CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance program is established by Subchapter XIX of Chapter 7 of The Public Health & Welfare Act, 42 USC 1397, and is administered by the Department of Human Services, formerly known as the Family Independenc e Agency, pursuant to MCL 400.10 et seq. and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Bridge's Administrative Manual ("BAM"), the Bridges Eligibility Manual ("BEM"), and the Bridges Reference Tables ("RFT").

Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental im pairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expect ed to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905(a). The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to esta blish it through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinica I/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescri bed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related ac tivities o r ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CRF 413.913. An individual's subjective pain com plaints ar e not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disab ility. 20 CF R 416.908; 2 0 CFR 4 16.929(a). Similarly, conclusor v statements by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind, absent supporting medical evidence, is insufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.927.

When determining disability, the federal regulations require several factors to be considered including: (1) the location/duration/frequency/intensity of an applicant's pain; (2) the type/dosage/effectiveness/side effects of any medication the applicant has takes to relieve pain; (3) any treatment other than pain medication that the applicant has received to relieve pain; and (4) the effect of the applicant's pain on his or her ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3). The applicant's pain must be assessed to determine the extent of his or her functional limitation(s) in light of the objective medical evidence presented. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(2).

In order to determine whether or not an individual is disabled, federal regulations require a five-step sequential evaluation process be utilized. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(1). The five-step analysis requires the trier of fact to cons ider an individual's current work activit y; the severity of the impairment(s) both in duration and whether it meets or equals a listed impairment in Appendix 1; residual functional capacity to det ermine whether an individual can perform past relev ant work; and residual functional capacity along with vocational factors (i .e. age, education, and work experienc e) to determine if an individual can adjust to other work. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4); 20 CFR 416.945.

If an individual is found disabled, or not disabled, at any step, a determination or decision is made with no need evaluate subsequent steps. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If a determination cannot be made that an individual is disable ed, or not disabled, at particular step, the next step is required. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If an impairment does not meet or equal a listed impairment, an indi vidual's residual functional capacity is assessed before moving from step three to step four. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4): 20 CFR 416.945. Residual f unctional capacity is the most an indiv idual can do d espite the limitations based on all relevant evidence. 20 CF R 945(a)(1). An individual's residua I functional capacity assessment is evaluat ed at both steps four and five. 20 CF 416.920(a)(4). In determining disability, an individual's functional capacity to perform basic work activities is evaluated and if found that the individ ual h as the ability to perform basic work activities without significant limitation, disability will not be found. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(iv). In general, the i ndividual has the responsibility to prove disability. 20 CFR 4 16.912(a). An impair ment or combi nation of impairments is not severe if it does not signific antly limit an individual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.921(a). The in dividual has the responsibility to provide evidence of prior work experience; efforts to work; and any other factor showing how the impairment affects the ability to work. 20 CFR 416.912(c)(3)(5)(6).

As outlined above, the first step looks at the i ndividual's current work activity. In the record presented, the Claimant is not involved in substantial gainful activity; therefore is not ineligible for disability benefits under Step 1.

The severity of the Claimant's alleged impa irment(s) is considered under St ep 2. The Claimant bears the burden to present sufficient objective medical evidence to o substantiate the alleged disa bling impairments. In order to be considered disabled for MA purpos es, the impairment must be se vere. 20 CFR 916. 920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 916.920(b). An impairment, or combination of impairments, is severe if it signific antly limits an in dividual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities regardless of age, education and work experience. 20 CFR 916.920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 916.920(c). Basic work activities means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. 20 CFR 916.921(b). Examples include:

- 1. Physical functions such as wa lking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling;
- 2. Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- 3. Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- 4. Use of judgment;
- 5. Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- 6. Dealing with changes in a routine work setting.

The second step allows for dismissal of a disability claim obviously lacking in medical merit. Higgs v Bowen, 880 F2d 860, 862 (CA 6, 1988). The severity requirement may still be employed as an admin istrative convenience to screen out claims that are totally groundless solely from a medical standpoint. Id. at 863 citing Farris v Sec of Health and Human Services, 773 F2d 85, 90 n.1 (CA 6, 1985). An impairment qualifies as non-severe only if, regardless of a claimant's age, education, or work experience, the impairment would not affect the claimant's ability to work. Salmi v Sec of Health and Human Services, 774 F2d 685, 692 (CA 6, 1985).

