CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance program is established by Subchapter XIX of Chapter 7 of The Public Health & Welfare Act, 42 USC 1397, and is administered by the Department of Human Services, formerly known as the Family Independence Agency, pursuant to MCL 400.10 et seq. and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Bridge's Administrative Manual ("BAM"), the Bridges Elig ibility Manual ("BEM"), and the Bridges Reference Tables ("RFT").

Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental im pairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expect ed to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905(a). The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish it through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescri bed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related ac tivities or ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CRF 413.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CF R 416.908; 2 0 CFR 4 16.929(a). Similarly, conclusor y statements by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind, absent supporting medical evidence, is insufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.927.

When determining disability, the federal regulations require several factors to be considered including: (1) the location/duration/frequency/intensity of an applicant's pain; (2) the type/dosage/effectiveness/side effects of any medication the applicant takes to relieve pain; (3) any treatment other than pain medication that the applicant has received to relieve pain; and (4) the effect of the applicant's pain on his or her ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3). The applicant's pain must be assessed to determine the extent of his or her functional limitation(s) in light of the objective medical evidence presented. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(2).

In order to determine whether or not an individual is disabled, federal regulations require a five-step sequential evaluation process be utilized. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(1). The five-step analysis requires the trier of fact to cons ider an individual's current work activit y; the severity of the impairment(s) both in duration and whether it meets or equals a listed impairment in Appendix 1; residual functional capacity to det ermine whether an individual can perform past relev ant work; and residual functional capacity along with vocational factors (i .e. age, education, and work experienc e) to determine if an individual can adjust to other work. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4); 20 CFR 416.945.

If an individual is found disabled, or not disabled, at any step, a determination or decision is made with no need evaluate subsequent steps. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If a determination cannot be made that an individual is disabled, or not disabled, at particular step, the next step is required. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If an impairment does not meet or equal a listed impairment, an indi vidual's residual functional capacity is assessed before moving from step three to step four. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4); 20 CFR 416.945. Residual f unctional capacity is the most an indiv idual can do d espite the limitations based on all relevant evidence. 20 CF R 945(a)(1). An individual's residua I functional capacity assessment is evaluat ed at both steps four and five. 20 CF 416.920(a)(4). In determining disability, an i ndividual's functional capac ity to perform basic work activities is evaluated and if f ound that the individual has the ability to perform basic work activities without significant limitation, disability will not be found. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(iv). In general, the i ndividual has the responsibility to prove disability. 20 CFR 4 16.912(a). An impair ment or combination of impairments is not severe if it does not signific antly limit an individual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.921(a). The in dividual has the responsibility to provide evidence of prior work experience; efforts to work; and any other factor showing how the impairment affects the ability to work. 20 CFR 416.912(c)(3)(5)(6).

In addition to the above, when evaluating mental impairments, a special technique is utilized. 2 0 CFR 41 6.920a(a). First, an i ndividual's pertinent sym ptoms, signs, a nd laboratory findings are evaluated to determine whether a medically determinable mental impairment exists. 20 CFR 416.920a(b)(1). When a medically determinable mental impairment is established, the symptoms, signs and laboratory findings that substantiate the impairment are documented to include the individual's significant history, laboratory findings, and functional limitations. 20 CFR 416.920a(e)(2). Functional limitation(s) is assessed based upon the extent to whic h the impairment(s) interferes with an tion independently, appropriately, effectively, and on individual's ability to func а Id.; 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(2). Chronic m ental disorders, structured sustained basis. settings, medication, and other treatment and the effect on the overall degree of functionality is considered. 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(1). In addition, four broad functional areas (activities of daily living; social f unctioning; concentration, persistence or pace; and episodes of decompensat ion) are consider ed when deter mining an indiv idual's degree of functional limitation. 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(3). The degree of limitation for the first three functional areas is rated by a five point scale: none, mild, moderate, marked, and extreme. 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(4). A four point scale (none, one or two, three, four or more) is used to rate the degree of limitation in the fourth functional area. Id. The last point on each scale repr esents a degree of limitation t hat is incompatible with the ability to do any gainful activity. Id.

After the degree of functional limitation is determined, the severity of the mental impairment is determined. 20 CFR 416.920a(d). If severe, a determination of whether the impairment meets or is the equivalent of a listed mental disorder is made. 20 CF R 416.920a(d)(2). If the severe mental im pairment does not meet (or equal) a listed impairment, an individual's residual functional capacity is assessed. 20 CF R 416.920a(d)(3).

