Issue No. 2009

Case No. Load No.

Hearing Date: February 4, 2010

Shiawassee County DHS

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Carmen G. Fahie

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon the c laimant's req uest for a hearing. After due notice, a n in-person hearing was held on Thursday, February 4, 2010. The claimant personally appeared and testified on her own behalf with her authorized represent ative,

ISSUE

Did the department properly de ny the claimant's applicat ion for Medical Assistance (MA-P) and retroactive Medical Assistance?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds a material fact:

- 1. On April 14, 2009, the claimant appl ied for MA-P and retroactive MA-P to January 2009.
- On June 16, 2009, the Medical Review Team (MRT) denied the claimant's application for MA-P and retroactive MA-P based on the claimant's recent Social Security denial.
- 3. On August 15, 2009, the department caseworker sent the claimant a notice that her application was denied.

- 4. On November 3, 200 9, the department received a hearing request from the claimant, contesting the department's negative action.
- 5. On January 4, 2010, t he State Hearing Review Team (SHRT) considered the submitted objective medical evidence in making its determination of MA-P and retroactive MA-P eligibility for the claimant. The SHRT report reads in part:

The claimant is alleging disability due to congestive heart failure, asthma, hypertension, and diabetes. She is 60 years old and has 14 years of education with a hist ory of semi-skill ed work. The claimant did not meet applicable Social Security Listings 3.03, 4.01, 4.02, and 9.08. The claimant is capable of performing past work as an assistant manager.

- 6. During the hearing on February 4, 2010, the clai mant requested permission to submit additional m edical information that needed to be reviewed by SHRT. Additional m edical information was received from the local office on F ebruary 4, 2010 and forwarded to SHRT for review on February 5, 2010.
- 7. On February 8, 2010, the SHRT cons idered the newly submitted objective medical ev idence in making its determination of MA-P and retroactive MA-P. The SHRT report reads in part:

The claim ant is 61 years old with a high school education and a history of light, semi-skille d employment.

The evidence provided by the claimant does not materially alter the prior determination. The claimant's allegations are congestive heart failure, asthma, hypertension, and diabetes.

The claimant retains the phy sical residual f unctional capacity t o perform light exertional work with no psychiatric limitations. The claimant's past work was of a light and sem i-skilled nature. Therefore, the claimant r etains the capacity to perform her past relevant work. MA-P is denied per 20 CF R 416.920(e). Retroactive MA-P was considered in this case and is also denied. Social Security Listings 3.03, 4.01/02, and 9.08 were considered in this determination.

- 8. The claim ant is a 61 year-old woman whose date of birth is

 The claimant is 5' 2½" tall and weighs 200 pounds. The claimant has gained 30 pounds in the last year because of water retention and not exercising. The claimant has a high school education and two years of college in engineering. The claimant can read and write and do basic math. The claimant is currently employed as an assistant manager working 30 hours per week at $7.40 per hour. The claimant has also been employed as an office administrator and data processing clerk.
- 9. The claimant's alleged impai rments are congest ive heart failure, migraines, asthma, high blood pressure, and Type 2 diabetes.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medic al Assistance (MA) program is est ablished by the Title XIX of the Socia I Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independenc e Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MC L 400.105. Department polic ies are found in the Program Admini strative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

"Disability" is:

- ...the inability to do any substant ial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.... 20 CFR 416.905.
- ...We follow a set order to determine whether y ou are disabled. We review any current work activity, the severity of your impairment(s), your residual functional capacity, your past work, and your age, education and work experience. If we can find that you are disabled or not disabled at any point in the review, we do not review your claim further.... 20 CFR 416.920.
- ...If you are working and the work you are doing is substantial gainful activity, we will find that you are not disabled regardless of your m edical condition or your age, education, and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(b).
- ...[The impairment]...must have lasted or must be expect ed to last for a continuous period of at least 12 months. We call this the duration requirement. 20 CFR 416.909.

