After due notice, a telephone hearing was conducted from Detroit, Michigan on April 18, 2011. The Claimant appeared and testified. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED], and [REDACTED] appeared on behalf of the Department.

ISSUE

Whether the Department properly denied the Claimant's Food Assistance (FAP) application due to Claimant's failure to return information requested by the Verification Checklist by the due date?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material facts:

1. The Claimant applied for Food Assistance (FAP) benefits on February 1, 2011.

2. The Claimant had a telephone interview on February 17, 2011, at which time he confirmed receipt of $60 per month from family and friends to help with expenses.
3. The Claimant was sent a verification checklist requesting proof of income received from relatives and friends for living expenses. The verification checklist was dated February 17, 2011, and the due date was February 28, 2011. Exhibit 1
4. The Department denied the Claimant's application on March 5, 2011, when it did not receive verification of income received by the Claimant from family and friends. Exhibit 2
5. The individual(s) who gave money to the Claimant were unwilling to provide written verification.
6. The Claimant did not request an extension of time to file the verification information.
7. The Claimant requested a hearing on January 23, 2010, protesting the denial of his Food Assistance application. The hearing request was received by the Department on January 26, 2010.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) formerly known as the Food Stamp (FS) program is established by the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended, and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (DHS) administers the FAP program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3001-3015. Department policies are found in the Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) and the Reference Tables (RFT).

Clients must cooperate with the local office in determining initial and ongoing eligibility to provide verification. BAM 130, p. 1. The questionable information might be from the client or a third party. Id. The Department can use documents, collateral contacts or home calls to verify information. Id. The client should be allowed 10 calendar days to provide the verification. If the client cannot provide the verification despite a reasonable effort, the time limit to provide should be extended at least once. BAM 130, p.4; BEM 702. If the client refuses to provide the information or has not made a reasonable effort within the specified time period, then policy directs that a negative action be issued. BAM 130, p. 4. Before making an eligibility determination, however, the department must give the client a reasonable opportunity to resolve any discrepancy between his statements and information from another source. BAM 130, p.

The Department is required to verify employment and income at application and when a change is reported. If the client fails to verify these items the Department must close the Claimant's case or deny the application for failure to verify the requested information. BEM 554, p. 11.

In this case, the Department mailed out a Verification Checklist seeking information regarding the receipt of income by the Claimant from family or friends. The Claimant received the verification checklist and did not respond by the due date or request an extension. The Claimant did not return the information by the due date and did not request assistance from the Department or request an extension of time in which to file the requested information. The Department under these circumstances correctly denied the Claimant's FAP application because the information was not returned and thus its action denying the Claimant's FAP application was in accordance with its policy. BAM 130 id.

Based on the foregoing, it is found that the Department's denial of the Claimant's FAP application was in accordance with policy and was proper and therefore is AFFIRMED.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, finds that there was sufficient evidence presented to affirm the Department's actions and, therefore, the denial of the Claimant's Food Assistance application by the Department is AFFIRMED.