As outlined above, the first step looks at the i ndividual's current work activity. In the record presented, the Claimant is not involved in substantial gainful activity; therefore, is not ineligible for disability benefits under Step 1.

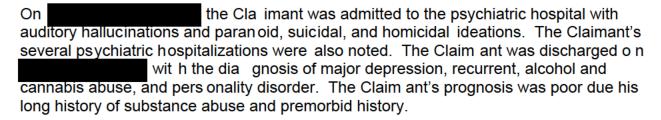

The severity of the Claimant's alleged impa irment(s) is considered under St ep 2. The Claimant bears the burden to present sufficient objective medical evidence to substantiate the alleged disabling impairments. In order to be considered disabled for MA purpos es, the impairment must be seevere. 20 CFR 916. 920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 916.920(b). An impairment, or combination of impairments, is severe if it significantly limits an individual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities regardless of age, education and work experience. 20 CFR 916.920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 916.920(c). Basic work activities means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. 20 CFR 916.921(b). Examples include:

- Physical functions such as walk ing, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling;
- Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- 3. Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions:
- 4. Use of judgment;
- Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- 6. Dealing with changes in a routine work setting.

The second step allows for dismissal of a disability claim obviously lacking in medical merit. Higgs v Bowen, 880 F2d 860, 862 (CA 6, 1988). The severity requirement may still be employed as an administrative convenience to screen out claims that are totally groundless solely from a medical standpoint. Id. at 863 citing Farris v Sec of Health and Human Services, 773 F2d 85, 90 n.1 (CA 6, 1985). An impairment qualifies as non-severe only if, regardless of a claimant's age, education, or work experience, the impairment would not affect the claimant's ability to work. Salmi v Sec of Health and Human Services, 774 F2d 685, 692 (CA 6, 1985).

In the present case, the Claimant alleges disability due to bipolar dis order and schizophrenia.

On a psychiatric evaluation was performed. The Claimant resided in an adult foster care hom e. The Psychiatrist opined that the Claimant was totally disabled. The diagnoses were schizoaffective disorder, alcohol abuse, and cannabis abuse. The GAF was 45.

On the Claimant was admitted to a psychiatric hospital with command hallucinations presenting a danger to self. A psychiatric evaluation was performed which resulted in t he diagnoses of severe bipolar disorder with psychotic features and marijuana abuse. The Claim ant was delus ional, paranoid, severely depressed with impair ed judgment and ins ight. The Claimant was prescribed Haldol, Ativan, Seroquel, and Celexa. The GAF was 20 with the highes t be ing 30. The Claimant was dischar ged on December 22 nd with the diagnoses of bipolar depressed with psychotic features and marijuana abuse. The prognosis was guarded.

On the Mental Res idual Functional Capacity Assessment was completed on behalf of the Claimant. The Claimant was moder ately limited in 7 of the 20 factors.

As previously noted, the Claim ant bears t he burden to present sufficient objective medical evidence to s ubstantiate the alleged disabling im pairment(s). As summarized above, the Claimant has pres ented medical evidence establishing that he does have some mental limitations on his ability to per form basic work activities. The medical evidence has established that the Claimant has an impairment, or combination thereof, that has more than a de minimus effect on the Claimant's basic work activities. Further, the impairments have lasted continuously for twelve months; therefore, the Claimant is not disqualified from receipt of MA-P benefits under Step 2.

In the third step of the seque ntial an alysis of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the Claimant's impairment, or co mbination of impairm ents, is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. The Claimant has alleged mental disabling impairments due to bipolar disorder and schizophrenia.

Listing 12.00 encompasses adult mental disorder s. The evaluation of disability on the basis of mental dis orders requires doc umentation of a medically determinable ee in which the impairment limits the impairment(s) and consideration of the degr individual's ability to work, and whether these limitations have lasted or are expected to last for a continuous period of at least 12 months. 12.00A. The existence of a medically determinable impai rment(s) of the required duration must be established through medical evidence cons isting of sy mptoms, signs, and laboratory findings, to include psychological test findings. 12.00B. The evaluation of disability on the basis of a mental disorder requires sufficient evid ence to (1) establis h the presence of a medically determinable ment al impairment(s), (2) asse ss the degree of functional limitation t he impair ment(s) imposes, and (3) project the probable duration of the impairment(s). 12.00D. The ev aluation of disability on the basis of mental disorder s requires documentation of a medically de terminable impairment(s) and consideration of the degree in which the impairment limits the indiv idual's ability to work consideration, and whether these limitations have lasted or are expected to last for a continuous period of at least 12 months. 12.00A.

