Reg. No.: 2011-46634
Issue No.: 2009
Case No.: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date: November 16, 2011
County: Bay

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Robert J. Chavez

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a hearing was held on November 16, 2011, at the Department of Human Services (Department) office in Bay County, Michigan. Claimant was represented at hearing by [REDACTED]

ISSUE

Was the denial of claimant's application for Medical Assistance (MA-P) and retroactive MA-P benefits for lack of disability correct?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. Claimant applied for MA-P on February 28, 2011.
2. Claimant is 46 years old.
3. Claimant has a 12th grade education.
4. Claimant is not currently working.
5. Claimant has a history of depression, anxiety, panic disorder, and dysthymic disorder.
6. Claimant does not leave the house, except to work a very limited job for 8 hours per week.

7. Claimant's treating source noted that claimant is markedly limited in several areas, most specifically related to understanding and memory, and concentration and persistence.
8. Claimant was given a GAF of 49 which is consistent with severe difficulties in maintaining social functioning.
9. Claimant has at least 1 panic attack per week, frequent crying spells, sleep disturbances, night terrors, and agoraphobia.
10. Witnesses state that claimant is extremely forgetful, often forgets to go to her job, and requires assistance with basic activities of daily living.
11. On June 13, 2011, the Medical Review Team denied MA-P, stating that claimant could perform other work.
12. On June 14, 2011, claimant was sent a notice of case action.
13. On June 30, 2011, claimant filed for hearing.
14. On September 19, 2011, the State Hearing Review Team (SHRT) denied MA-P, stating that claimant was capable of other work.
15. On November 16, 2011, a hearing was held before the Administrative Law Judge.
16. Claimant's medical records were resubmitted to SHRT; on April 11, 2012, SHRT denied again, stating that claimant was capable of other work.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) and the Bridges Reference Manual (BRM).

Federal regulations require that the Department use the same operative definition of the term "disabled" as is used by the Social Security Administration for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. 42 CFR 435.540(a).

Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity (SGA) by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905.

This is determined by a five-step sequential evaluation process where current work activity, the severity and duration of the impairment(s), statutory listings of medical impairments, residual functional capacity, and vocational factors (i.e., age, education, and work experience) are considered. These factors are always considered in order according to the five-step sequential evaluation, and when a determination can be made at any step as to the claimant's disability status, no analysis of subsequent steps is necessary. 20 CFR 416.920.

The first step that must be considered is whether the claimant is still partaking in SGA. 20 CFR 416.920(b). To be considered disabled, a person must be unable to engage in SGA. A person who is earning more than a certain monthly amount (net of impairment-related work expenses) is ordinarily considered to be engaging in SGA. The amount of monthly earnings considered as SGA depends on the nature of a person's disability; the Social Security Act specifies a higher SGA amount for statutorily blind individuals and a lower SGA amount for non-blind individuals. Both SGA amounts increase with increases in the national average wage index. The monthly SGA amount for statutorily blind individuals for 2011 is $1,640. For non-blind individuals, the monthly SGA amount for 2011 is $1,000.

In the current case, claimant has presented competent material evidence that she is not engaging in SGA and, therefore, passes the first step.

The second step that must be considered is whether or not the claimant has a severe impairment. 20 CFR 416.920(c). A severe impairment is an impairment expected to last 12 months or more (or result in death), which significantly limits an individual's physical or mental ability to perform basic work activities. The term "basic work activities" means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Examples of these include:

- (1) Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying or handling;
- (2) Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- (3) Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- (4) Use of judgment;
- (5) Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- (6) Dealing with changes in a routine work setting.

20 CFR 416.921(b).

The purpose of the second step in the sequential evaluation process is to screen out claims lacking in medical merit. Higgs v. Bowen 880 F2d 860, 862 (6th Cir, 1988). As a result, the Department may only screen out claims at this level which are "totally groundless" solely from a medical standpoint. This is a de minimus standard in the disability determination that the court may use only to disregard trifling matters. As a rule, any impairment that can reasonably be expected to significantly impair basic activities is enough to meet this standard.

In the current case, claimant has presented competent material evidence of an impairment that meets durational requirements and, therefore, passes the second step.

In the third step of the sequential evaluation, we must determine if the claimant's impairment is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. 20 CFR 416.925. This is, generally speaking, an objective standard; either the claimant's impairment is listed in this appendix, or it is not. However, at this step, a ruling against the claimant does not direct a finding of "not disabled"; if the claimant's impairment does not meet or equal a listing found in Appendix 1, the sequential evaluation process must continue on to step four.

The Administrative Law Judge finds that claimant's medical records, when considered as a whole, contain medical evidence of an impairment that meets or equals listing 12.04A and B (2)(3), after considering claimant's treating source limitations, psychiatric records, medical records, witness statements and the undersigned's own observations of claimant. Therefore, claimant is found disabled at step three, and the Department erred when it denied claimant's Medicaid application for lack of disability. Claimant has been disabled since at least December 2010.

With regard to steps 4 and 5, when a determination can be made at any step as to the claimant's disability status, no analysis of subsequent steps is necessary. 20 CFR 416.920. Therefore, the Administrative Law Judge sees no reason to continue his analysis, as a determination can be made at step 3.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, decides that claimant is disabled for the purposes of the MA program, with an onset date of at least December 2010. Therefore, the decision to deny claimant's application for MA-P was incorrect.

Accordingly, the Department's decision in the above-stated matter is, hereby, REVERSED.

The Department is ORDERED to process claimant's February 28, 2011, MA-P application and award required benefits, provided claimant meets all non-medical standards as well. The Department is further ORDERED to initiate a review of claimant's disability case in June 2013.
