HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on April 6, 2010.

ISSUE

Whether claimant has established disability for Medical Assistance (MA).

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

- (1) October 5, 2009, claimant applied for MA.
- (2) January 19, 2010, the Medical Review Team (MRT) denied claimant's application. Department Exhibit A.
- (3) January 22, 2010, the department sent claimant written notice that the application was denied.

(4) January 27, 2010, the department received claimant's timely request for hearing.

(5) March 16, 2010, the State Hearing Review Team (SHRT) denied claimant's application. Department Exhibit B.

(6) April 6, 2010, the telephone hearing was held.

(7) Claimant asserts disability based on impairments caused by anxiety, depression, and a bad knee.

(8) Claimant testified at hearing. Claimant is 48 years old, 6'tall, and weighs 210 pounds. Claimant completed high school and is able to read, write, and perform basic math. Claimant has a driver's license and is able to drive. Claimant cares for his needs at home.

(9) Claimant's past relevant employment has been in factory labor and as a truck driver/warehouse person.

(10) September 2, 2009, claimant underwent a psychological evaluation and intelligence testing. The prepared narrative report indicates that claimant performed adequately in the low average range. The report also indicates claimant has longstanding history of substance abuse and major depressive disorder, recurrent, severe. The report did not list objective medical information to establish the depressive disorder. The report did not indicate an AXIS V level of functioning. Mental health professional recommended that claimant was not appropriate for competitive employment and recommended that he should demonstrate compliance with psychiatric and substance abuse treatment. Department Exhibit A, pgs 4-9. October 17, 2009, claimant visited his physician complaining of long-term depression. Treatment notes indicate that claimant reports drinking almost every day between 6-12 drinks. He formerly used marijuana and cocaine. Treatment notes indicate that claimant is alert, awake, oriented to person, place and time, adequately dressed, fairly groomed, with good eye contact. Mood was OK.

Affect was appropriate. Thought context was logical and coherent. No evidence of tangentiality, circumstantiality, or loose association. Denied any current suicidal or homicidal ideation. Doctor indicated his conclusion that claimant was having moderate symptoms with a GAF of about 50. Doctor offered claimant rehab treatment for alcohol abuse which claimant declined. Department Exhibit A, pg 32. December 19, 2009, claimant visited his physician and reported that he was doing well, sleeping OK, eating OK. He denied suicidal or homicidal ideation. Denied auditory hallucinations or delusions. Denied manic or hypomanic symptoms. Doctor continued prescription for an antidepressant. Treatment notes indicate claimant had been sober for two months. Department Exhibit A, pg 30.

(11) August 12, 2009, claimant was examined by a physician complaining of pain in his right knee. A physical exam was performed that indicated the claimant had a cough but lungs were clear to auscultation bilaterally without crackles/rales/wheezes. Heart had regular rate and rhythm. The right knee showed visible swelling on the medial aspect. Range of motion was full with tenderness elicited on flexion. Palpation of the swelling on the medial aspect reveals a very firm mass type effect about 2 cm in diameter. X-rays performed on a later date revealed a normal right knee. Department Exhibit A, pgs 16-17 and 29. October 14, 2009, physician treatment notes indicate that claimant has a mucoid cyst on the right knee. MRI showed some mucoid changes of degeneration within the medial meniscus, but otherwise no abnormalities. Department Exhibit A, pg 37.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Pursuant to Federal Rule 42 CFR 435.540, the Department of Human Services uses the federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) policy in determining eligibility for disability under the Medical Assistance program. Under SSI, disability is defined as:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.... 20 CFR 416.905

A set order is used to determine disability. Current work activity, severity of impairments, residual functional capacity, past work, age, or education and work experience is reviewed. If there is a finding that an individual is disabled or not disabled at any point in the review, there will be no further evaluation. 20 CFR 416.920.

If an individual is working and the work is substantial gainful activity, the individual is not disabled regardless of the medical condition, education and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(c).

If the impairment or combination of impairments do not significantly limit physical or mental ability to do basic work activities, it is not a severe impairment(s) and disability does not exist. Age, education and work experience will not be considered. 20 CFR 416.920.

Statements about pain or other symptoms do not alone establish disability. There must be medical signs and laboratory findings which demonstrate a medical impairment.... 20 CFR 416.929(a).

...Medical reports should include –

- (1) Medical history.
- (2) Clinical findings (such as the results of physical or mental status examinations);
- (3) Laboratory findings (such as blood pressure, X-rays);
- (4) Diagnosis (statement of disease or injury based on its signs and symptoms)... 20 CFR 416.913(b).

In determining disability under the law, the ability to work is measured. An individual's functional capacity for doing basic work activities is evaluated. If an individual has the ability to perform basic work activities without significant limitations, he or she is not considered disabled. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(iv).

Basic work activities are the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Examples of these include --

- (1) Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling;
- (2) Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- (3) Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- (4) Use of judgment;
- (5) Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- (6) Dealing with changes in a routine work setting. 20 CFR 416.921(b).

Medical findings must allow a determination of (1) the nature and limiting effects of your impairment(s) for any period in question; (2) the probable duration of the impairment; and (3) the residual functional capacity to do work-related physical and mental activities. 20 CFR 416.913(d).