...If you do not have any impairment or combination of impairments which significantly limits your physical or mental ability to do basic work activities, we will find that you do not have a severe impairment and are, therefore, not disabled.

We will not consider your age, education, and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(c).

[In reviewing your impairment]...We need reports about your impairments from acceptable medical sources.... 20 CFR 416.913(a).

- ...Statements about your pain or other symptoms will not alone establish that you are disabled; there must be medical signs and laboratory findings which show that you have a medical impairment.... 20 CFR 416.929(a).
- ...You must provide medical evidence showing that you have an impairment(s) and how severe it is during the time you say that you are disabled. 20 CFR 416.912(c).
- ... [The re cord must show a severe impairment] which significantly limits your physical or mental ability to do basic work activities.... 20 CFR 416.920(c).
- ... Medical reports should include --
- (1) Medical history.
- (2) Clinical findings (suc h as the results of physical or mental status examinations);
- (3) Laboratory findings (such as blood pressure, X-rays);
- (4) Diagnosis (statement of disease or injury based on its signs and symptoms).... 20 CFR 416.913(b).
- ...The med ical evidence...mus t be complete and detailed enough to allow us to make a determination about whether you are disabled or blind. 20 CFR 416.913(d).

Medical findings consist of symptoms, signs, and laboratory findings:

(a) Sy mptoms are your own description of your physical or mental impairment. Your statements alone are not enough to establish t hat there is a physical or mental impairment.

- (b) Signs are anatomical, physiological, or psychological abnormalities which can be observed, apart from your statements (symptoms). Signs must be shown by medically acceptable clinic al diagnostic techniques. Psychiatric signs are medically demonstrable phenomena which indicate specific psychological abnormalities e.g., abnormalities of behav ior, mood, thought, memory, orientation, development, or perception. They must also be shown by observable facts that can be medically described and evaluated.
- (c) Laboratory findings are anatomical, physiological, or psychological phenomena which can be shown by the use of medically ac ceptable laboratory diagnostic techniques. Some of these diagnostic techniques include chemical tests, electrophysiological studies (electrocardiogram, electroencephalogram, etc.), roentgenological studies (X-rays), and psy chological tests. 20 CFR 416.928.

It must allow us to determine --

- (1) The nature and limiting effe cts of your impairment(s) for any period in question;
- (2) The probable duration of your impairment; and
- (3) Your residual functional capac ity to do w ork-related physical and mental activities. 20 CFR 416.913(d).

Information from other sour ces may also help us to understand how y our impairment(s) affects your ability to work. 20 CFR 416.913(e).

...You can only be found disabled if you are unable to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or ment al impairment which can be expected to result in death, or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less t han 12 months. See 20 CFR 416.905. Your impairment must result from anatomical, physiologi cal, or psyc hological abnormalities which are demonstrable by medically acceptable clinical and laborat ory diagnostic techniques.... 20 CFR 416.927(a)(1).

...Evidence that you submit or that we obtain may contain medical opinions. Medical op inions are statements from physicians and psyc hologists or other acceptable medical sources that reflect judgments about the nature and severity of your impairment(s), including your symptoms, diagnosis and prognosis, what you can still do despite impairment(s), and your physical or mental restrictions. 20 CFR 416.927(a)(2).

...In deciding whether you are disabled, we will alway so consider the medical opinions in your case record together with the rest of the relevant evidence we receive. 20 CFR 416.927(b).

After we review all of the evi dence relevant to your claim, including medical opinions, we make findings about what the evidence shows. 20 CFR 416.927(c).

...If all of the evidence we re ceive, inclu ding a II medica I opinion(s), is consistent, and there is sufficient evidence for us to decide whether you are disabled, we will make our determination or decision based on that evidence. 20 CF R 416.927(c)(1).

...If any of the evidence in y our case record, including any medical opinion(s), is inconsistent with other evidence or is internally inconsistent, we will weigh all of the evidence and see whether we can decide whether you are disabled based on the evidence we have. 20 CFR 416.927(c)(2).

