CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance ("MA") program is est ablished by Subchapter XIX of Chapter 7 of The Public Health & Welfare Act, 42 USC 1397, and is administer ed by the Department, formerly known as the Fami ly Independence Agency, pursuant to MCL 400.10 et seq and MCL 400. 105. Department policies are found in the Bridges Administrative Manual ("BAM"), the Bridges Elig ibility Manual ("BEM"), and the Bridges Reference Manual ("BRM").

Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental im pairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expect ed to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905(a). The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to esta blish it through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinica l/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescri bed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related ac tivities o r ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CRF 413.913. An individual's subjective pain com plaints ar e not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disab ility. 20 CF R 416.908; 2 0 CFR 4 16.929(a). Similarly, conclusor y statements by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind, absent supporting medical evidence, is insufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.927.

When determining disability, t he federal regulations require several factors to be considered including: (1) the location/ duration/frequency/intensity of an applicant's pain; (2) the type/dosage/effectiveness/side effects of any medication the applicant takes to relieve pain; (3) any treatment other than pain medication that the applicant has received to relieve pain; and (4) the effect of the applicant's pain on his or her ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3). The applicant's pain must be assessed to determine the ext ent of his or her functi onal limitation(s) in light of the objective medical evidence presented. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(2).

In order to determine whether or not an individual is disabled, federal regulations require a five-step sequential evaluation process be utilized. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(1). The fivestep analysis requires the trier of fact to cons ider an individual's current work activit y; the severity of the impairment(s) both in duration and whether it meets or equals a listed impairment in Appendix 1; residual functional capacity to det ermine whether an individual c an perform past relev ant work; and residual functiona I capacity along with vocational factors (i .e. age, education, and work experienc e) to determine if an individual can adjust to other work. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4); 20 CFR 416.945.

If an individual is found disabled, or not disabled, at any step, a determination or decision is made with no need evaluate subsequent steps. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If a determination cannot be made that an individual is disabled, or not disabled, at а particular step, the next step is required. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If an impairment does not meet or equal a listed impairment, an indi vidual's residual functional capacity is assessed before moving from step three to step four. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4); 20 CFR 416.945. Residual f unctional capacity is the most an indiv idual can do d espite the limitations based on all relevant evidence. 20 CF R 945(a)(1). An individual's residua l functional capacity assessment is evaluat ed at both steps four and five. 20 CF R 416.920(a)(4). In determining disability, an i ndividual's functional capacity to perform basic work activities is evaluated and if f ound that the individual has the ability to perform basic work activities without significant limitation, disability will not be found. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(iv). In general, the indi vidual has the responsibility to prove disability. 20 CFR 4 16.912(a). An impairment or combi nation of impairments is not severe if it does not signific antly limit an i ndividual's physical or m ental ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.921(a). The in dividual has the responsibility to provide evidence of prior work experience; efforts to work; and any other factor showing how the impairment affects the ability to work. 20 CFR 416.912(c)(3)(5)(6).

In addition to the above, when evaluating m ental impairments, a special technique is utilized. 2 0 CF R 41 6.920a(a). First, an i ndividual's pertinent sym ptoms, signs, a nd laboratory findings are evaluated to determine whether a medically determinable mental impairment exists. 20 CFR 416.920a(b)(1). When a medically determinable mental impairment is established, the symptoms, signs and laboratory findings that substantiate the impairment are documented to include the individual's s ignificant history, laboratory findings, and functional limitat ions. 20 CFR 416.920a(e)(2). Functional limitation(s) is assessed based upon the extent to whic h the impairment(s) interferes with an individual's ability to func tion independently, appropriately , effectively, and on а Id.; 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(2). Chronic m ental disorders, structured sustained basis. settings, medication, and other treatment and the effect on the overall degree of functionality are considered. 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(1). In addition, four broad functional areas (activities of daily living; social f unctioning; concentration, persistence or pace; and episodes of decompensat ion) are consider ed when deter mining an indiv idual's degree of functional limitation. 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(3). The degree of limitation for the first three functional areas is rated by a five point scale: none, mild, moderate, marked, and extreme. 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(4). A four point scale (none, one or two, three, four or more) is used to rate the degree of lim itation in the fourth functional area. Id. The last point on each scale repr esents a degree of limitation t hat is incompatible with the ability to do any gainful activity. Id.

