ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS FOR THE
DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF: [REDACTED],
Claimant

Reg. No: 2010-27676
Issue No: 2009/4031
Case No: [REDACTED]
Load No: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date:
April 20, 2010
Berrien County DHS

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Marlene B. Magyar

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on April 20, 2010. Claimant personally appeared and testified.

ISSUE

Did the department properly determine claimant is not disabled by Medicaid (MA) and State Disability Assistance (SDA) eligibility standards?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

(1) Claimant is a married, 49-year-old male with a limited education (completed 10th grade) and a sporadic, unskilled work history in general labor jobs like yard work/construction/dishwashing/janitorial positions, but he hasn't been gainfully employed since he got fired from a four month maintenance job at [REDACTED] in December 2007 (Department Exhibit #1, pg 48).

(2) On January 14, 2010, claimant filed a disability-based MA/SDA application.

(3) When the department denied that application, claimant filed a hearing request to dispute the denial.

(4) Claimant stands 5'9" tall and is medically obese at 255 pounds (BMI=37.7); he is left hand dominant, per self report (Department Exhibit #1, pgs 17, 23, 29 and 36).

(5) Claimant is a non-insulin dependent diabetic, and also, he has been diagnosed with high blood pressure and high cholesterol.

(6) All of the above-referenced physical conditions are common in medically obese patients like claimant, and all these conditions are fully capable of adequate control with medication as long as medication compliance is maintained.

(7) Claimant alleges he has been medically incapable of performing any type of substantial gainful work activity since November 2009 (Department Exhibit #2, pg 1).

(8) On December 21, 2009, claimant underwent cardiac EKG and treadmill stress testing secondary to non-specific chest pain (Department Exhibit #1, pgs 36-37 and 40).

(9) Claimant's left ventricular ejection fraction was mildly reduced at 52% and the stress EKG demonstrated nonspecific ST-T wave changes suggestive of ischemia, as did claimant's exercise induced results at peak exertional level (Department Exhibit #1, pgs 3 and 35-36).

(10) Specifically, claimant exercised according to the standard Bruce protocol for 9 minutes and completed Stage III with a maximum heart rate of 160 which corresponds to more than 85% of the predicted maximum heart rate for his age (Department Exhibit #1, pg 36).

(11) No arrhythmias were noted, but claimant developed chest tightness at peak exercise levels; consequently, nitroglycerin tablets have been prescribed to resolve these periodic anginal symptoms.

(12) Claimant's medical records also verify a brief hospitalization in June 2007, when claimant was treated for pneumonia with standard antibiotics and discharged in stable condition (Department Exhibit #1, pgs 2 and 3).

(13) While hospitalized, a right shoulder x-ray was taken secondary to claimant's reported pain; this x-ray verified a small spur existed in claimant's shoulder, but nothing more severe (Department Exhibit #1, pg 25).

(14) Additionally, claimant was rehydrated in the hospital because the doctors determined he was suffering a heat exhaustion episode secondary to not taking in enough liquids at work (Department Exhibit #1, pgs 3 and 25).

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program which provides financial assistance for disabled persons is established by 2004 PA 344. The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3151-400.3180. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Pursuant to Federal Rule 42 CFR 435.540, the Department of Human Services uses the federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) policy in determining eligibility for disability under the Medical Assistance program. Under SSI, disability is defined as:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.... 20 CFR 416.905

The SDA program differs from the federal MA regulations in that the durational requirement is 90 days. This means that the person's impairments must meet the SSI disability standards for 90 days in order for that person to be eligible for SDA benefits.

The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish it through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescribed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related activities or ability to reason and to make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is being alleged, 20 CFR 416.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.908 and 20 CFR 416.929. By the same token, a conclusory statement by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind is not sufficient without supporting medical evidence to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.929.

...We follow a set order to determine whether you are disabled. We review any current work activity, the severity of your impairment(s), your residual functional capacity, your past work, and your age, education and work experience. If we can find that you are disabled or not disabled at any point in the review, we do not review your claim further.... 20 CFR 416.920.

...If you are working and the work you are doing is substantial gainful activity, we will find that you are not disabled regardless of your medical condition or your age, education, and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(b).