[As Judge]...We are responsible for making the determination or decision ab out whether you meet the statutory definition of disability. In so doing, we review all of the medic al findings and other evidence that support a medical source's statement that you are disabled.... 20 CFR 416.927(e).

...A statement by a medical source that you are "disabled" or "unable to work" does not mean t hat we will determine that you are disabled. 20 CFR 416.927(e).

...If you have an im pairment(s) which meets the duration requirement and is listed in Appendix 1 or is equal to a listed impairment(s), we will find y ou disabled wit hout considering your age, education, and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(d).

...If we cannot make a decision on your current work activities or medical facts alone and you have a severe impairment, we will then review your residual functional capacity and the physical and mental demands of the work you have done in the past. If you can still do this kind of work, we will find that you are not disabled. 20 CF R 416.920(e).

If you cannot do any work you have done in the past because you have a severe impai rment(s), we will consider your residual functional capacit y and your age, educ ation, and past work experience to see if you can do other work. If you cannot, we will find you disabled. 20 CFR 416.920(f)(1).

...Your residual functional capacit y is what you can still do despite limitations. If you have more than one impairment, we will consider all of your impairment(s) of which we are aware. We will consider your ability to meet certain demands of jobs, such as physical demands, mental demands, sensory requirements, and other functions, as described in paragraphs (b), (control and (d) of this section. Residual functional capacity is an assessment based on all of the relevant evidence.... 20 CFR 416.945(a).

...This assessment of your remaining capacity for work is not a decision on whether you are disabled, but is used as the basis for determining the particular types of work you may be able to do despite your im pairment(s).... 20 CF R 416.945(a).

...In determining whether you ar e disabled, we will conside r all of your symptoms, including pain, and the extent to which your symptoms can reasonably be accepted as cons istent with objective medical eviden ce, and other evidence.... 20 CFR 416.929(a).

...In evaluating the intensity and persistence of your symptoms, inc luding pain, we will cons ider all of the available evidence, including your medical history, the medical signs and laboratory findings and statements about how your symptoms affect you... We will then determine the extent to which your allege diffunctional limitations or restrictions due to pain or other symptoms can reasonably be accepted as consistent with the medical signs and laboratory findings and other evidence to decide how your symptoms affect your ability to work.... 20 CFR 416.929(a).

If you have more than one impairment, we will consider all of your impairments of which we are aware. We will consider your ability to meet certain demands of jobs, such as physical demands, mental dem ands, sensory requirements, and other functions as described in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this section. Resi dual functional capacity is an assessment based upon all of the relevant evidence. This assessment of your capacity for work is not a decision on whether you are disabled but is used as a basis for determining the particular types of work you may be able to do despite your impairment. 20 CFR 416.945.

...When we assess your physical abilities, we first assess the nature and extent of your physical lim itations and then determine your residual functional capacity for work activity on a regular and continuing bas is. A limited ability to perform certain physical demands of work activity, such as sitting, standing, walking, lifting, carrying, pushing, pulling, or other physical functions (including manipulative or postural functions, such as reaching, handling, stooping or crouching), may reduce your ability to do past work and other work. 20 CFR 416.945(b).

Federal regulations r equire that the department use the same operative definition for "disabled" as used for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. 42 CFR 435.540(a).

"Disability" is:

In determining whether an indiv idual is disabled, 20 CFR 4 16.920 requires the trier of fact to follow a sequential evaluation process by which current work activity, the severity of the impairment(s), residual f unctional c apacity, and vocational factors (i.e., age, education, and work experience) are ass essed in that order. When a determination that an individual is or is not disable ed c an be made at any step in the sequentia levaluation, evaluation under a subsequent step is not necessary.

First, the trier of fact must determine if t he indiv idual is working and if the work is substantial gainful activity. 20 CFR 416.920(b). At Step 1, the claimant is engaged in $\frac{3}{4}$ part-time employment as an assistant mana ger working 30 hours per week at \$7.40 an hour grossing \$888 per month which is bel ow the level of su bstantial gainful employment. Therefore, the clai mant is not disqualified from receiving di sability a t Step 1.