After the degree of functional limitation is determined, the severity of the mental impairment is determined. 20 CFR 416.920a(d). If severe, a determination of whether the impairment meets or is the equivalent of a lis ted mental disorder is made. 20 CF R 416.920a(d)(2). If the severe mental impairment does not meet (or equal) a listed impairment, an individual's residual function on al capacity is assessed. 20 CF R 416.920a(d)(3).

As outlined above, the first step looks at the i ndividual's current work activity. In the record presented, the Claiman t is not involved in substantial gainful activity and, therefore, is not ineligible for disability benefits under Step 1.

The severity of the Claimant 's alleged impairment(s) is c onsidered under St ep 2. The Claimant bears the burden to pr esent sufficient objective medical evidenc et o substantiate the alleged disa bling impairments. In order to be considered disabled for MA purpos es, the impairment must be se vere. 20 CFR 916. 920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 916.920(b). An impairment, or combination of impairments, is severe if it signific antly limits an in dividual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities regardless of age, education and work experience. 20 CFR 916.920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 916.920(c). Basic work activities means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. 20 CFR 916.921(b). Examples include:

- 1. Physical functions such as walk ing, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling;
- 2. Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- 3. Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- 4. Use of judgment;

- 5. Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- 6. Dealing with changes in a routine work setting.
- ld.

The second step allows for dismissal of a di sability claim obviously lacking in medical merit. Higgs v Bowe n, 880 F2d 860, 862 (CA 6, 1988). The severity requirement may still be employed as an admin istrative convenience to screen o ut claims that are totally groundless solely from a medical standpoint. Id. at 863 citing Farris v Sec of Health and Human Services, 773 F2d 85, 90 n.1 (CA 6, 1985). An impairment qu alifies as non-severe only if, regardless of a claimant's age, education, or wo rk experience, the impairment would not affect the claimant's ability to work. Salmi v Sec of Health and Human Services, 774 F2d 685, 692 (CA 6, 1985).

In the present case, the Claimant all eges dis ability due to knee and back pain, abdominal pain, anxiety, sleep disorder, bipolar disorder, and borderline schizophrenia.

On Construction, the Claimant attended a psycho-social assess ment. The diagnoses were depressive disorder (not otherwise specified) and alcohol dependence. The Global Assessment Functioning ("GAF") was 45. The Claimant had depressed mood, cooperative behavior, clear speech, steady, concrete thought, average level of intellectual functioning, good memory, inta ct abstract thinking, and fair judgment and insight as to how his life circumstances have led to a life of drinking.

On Contract of the second and an and a second seco

On Construction the Claim ant's care provider (D.O.) certified that the Claimant was disabled for a period of not less than 12 months due to his major depressive disorder, recurrent, severe without psychotic features.

On the Claimant was diagnosed with bipolar disorder.

On this same date, a Medical Examinat ion Report was completed on behalf of the Claimant. The current diagnoses were bipolar disorder, memory problems, and anxiety. The Claimant's physical examination was normal. Mentally, the Claimant's mood was depressed. The Claimant was in stable c ondition and able to meet his needs in the home.

As previously noted, the Claim ant bears t he burden to present sufficient objective medical evidence to s ubstantiate the alleged disabling im pairment(s). As summarized above, the Claimant has presen ted some medical evidence establishing that he does have some mental limitations on his ab ility to perform basic work activities. There was no evidence of any physical limitations. T he medical evidence has established that the Claimant has an impairment, or combination thereo f, that has more than a de minimus effect on the Claimant's basic work activities. Further, the m ental impair ments have lasted continuous ly for twelve m onths; therefore, the Claimant is not disqualified from receipt of MA-P benefits under Step 2.

