective medical testing revealed mild heart disease and ejection fraction of 50 percent. Finding of Fact 10-12.

At Step 2, the objective medical evidence of record is not sufficient to establish that claimant had severe impairments that had lasted or were expected to last 12 months or more and prevent all work for 12 months or more during the months of May and June 2008. Accordingly, claimant is disqualified from receiving disability for those two months.

At Step 3, claimant's condition did not meet or equal any Social Security Listing during May and June 2008.

At Step 4, claimant's past relevant employment is not known. Accordingly, a Step 4 analysis cannot be completed. Finding of Fact 9.

The residual functional capacity is what an individual can do despite limitations. All impairments will be considered in addition to ability to meet certain demands of jobs in the national economy. Physical demands, mental demands, sensory requirements and other functions will be evaluated.... 20 CFR 416.945(a). To determine the physical demands (exertional requirements) of work in the national economy, we classify jobs as sedentary, light, medium and heavy. These terms have the same meaning as they have in the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, published by the Department of Labor.... 20 CFR 416.967.

Sedentary work. Sedentary work involves lifting no more than 10 pounds at a time and occasionally lifting or carrying articles like docket files, ledgers, and small tools. Although a sedentary job is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out job duties. Jobs are sedentary if walking and standing are required occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met. 20 CFR 416.967(a).

Light work. Light work involves lifting no more than 20 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 10 pounds. Even though the weight lifted may be very little, a job is in this category when it requires a good deal of walking or standing, or when it involves sitting most of the time with some pushing and pulling of arm or leg controls.... 20 CFR 416.967(b).

Medium work. Medium work involves lifting no more than 50 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 25 pounds. If someone can do medium work, we determine that he or she can also do sedentary and light work. 20 CFR 416.967(c).

Heavy work. Heavy work involves lifting no more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 50 pounds. If someone can do heavy work, we determine that he or she can also do medium, light, and sedentary work. 20 CFR 416.967(d).

At Step 5, see discussion at Step 2 above. Finding of Fact 10-12.

At Step 5, the objective medical evidence of record is sufficient to establish that claimant is capable of performing light work duties per his medical condition as so indicated in the objective medical evidence of record. Claimant's education and work history is not known, however, giving claimant full benefit of the doubt with a vocational profile closely approaching advanced age, limited education, and history of unskilled work or no work and relying on Vocational Rule 202.10, claimant is not disabled. Accordingly, claimant is disqualified from receiving disability during May and June 2008.

Claimant does not meet the federal statutory requirements to qualify for disability during May and June 2008. Accordingly, claimant does not meet the disability requirements to qualify for Medical Assistance during those two months. The department properly denied his application for May and June 2008.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides that claimant has established disability effective July 2008 and after. Claimant has not established disability for May and June 2008.

Accordingly, the department's action is REVERSED in part. If it has not already done so, the department is to initiate an evaluation of claimant's financial eligibility for Medical Assistance beginning July 2008. No medical review date is necessary due to the SSA's approval of claimant's disability benefits.