Secondly, in order to be considered disabled for purposes of MA, a person must have a severe impairment. 20 CF R 416.920(c). A sev ere impair ment is an impairment which significantly limits an in dividual's physical or mental ability to perform basic work activities. Basic work activities means, the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Examples of these include:

- (1) Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying or handling;
- (2) Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- (3) Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- (4) Use of judgment;
- (5) Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- (6) Dealing with changes in a routine work setting. 20 CFR 416.921(b).

The purpose of the second st ep in the sequential ev aluation process is to screen out claims lacking in medical merit. Higgs v. Bowen 880 F2d 860, 862 (6 th Cir, 1988). As a result, the department may only screen out clai and ms at this level a which are "totally groundless" solely from a medical standpoint. The and the severity requirement as a "de minimus hurdle" in the disability determination. The ade minimus standard is a provision of a law that allows the court to disregard trifling matters.

The objective medical evidence on the record further substantiates the following:

enzymes were negat ive x3. The claimant had a brain natriuretic peptide that was 52. The claimant was set up for a cardiac cat heterization that showed normal coronar y arteries, normal left-sided filling pressures, and normal ejection fraction. The claimant was monitored overnight with no further episodes of chest pain or shortness of breath. The claimant was disc harged in stable condition. There was no evidence of congestive heart failure at this point. The c laimant may have some extent of diastolic dysfunction. (Department Exhibit 35-36)

On the claimant was seen at the consultation regarding congestive heart fa ilure. The treating specialist 's clinical impression was hypertensi on, hyperlipidemia, diabetes Type 2—insulin requiring, asthma, c ongestive heart failure—New York heart associated class II, adjustment disorder, with no health insurance. The clai mant was counseled about her risk factor modification, the important of getting her diabetes mellitus under control, and her medication was adjusted with salt and fluid restriction. She was also given information on heart failure. (Department Exhibit 45-49)

On the claimant was admitted at the discharge date of the claimant was admitted at the claimant's discharge diagnosis was diastolic heart failure—improved, chest pain, myocardial infarction (MI) ruled out. Stress test was normal. The claimant had Ty pe 2 diabete simplified meaning insulin, uncontrolled, essential hypertension—improved, elevatived liver enzymes—most likely secondary to viral infection, bronchial asthma—stable, hyperlipidemia, anemia of chronic disease, gastroesophageal reflux disidease, and hypokal emia—improved. (Department Exhibit 55-56)

At Step 2, the objective medica I evidence in the record indic ates that the claimant has established that she has a severe impairment. Therefore, the claimant is not disqualified from receiving disability at Step 2. However, this Admin istrative Law Judge will proc eed through the sequential evaluation process to determine disability because Step 2 is a de minimus standard.

In the third step of the sequentia I consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment (or combination of impairments) is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. This Administrative Law Judge finds that the claimant's medical record will not support a finding that claimant's impairment(s) is a "listed impairment" or equal to a listed impairment. See Ap pendix 1 of Sub part P of 20 CFR, Part 404, Part A. Accordingly, claimant cannot be found to be disabled based upon medical evidence alone. 20 CFR 416.920(d). This Administrative Law Judge finds that the claimant's impairm ents do not rise to the level necessary to be listed as disabling by law. Therefore, the claimant is disqualified from receiving disability at Step 3.

In the fourth step of the sequent ial consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairm ent(s) prevents claim ant from doing past relevant work. 20 CFR 416.920(e). It is the finding of this Admini strative Law Judge, based upon the medical eviden ce and objective, physical and psychological findings that the claimant has a driver's license, but does not drive even though she is physically able. The claimant does not cook because she's tired after working. The claimant does not grocery shop bec ause she can't walk that long. The claimant does clean her own home by washing dis hes. The claimant doesn't do any outside work. Her hobbies are quilting and knitting. The claimant that she is stable except for the fatigue. The claimant testified that she has no mental impairment.