Medical evidence may contain medical opinions. Medical opinions are statements from physicians and psychologists or other acceptable medical sources that reflect judgments about the nature and severity of the impairment(s), including your symptoms, diagnosis and prognosis, what an individual can do despite impairment(s), and the physical or mental restrictions. 20 CFR 416.927(a)(2).

All of the evidence relevant to the claim, including medical opinions, is reviewed and findings are made. 20 CFR 416.927(c).

For mental disorders, severity is assessed in terms of the functional limitations imposed by the impairment. Functional limitations are assessed using the criteria in paragraph (B) of the listings for mental disorders (descriptions of restrictions of activities of daily living, social functioning; concentration, persistence, or pace; and ability to tolerate increased mental demands associated with competitive work).... 20 CFR, Part 404, Subpart P, App. 1, 12.00(C).

If an individual fails to cooperate by appearing for a physical or mental examination by a certain date without good cause, there will not be a finding of disability. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(4)(ii).

When determining disability, the federal regulations require that several considerations be analyzed in sequential order. If disability can be ruled out at any step, analysis of the next step is not required. These steps are:

1. Does the client perform Substantial Gainful Activity (SGA)? If yes, the client is ineligible for MA. If no, the analysis continues to Step 2. 20 CFR 416.920(b).
2. Does the client have a severe impairment that has lasted or is expected to last 12 months or more or result in death? If no, the client is ineligible for MA. If yes, the analysis continues to Step 3. 20 CFR 416.920(c).

3. Does the impairment appear on a special listing of impairments or are the client's symptoms, signs, and laboratory findings at least equivalent in severity to the set of medical findings specified for the listed impairment? If no, the analysis continues to Step 4. If yes, MA is approved. 20 CFR 416.290(d).
4. Can the client do the former work that he/she performed within the last 15 years? If yes, the client is ineligible for MA. If no, the analysis continues to Step 5. 20 CFR 416.920(e).
5. Does the client have the Residual Functional Capacity (RFC) to perform other work according to the guidelines set forth at 20 CFR 404, Subpart P, Appendix 2, Sections 200.00-204.00? If yes, the analysis ends and the client is ineligible for MA. If no, MA is approved. 20 CFR 416.920(f).

At Step 1, claimant is not engaged in substantial gainful activity and so is not disqualified from receiving disability at Step 1.

At Step 2, claimant has a large mucoid cyst on his right knee that causes pain and has resulted in some mucoid changes of degeneration within the medial meniscus. Claimant reports that he has pain due to this condition. The objective medical evidence of record indicates that claimant has a history of alcohol and drug abuse. He apparently stopped consuming alcohol for a period of time, but testified at hearing that he drinks perhaps as much as a 12 pack one day per week. Objective medical testing revealed claimant to have depression as well, that improved with sobriety and medication. Claimant scored in average to low average range of intelligence. Finding of Fact 10-11.

At Step 2, the objective medical evidence of record is not sufficient to establish that claimant has severe physical and/or cognitive impairments that are so severe as to prevent all employment for 12 months or more. Accordingly, claimant is disqualified from receiving disability at Step 2.

At Step 3, claimant's impairments do not rise to the level necessary to be specifically disabling by law.

At Step 4, claimant's past relevant employment has been performing factory labor and driving a truck. See discussion at Step 2 above. Finding of Fact 9-11.

At Step 4, the objective medical evidence of record is not sufficient to establish that claimant has functional physical and/or cognitive impairments that prevent him from performing the duties of his past relevant employment for a period of 12 months or more. Accordingly, claimant is disqualified from receiving disability at Step 4.

The residual functional capacity is what an individual can do despite limitations. All impairments will be considered in addition to ability to meet certain demands of jobs in the national economy. Physical demands, mental demands, sensory requirements and other functions will be evaluated.... 20 CFR 416.945(a).

To determine the physical demands (exertional requirements) of work in the national economy, we classify jobs as sedentary, light, medium and heavy. These terms have the same meaning as they have in the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, published by the Department of Labor.... 20 CFR 416.967.

Sedentary work. Sedentary work involves lifting no more than 10 pounds at a time and occasionally lifting or carrying articles like docket files, ledgers, and small tools. Although a sedentary job is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out job duties. Jobs are sedentary if walking and standing are required occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met. 20 CFR 416.967(a).

Light work. Light work involves lifting no more than 20 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 10 pounds. Even though the weight lifted may be very little, a job is in this category when it requires a good deal of walking or standing, or when it involves sitting most of the time with some pushing and pulling of arm or leg controls....

20 CFR 416.967(b).

Medium work. Medium work involves lifting no more than 50 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 25 pounds. If someone can do medium work, we determine that he or she can also do sedentary and light work. 20 CFR 416.967(c).

Heavy work. Heavy work involves lifting no more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 50 pounds. If someone can do heavy work, we determine that he or she can also do medium, light, and sedentary work. 20 CFR 416.967(d).

At Step 5, see discussion at Step 2 above. Finding of Fact 10-11.

At Step 5, the objective medical evidence of record is sufficient to establish that claimant is capable of performing unskilled work activity. Accordingly, claimant is not disabled.

Therefore, claimant is disqualified from receiving disability at Step 5..

Claimant does not meet the federal statutory requirements to qualify for disability.

Therefore, claimant does not meet the disability requirements for Medical Assistance.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides claimant has not established disability for Medical Assistance.

Accordingly, the department's action is, hereby, UPHELD.