In the third step of the seque ntial an alysis of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the Claimant's impairment, or co mbination of impairm ents, is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. The Claim ant has alleged physical an d mental disabling impairments due to knee and back pain, abdominal pain, anxiety, sleep disorder, bipolar disorder, and borderline s chizophrenia. As noted above, there was no evidence of physical disabling impairments. Regardless, Li sting 1.00 (mus culoskeletal system), Listing 5.00 (digestive system), and Listing 12.00 (mental disor ders) were considered in light of the obj ective medical evide nce. Ultim ately, it is found that the Claimant's impairment(s) does not meet the intent and severi ty requirement of a listed impairment therefore the Claimant can not be found disabled, or not disabled, at Step 3. Accordingly, the Claimant's eligibility is considered under Step 4. 20 CFR 416.905(a).

The fourth step in analyzing a dis ability claim requires an assessment of the Claimant's residual f unctional capacity ("RFC") and past relevant em ployment. 20 CF R 416.920(a)(4)(iv). An individual is not disabled if he/she can perform past relevant work. Id.; 20 CFR 416.960(b)(3). Past relevant work is work that has been performed within the past 15 years that was a substantial gainful activity and that lasted long enough for the individual to lear n the position. 20 CF R 416.960(b)(1). Vocational fact ors of age, education, and work experience, and whet her the past relevant employment exists in significant numbers in the natio nal economy is not consider ed. 20 CF R 416.960(b)(3). RFC is as sessed based on impairment(s), and any related symptoms, such as pain, which may cause physical and mental limitations that affect what can be done in a work setting. RFC is the most that can be done, despite the limitations.

To determine the physical demands (exertional requirements) of work in the national economy, jobs are c lassified as sedentary, light, medium, heavy, and very heavy. 2 0 CFR 416.967. Sedentary work involves lifting of no more than 10 pounds at a time and occasionally lifting or carrying articles like docket files, ledgers, and small tools. 20 CFR 416.967(a). Although a sedentary j ob is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out job duties . Id. Jobs are sedentary if walking and standing are r equired occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met.

Light work involves lifting no more than 20 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying objects weighing up to 10 pounds . 20 CFR 416.967(b). Even though we ight lifted may be very little, a job is i n this category when it requires a good deal of walking or standing, or when it involves sitting most of the time with some pushing and pulling of arm or leg controls. Id. To be considered capable of performing a full or wide range of light work, an indiv idual must have the ability to do substantially all of these activities. Id. An individual capable of light work is also capable of sedentary work, unless there are additionally limiting factors such as loss of fine dex terity or inability to sit for long periods of time. Id.

Medium work involves lifting no more than 50 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects w eighing up to 25 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(c). An individua I capable of performing medium work is also capable of light and sedentary work. Id.

Heavy work involves lifting no m ore than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 50 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(d). An indiv idual capable of heavy work is also capable of medium, light, and sedentary work. Id.

Finally, very heavy work involves lifting objects weighing more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying objects weighing 50 pounds or more. 20 CFR 416.967(e). An individual capable of very heavy work is able to perform work under all categories. Id.

Limitations or restrictions which affect the ability to meet the demands of jobs other than strength demands (exertional r equirements, i.e. sitting, standing, walk ing, lifting, carrying, pushing, or pulling) are consider ed nonexertional. 20 CFR 416.969a(a). In considering whether an indiv idual can per form past relevant work, a comparison is made of the indiv idual's residual functional capacity with t he demands of past relevant work. Id. If an individual can no longer do past relevant work the same residual functional capacity assessment along wit h an individual's age, education, and work experience is considered to determine whet her an individual can adjust to other work which exists in the national economy. Id. Examples of non-exer tional limitations or restrictions include difficulty to func tion due to nervousness, anxiousness, or depression; difficulty maintaining attention or concent ration; difficulty understanding or remembering detailed instructions; difficulty in seeing or hearing; difficulty tolerating some physical feature(s) of certain work setti ngs (i.e. can't tolerate dust or fumes); or difficulty performing the manipulative or po stural functions of some work such as g, crawlin g, or crouchin reaching, handling , stooping, climbin a. 20 CF R 416.969a(c)(1)(i) - (vi). If the impairment(s) and related symptoms, such as pain, only affect the ability to perform the non-exertional aspec ts of work-related activities, the rules in Appendix 2 do not direc t factual conc lusions of disabled or not dis abled. 20

CFR 416.969a(c)(2). The dete rmination of whether disability exists is based upon the principles in the appropriate sections of the regulations, giving consideration to the rules for specific case situations in Appendix 2. Id.