In the present case, the Claimant alleges di sability to due knee pain, left hip pain, asthma, and obesity.

On imaging results revealed arthritis of the th oracic spine. The Claimant was diagnosed with diabetes, middle ear—disorder, hypertension, pneumonia, chronic bronchitis, asthma, chronic airway obstruction, carbuncle of the hand, cellu litis/abscess, and joint pain.

As previously noted, the Claim ant bears t he burden to present sufficient objective medical evidence to s ubstantiate the alleged disabling im pairment(s). As summarized above, the Claimant has presen ted medical evidence establis hing that she does have some physical limitations on her ability to per form basic work activities. The medical evidence has established that the Claimant has an impairment, or combination thereof, that has more than a de minimus effect on the Claimant's basic work activities. Further, the impairments have lasted continuously for twelve months; therefore, the Claimant is not disqualified from receipt of MA-P benefits under Step 2.

In the third step of the seque ntial an alysis of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the Claimant's impairment, or co mbination of impairm ents, is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. The Claimant has alleged physic al disabling impairments due to knee pain, left hip pain, asthma, and obesity.

Listing 1.00 defines musculoskeletal syst em impairments. Disor ders of the musculoskeletal system may re sult from her editary, congenital, or acquired pathologic processes. 1.00A. Impairments may resu lt from infectious , inflammatory , or degenerative processes, traumatic or developmental events, or neoplastic, vascular, or toxic/metabolic dis eases. 1.00A. Regardle ss of the cause(s) of a musculoskeleta impairment, functional loss for purposes of these listings is defined as the inability to ambulate effectively on a sustained basis for any reason, including pain associated with the underlying musculoskeletal impairment, or the inability to perform fine and gross movements effectively on a sus tained basis for any reason, including pain associated with the underlying musculoskeletal impairment. 1.00B2a. The inability to perform fine and gross movements effectively means an extreme loss of function of both upper extremities. 1.00 B2c. In other words, an impairment(s) that interferes very seriously with the individual's ability to independently initiate, sustain, or complete activities 1.00B2c. To use the upper ext remities effectively, an individual must be capable of sustaining such functions as reaching, pus hing, pulling, grasping, and fingering to be able to c arry out activities of daily living. 1.00B2c. Examples in clude the inability to prepare a simple meal, feed oneself, take care of personal hygien e, sort/handle papers/files, or place items in a cabinet at or about the waist level. 1.00B2c. Pain or other symptoms are also considered. 1.00B2d.

Categories of Musculoskeletal include:

- 1.02 Major dysfunction of a joint(s) due to any cause:
 Characterized by gross anat omical deformity (e.g. subluxation, contracture, bony or fibrous ankylosis, instability) and chronic joint pain and stiffne ss with s igns of limitation of motion or other abnormal motion of the affected joint(s), and findings on appropriat e medically acceptable imaging of joint space nar rowing, bony destruction, or ankylosis of the affected joint(s). With:
 - A. Involvement of one major peri pheral weight-bearing joint (i.e., hip, knee, or ank le), resulting in inab ility to ambulate effectively as defined in 1.00B2b; or
 - B. Involvement of one major peripheral joint in each upper extremity (i.e., shoulder, elbow, wr ist, hand) resulting in inability to perform fine and gross movements effectively a defined in 1.00B2c

In this case, the objective evidence confirms osteoarthritis of the thoracic spine and left knee. As a result, the Claimant has difficulty with ambulation and has limited mobility. The records also document the Claimant's obesity, with a BMI of 35, which it is reasonably inferred creates additional pain in the knee. Ultimately, it is found that the Claimant's impairment(s) meet or are the medical equivalent thereof, a Listed impairment within Listing 1.00, specifically 1.02, as detailed above. Accordingly, the Claimant is found disabled at Step 3 with no further analysis required.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above findings of fact and conclusions of law finds the Claimant disabled for purposes of the MA-P benefit program.

Accordingly, it is ORDERED:

- 1. The Department's determination is REVERSED.
- The Department shall initiate proce ssing of the April 7, 2011 application to determine if all other non-medical criteria are met and inform the Claimant of the determination in accordance with department policy.
- 3. The Department shall supplement fo r any lost benefits (if any) that the Claimant was entitled to receive if otherwise eligib le and qualifie d in accordance with department policy.
- 4. The Department shall review the Claimant's continued eligibility in February 2013 in accordance with department policy.