Listing 12. 04 defines affective disorders as being c haracterized by a disturbance of mood, accompanied by a full or partial m anic or depressive syndrome. Generally, affective disorders involve either depression or elation. The required level of severity for these disorders is met when the requirements of both A and B are satisfied, or when the requirements in C are satisfied.

- A. Medically documented persistence, ei ther continuous or intermittent, of one of the following:
- 1. Depressive syndrome characterized by at least four of the following:
 - a. Anhedonia or pervasive loss of interest in almost all activities; or
 - b. Appetite disturbance with change in weight; or
 - c. Sleep disturbance; or
 - d. Psychomotor agitation or retardation; or
 - e. Decreased energy; or
 - f. Feelings of guilt or worthlessness; or
 - g. Difficulty concentrating or thinking; or
 - h. Thoughts of suicide; or
 - i. Hallucinations, delusions, or paranoid thinking; or
- 2. Manic syndrome characterized by at least three of the following:
 - a. Hyperactivity; or
 - b. Pressure of speech; or
 - c. Flight of ideas; or
 - d. Inflated self-esteem: or
 - e. Decreased need for sleep; or
 - f. Easy distractability; or
 - g. Involvement in activ ities that have a h igh probab ility of painful consequences which are not recognized; or
 - h. Hallucinations, delusions, or paranoid thinking; or
- 3. Bipolar syndrome with a history of episodic periods manifested by the full symptomatic picture of both manic and depressive syndromes (and currently characterized by either or both syndromes)

AND

- B. Resulting in at least two of the following:
 - 1. Marked restriction on activities of daily living; or
 - 2. Marked difficulties in maintaining social functioning; or

- 3. Marked difficulties in maintain ing concentration, persistence, or pace; or
- 4. Repeated episodes of decompensation, each of extended duration;

OR

- C. Medically documented history of chronic affective disorder of at least 2 years' duration that has caused more than a minimal limitation of ability to do basic work activities, with symptoms or signs currently attenuated by medication or psychosocial support, and one of the following:
 - Repeated episodes of decompensation, each of extended duration; or
 - 2. A residual diseas e process that has resulted in s uch marginal adjustment that even minimal increase in mental demands or change in the env ironment would be predict ed to cause the individual to decompensate; or
 - 3. Current history of 1 or more ye ars' inability to function outside a highly supportive living arrangement, with an indication of continued need for such an arrangement.

The Claim ant alleges mental disabling impairment(s) due to bipolar disorder and schizophrenia depression which is established by the objective medical evidence. The records also demonstrate the Claimant's repeated episodes of decompensation, some lasting several months. The Claimant previously resided in an adult foster care and currently lives with his mother who provides a highly structured environment. The GAF scores ranged from 20 to 45. The April 2010 evaluation found the Claimant totally disabled. In light of the foregoing, it is found that the Claimant's impairment meets, or is the medical equivalent thereof, a listed impairment within 12. 00, specifically 12.04C. Accordingly, the Claimant is found disabled at Step 3 with no further analysis required.

The State Disability Assist ance program, which pr ovides fin ancial assistance for disabled persons, was established by 2004 PA 344. The Department administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10 et seq. and Michigan Administrative Code Rule 400.3151 – 400.3180. Department polic ies are found in BAM, BEM, and RFT. A person is considered disabled for SDA purposes if the person has a physical or mental impariment which m eets federal SSI dis ability standards for at least ninety days. Receipt of SSI benefits based on disability or blindness, or the receipt of MA benefit s based on disability or blindness automatically qualifies an individual as disabled for purposes of the SDA program.

In this case, the Claimant is found disa bled for purposes of the MA-P program; therefore, he is found disabled for purposes of SDA benefit program.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, finds the Claimant not disabled fo r purposes of the MA-P and SDA benefit programs.

Accordingly, it is ORDERED:

- 1. The Department's determination is REVERSED.
- 2. The Department shall initiate processing of the December 29, 2010 application to determine if all other non-medical criteria are met and inform the Claimant of the determination in accordance with Department policy.
- 3. The Department shall, in light of the Claimant's history of mental illness and substance abuse, evaluate the need for a protective payee in accordance with Department policy.
- 4. The Department shall supplement fo r any lost benefits (if any) that the Claimant was entitled to receive if otherwise eligib le and qualifie d in accordance with Department policy.
- 5. The Department shall review the Claimant's continued eligibility in April 2012 in accordance with Department policy.