...If you do not have any impairment or combination of impairments which significantly limits your physical or mental ability to do basic work activities, we will find that you do not have a severe impairment and are, therefore, not disabled. We will not consider your age, education, and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(c).

[In reviewing your impairment]...We need reports about your impairments from acceptable medical sources.... 20 CFR 416.913(a).

...Statements about your pain or other symptoms will not alone establish that you are disabled; there must be medical signs and laboratory findings which show that you have a medical impairment.... 20 CFR 416.929(a).

...You must provide medical evidence showing that you have an impairment(s) and how severe it is during the time you say that you are disabled. 20 CFR 416.912(c).

... [The record must show a severe impairment] which significantly limits your physical or mental ability to do basic work activities.... 20 CFR 416.920(c).

...[The impairment]...must have lasted or must be expected to last for a continuous period of at least 12 months. We call this the duration requirement. 20 CFR 416.909.

...Medical reports should include --

- (1) Medical history.
- (2) Clinical findings (such as the results of physical or mental status examinations);
- (3) Laboratory findings (such as blood pressure, X-rays);
- (4) Diagnosis (statement of disease or injury based on its signs and symptoms).... 20 CFR 416.913(b).

...The medical evidence...must be complete and detailed enough to allow us to make a determination about whether you are disabled or blind. 20 CFR 416.913(d).

Medical findings consist of symptoms, signs, and laboratory findings:

- (a) Symptoms are your own description of your physical or mental impairment. Your statements alone are not enough to establish that there is a physical or mental impairment.
- (b) Signs are anatomical, physiological, or psychological abnormalities which can be observed, apart from your statements (symptoms). Signs must be shown by medically acceptable clinical diagnostic techniques. Psychiatric signs are medically demonstrable phenomena which indicate specific psychological abnormalities e.g., abnormalities of behavior, mood, thought, memory, orientation, development, or perception. They must also be shown by observable facts that can be medically described and evaluated.
- (c) Laboratory findings are anatomical, physiological, or psychological phenomena which can be shown by the use of a medically acceptable laboratory diagnostic techniques. Some of these diagnostic techniques include chemical tests, electrophysiological studies (electrocardiogram, electroencephalogram, etc.), roentgenological studies (X-rays), and psychological tests. 20 CFR 416.928.

It must allow us to determine --

- (1) The nature and limiting effects of your impairment(s) for any period in question;
- (2) The probable duration of your impairment; and
- (3) Your residual functional capacity to do work-related physical and mental activities. 20 CFR 416.913(d).

...A statement by a medical source that you are "disabled" or "unable to work" does not mean that we will determine that you are disabled. 20 CFR 416.927(e).

...You can only be found disabled if you are unable to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death, or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. See 20 CFR 416.905. Your impairment must result from anatomical, physiological, or psychological abnormalities which are demonstrable by medically acceptable clinical and laboratory diagnostic techniques.... 20 CFR 416.927(a)(1).

[As Judge]...We are responsible for making the determination or decision about whether you meet the statutory definition of disability. In so doing, we review all of the medical findings and other evidence that support a medical source's statement that you are disabled.... 20 CFR 416.927(e).

Furthermore, it must be noted the law does not require an applicant to be completely symptom free before a finding of lack of disability can be rendered. In fact, if an applicant's symptoms can be managed to the point where substantial gainful employment can be achieved, a finding of not disabled must be rendered. Claimant's current prescription medication schedule appears fully capable of adequately controlling all his existing ailments, given the medical evidence submitted.

Claimant does not qualify for the MA/SDA disability coverage he seeks because he has not established the existence of a medically severe condition, or combination of conditions, which could reasonably be expected to prevent employability for the continuous durational periods required under the governing regulations. The evidence of record in this case establishes claimant is a fully functioning individual of at least average intelligence who is physically and mentally capable of being employed in a wide variety of unskilled jobs currently existing in the national economy, which is the standard to be applied in disability determination cases. As such, claimant's disputed MA/SDA application must remain denied for lack of duration/severity shown.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides the department properly determined claimant is not disabled by MA/SDA eligibility standards, and properly denied his January 14, 2010 MA/SDA application on that basis.

Accordingly, the department's action is AFFIRMED.