The claimant wakes up between 9:30 to 10:00 a.m. She has breakfast and takes care of her personal needs. The claimant goes to work, then home. She crashes on the couch or reclining chair after she gets home. She quilt sor knits. She falls asleep in the chair. She goes to bed between 10:30 to 11:30 p.m.

The claimant felt that she could walk a $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile. The longest she felt she could stand was 1-1 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours. The longest she felt she c ould sit was 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours. The heaviest weight she felt she could carry was 10 pounds. The claimant is left-handed.

The claimant smoked recreationally and st opped in 1978. The c laimant oc casionally drinks wine. The claimant does not or has ever used illegal or illicit drugs. The claimant felt she could do a sedentary job, but where she could get up and move around.

At Step 4, this Administrative Law Judge finds that the claimant has not established that she cannot perform any of her prior work. The claimant is currently employed as an assistant manager working 30 hours per week. Therefore, the claimant is disqualified from receiving disability at Step 4. However, the Administrative Law Judge will still proceed through the sequential evaluation process to determine whether or not the claimant has the residual functional capacity to perform some other less strenuous tasks than in his prior jobs.

In the fifth step of the sequential consideration of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the claimant's impairment(s) prevents claimant from doing other work. 20 CFR 416.920(f). This determination is based upon the claimant's:

- (1) residual functional capacit y defined simply as "what can you still do despite yo u lim itations?" 20 CF R 416.945;
- (2) age, educ ation, and wo rk experience, 20 CF R 416.963-.965; and
- (3) the kinds of work which exist in significant numbers in the national economy which the claimant could perform despite his/her limitations. 20 CFR 416.966.

...To determine the physical exertion requirements of work in the national economy, we classify jobs as sedentary, light, medium, heavy, and very heavy. These terms have the same meaning as they have in the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, published by the Department of Labor.... 20 CFR 416.967.

Sedentary w ork. Sedentary work involves lifting no more than 10 pounds at a time and occa sionally lifting or carrying articles like docket files, ledgers, and small tools. Although a sedentary job is defined as one which in volves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out job duties. Jobs are sedentary if wa lking and standing are required occasio nally and other sedentary criteria are met. 20 CFR 416.967(a).

Light w ork. Light work involves lifting no more than 20 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 10 pounds. Even though the weight lifted may be very little, a job is in this category when it requires a good deal of walk ing or standing, or when it involves sitting most of the time with some pushing and pulling of arm or leg controls.... 20 CFR 416.967(b).

...To be considered capable of performing a full or wide range of light work, you must have the ability to do substantially all of these acti vities. If someone can do light work, we determine that he or she can also do sedentary work, unless there are additional limiting factors such as loss of fine dexterity or inability to sit for long periods of time. 20 CFR 416.967(b).

The objective medical evidence on the record is insufficient that the claimant lacks the residual functional capacity to perform so me other less strenuous tasks than in her previous employment or that she is physically unable to do any tasks demanded of her. The claimant's testimony as to her limitation indicates her limitations are exertional,

At Step 5, the claimant should be able to meet the physical requirements of light work, based upon the claim ant's physical ab ilities. Under the Medical-Vocational guide lines, an advanced age individual with a high school education, and an unskilled and skilled work history, who is limited to light work is not considered disabled. 20 CFR 404, Subpart P, Appendix 2, Rule 203.08. Using the Medical-Vocational guidelines as a framework for making this decision and after giving full consideration to the claimant's physical impairments, the Administrative Law Judg e finds that the claimant can still perform a wide range of light activities a nd her current relevant work and that the claimant does not meet the definition of disabled under the MA program.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusion sof law decides that the department has appropriately established that it was acting in compliance with department policy when it denied the claimant's application for MA-P and retroactive MA-P. The claimant should be able to perform any level of light work and her current relevant work. The department has established its case by a preponderance of the evidence.

Accordingly, the department's decision is AFFIRMED.
