Claimant

Reg. No: 2010-9540
Issue No: 3052
Case No: [REDACTED]
Load No: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date:
January 7, 2010
Genesee County DHS

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Suzanne L. Keegstra

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on January 7, 2010. The claimant did personally appear and provide testimony, along with her mother, [REDACTED]

ISSUE

Did the claimant receive an overissuance (OI) of Food Assistance Program (FAP) benefits from April, 2009 through June, 2009?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. The claimant was receiving FAP benefits when the department failed to timely budget her earned income. (Department Exhibit 4).

2. When the department properly budgeted the claimant's income, the claimant would have been eligible for $16 in monthly benefits from April, 2009 to June, 2009. The claimant had actually received $101 each month, causing an OI of $255. (Department Exhibit 1, 5 – 11)

3. The claimant submitted a hearing request on November 12, 2009.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) (formerly known as the Food Stamp (FS) program) is established by the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended, and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (DHS or department) administers the FAP program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3001-3015. Department policies are found in the Program Administrative Manual (PAM), the Program Eligibility Manual (PEM) and the Program Reference Manual (PRM).

Department policy states:

BENEFIT OVERISSUANCES

DEPARTMENT POLICY

All Programs

When a client group receives more benefits than they are entitled to receive, DHS must attempt to recoup the overissuance (OI). This item explains OI types and standard of promptness. PAM, Item 700, p. 1.

Definitions

The Automated Recoupment System (ARS) is part of CIMS that tracks all FIP, SDA and FAP OIs and payments, issues automated collection notices and triggers automated benefit reductions for action programs.

Overissuance Type identifies the cause of an overissuance.

Recoupment is a DHS action to identify and recover a benefit overissuance. PAM 700, p. 1.

PREVENTION OF OVERISSUANCES

All Programs

DHS must inform clients of their reporting responsibilities and act on the information reported within the standard of promptness. PAM 700, p. 2.

During eligibility determination and while the case is active, clients are repeatedly reminded of reporting responsibilities, including:

- Acknowledgments on the application forms, and
- Explanation at application/redetermination interviews, and
- Client notices and program pamphlets.

DHS must prevent OIs by following PAM 105 requirements and by informing the client or authorized representative of the following:

- Applicants and recipients are required by law to give complete and accurate information about their circumstances.
- Applicants and recipients are required by law to promptly notify DHS of any changes in circumstances within 10 days.
- Incorrect, late reported or omitted information causing an OI can result in cash repayment or benefit reduction.
- A timely hearing request can delete a proposed benefit reduction. The client must repay the OI if:
 - .. the hearing request is later withdrawn, or
 - .. the State Office of Administrative Hearings and Rules (SOAHR) denies the hearing request, or

- .. the client or administrative hearing representative fails to appear for the hearing and SOAHR gives DHS written instructions to proceed, or
- .. the hearing decision upholds the department's actions.

See PAM 600

Record on the application the client's comments and/or questions about the above responsibilities. PAM 700, p. 2.

OVERISSUANCE TYPES

Department Error

All Programs

A department error OI is caused by incorrect action (including delayed or no action) by DHS staff or department processes. Some examples are:

- . Available information was not used or was used incorrectly
- . Policy was misapplied
- . Action by local or central office staff was delayed
- . Computer or machine errors occurred
- . Information was not shared between department divisions (services staff, Work First agencies, etc.)
- . Data exchange reports were not acted upon timely (Wage Match, New Hires, BENDEX, etc.)

If unable to identify the type of OI, record it as a department error.

Client Error

All Programs

A client error OI occurs when the client received more benefits than they were entitled to because the client gave incorrect or incomplete information to the department.

A client error also exists when the client's timely request for a hearing results in deletion of a DHS action, and

- . The hearing request is later withdrawn, or
- . SOAHR denies the hearing request, or
- . The client or administrative hearing representative fails to appear for the hearing and SOAHR gives DHS written instructions to proceed, or
- . The hearing decision upholds the department's actions. See PAM 600. PAM Item 700, p. 5.

OVERISSUANCE THRESHOLD

The agency error overissuance threshold was lowered to $125 for all programs with a retroactive date of August 1, 2008. All agency errors with an overissuance of $125 or more will be recouped. BPB 2010-007.

The OI period is from April, 2009 through June, 2009. During this time, if the claimant's employment income had been budgeted properly, she would only have been eligible for $16 in benefits. However, because the claimant's employment income was not budgeted properly, she received $101 in FAP benefits. This produces an OI of $255, which the department is requesting to be recouped.

Current department policy provides that a department error OI will be pursued if the amount of the OI is $125 or more. BPB 2010-007. In this case, the amount of the OI is $255, so it will be recouped because it is over the threshold for department error.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides that the department properly determined there was an OI of $255 from April, 2009 through June, 2009 and that the department is entitled to recoup this amount from the claimant.

Accordingly, the department's decision is UPHeld. SO ORDERED.