Over the past 15 years, the Claimant worked as a cook and general lab orer. In light of the Claimant's testimony and in consideration of the Occupational Code, the Claimant's employment as a cook is cons idered semi-skilled, light work while his general labor position (unloading trucks) is classified as unskilled, medium work.

The Claim ant testified that he is able to lift/carry 10 to 15 pounds; can walk 3 to 5 blocks; stand for 30 minutes at a time; sit for less than 2 hours; and has s ome difficulty bending and squatting. The objective medica I records do not document any physical limitations; however, mentally, the Claimant was found disabled. The most recent GAF was 50 which equat es to serious symptom s or any serious impairment in soc ial, occupational, or school functioning. If the impairment or combination of impairments does not limit an individual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities, it is not a severe impairment(s) and disability does not exist. 20 CFR 416.920. In consideration of the Claimant's testimony, medical records, and current limitations, it is found that the Claimant may not be able to return to past relevant employment, thus Step 5 of the sequential analysis is required.

In Step 5, an assessment of the individua I's residual functional capac ity and age, education, and work experience is consider ed to determine whet her an adjustment to other work can be made. 20 CFR 416.920(4)(v). At the time of hearing, the Claimant was years old thus considered to be closely approaching advanced age for MA-P purposes. The Claimant has the equivalence of a high school diploma. Disability is found if an individual is unable to adjust to other work. Id. At this point in the analysis, the burden shifts from the Claimant to the Department to present proof that the Claimant has the residual capacity to substantia I gainful employment. 20 CFR 416.960(2); Richardson v Sec of Health and Human Services , 735 F2d 962, 964 (CA 6, 1984). While a vocational expert is not required, a finding supported by substantial evidence that the individual has the vo cational gualifications to perform specific jobs is needed to meet the burden. O'Banner v Sec of Heal th and Hum an Services, 587 F 2d 321, 323 (CA 6, 1978). Medical-Vocational guide lines found at 20 CF R Subpart P, Appendix II, may be used to satisfy the burden of provi ng that the individual can perform specific Heckler v Campbell, 461 US 458, 467 (1983); jobs in the national economy. Kirk v Secretary, 667 F2d 524, 529 (CA 6, 1981) cert den 461 US 95 7 (1983). Individuals approaching advanced age (age 50-54) may be significantly limited in vocationa adaptability if they are restricted to sedentary work. 20 CFR 416.963(d).

In this case, the evidence reveals that the Claimant suffers from major depression. The Claimant's physician found the Cl aimant disabled due to his depression for a period of not less than 12 months. The records establis h some restrictions in social functioning, and in maintaining concentration, persistence, or pace. Ultimately, it is found, based on the testimony and medical evi dence, and giving weight to the treating provider's certification, that the Claimant maintains the physica I and mental abilit ies to perform sedentary work as defined in 20 CF R 416.967(a). After revi ew of the entire record using the Medical-Vocational Guidelines [20 CF R 404, Subpart P, Appendix II] as a guide, specifically Rule 201.12, it is found that the Claimant is disabled for purposes of the MA-P program at Step 5.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, finds the Claimant disabled for purposes of the MA-P benefit program.

Accordingly, it is ORDERED:

- 1. The Department's determination is REVERSED.
- 2. The Department sha II proces s the December 15, 2010 applic ation to determine if all other non-m edical criteria are met and inform the Claimant of the determination in accordance with Department policy.
- 3. The Department shall supplement fo r any lost benefits (if any) that the Claimant was entitled to receive if accordance with Department policy.
- 4. The Dep artment shall review the Cla imant's continue d elig ibility in Augus t 2012 in accordance with Department policy.
