CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance program is established by Subchapter XIX of Chapter 7 of The Public Health & Welfare Act, 42 USC 1397, and is administered by the Department of Human Services, formerly known as the Family Independence Agency, pursuant to MCL 400.10 et seq. and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Bridge's Administrative Manual ("BAM"), the Bridges Elig ibility Manual ("BEM"), and the Bridges Reference Tables ("RFT").

Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental im pairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expect ed to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905(a). The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to esta blish it through the use of competent medical evidence or her medical history, clinica l/laboratory from qualified medical sources such as his findings, diagnosis/prescri bed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related ac tivities o r ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CFR 416.913. An individual's subjective pain com plaints ar e not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disab ility. 20 CF R 416.908; 2 0 CFR 4 16.929(a). Similarly, conclusor y statements by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind, absent supporting medical evidence, is insufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.927.

When determining disability, the federal regulations require several factors to be considered including: (1) the location/duration/frequency/intensity of an applicant's pain; (2) the type/dosage/effectiveness/side effects of any medication the applicant takes to relieve pain; (3) any treatment other than pain medication that the applicant has received to relieve pain; and (4) the effect of the applicant's pain on his or her ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3). The applicant's pain must be assessed to determine the extent of his or her functional limitation(s) in light of the objective medical evidence presented. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(2).

In order to determine whether or not an individual is disabled, federal regulations require a five-step sequential evaluation process be utilized. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(1). The five-step analysis requires the trier of fact to cons ider an individual's current work activit y; the severity of the impairment(s) both in duration and whether it meets or equals a listed impairment in Appendix 1; residual functional capacity to det ermine whether an individual can perform past relev ant work; and residual functional capacity along with vocational factors (i .e. age, education, and work experienc e) to determine if an individual can adjust to other work. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4); 20 CFR 416.945.

If an individual is found disabled, or not disabled, at any step, a determination or decision is made with no need evaluate subsequent steps. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If a determination cannot be made that an individual is disable ed, or not disabled, at particular step, the next step is required. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If an impairment does not meet or equal a listed impairment, an indi vidual's residual functional capacity is assessed before moving from step three to step four. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4); 20 CFR 416.945. Residual f unctional capacity is the most an indiv idual can do d espite the limitations based on all rele vant evidence. 20 CFR 416.945(a)(1). An individual's residual functional capacity ass essment is ev aluated at both steps four and five. 20 CFR 41 6.920(a)(4). In determining disability, an individual's functional capacity to perform basic work activities is evaluated and if found that the individual has the ability to perform basic work activities without significant limitation, disability will not be found. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(iv). In general, the indiv idual has t he responsibility to prove disability. 20 CFR 4 16.912(a). An impair ment or combination of impairments is not severe if it does not signific antly limit an individual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.921(a). The in dividual has the responsibility to provide evidence of prior work experience; efforts to work; and any other factor showing how the impairment affects the ability to work. 20 CFR 416.912(c)(3)(5)(6).

As outlined above, the first step looks at the i ndividual's current work activity. In the record presented, the Claimant is not involved in substantial gainful activity, therefore, is not ineligible for disability benefits under Step 1.

The severity of the Claimant's alleged impa irment(s) is considered under St ep 2. The Claimant bears the burden to present sufficient objective medical evidence et o substantiate the alleged disa bling impairments. In order to be considered disabled for MA purpos es, the impairment must be seevere. 20 CFR 416. 920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 416.920(b). An impairment, or combination of impairments, is severe if it significantly limits an in dividual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities regardless of age, education and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 416.920(c). Basic work activities means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. 20 CFR 416.921(b). Examples include:

- 1. Physical functions such as wa lking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling;
- 2. Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- 3. Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
- 4. Use of judgment;
- 5. Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- 6. Dealing with changes in a routine work setting.

ld.

The second step allows for dismissal of a disability claim obviously lacking in medical merit. Higgs v Bowen, 880 F2d 860, 862 (CA 6, 1988). The severity requirement may still be employed as an admin istrative convenience to screen out claims that are totally groundless solely from a medical standpoint. Id. at 863 citing Farris v Sec of Health and Human Services, 773 F2d 85, 90 n.1 (CA 6, 1985). An impairment qualifies as non-severe only if, regardless of a claimant's age, education, or work experience, the impairment would not affect the claimant's ability to work. Salmi v Sec of Health and Human Services, 774 F2d 685, 692 (CA 6, 1985).

In the present case, the Claimant alleges disability due to crushed right leg and heel.

On the Claimant presented to the hospital with a crushed leg after a large steel beam fell on his leg resulting in a right open tibia/fibula/heel fracture. Several progress not es were s ubmitted cr eated during the Claimant's ho spital stay regarding the Claimant's multiple fractures to the right lower extremity status post fasciotomy with wound VAC post irrigation and debridement. The right leg/ankle was non-weight bearing. During the hospital — course, the Claimant's pain was managed surgical dressing c hanged, and his leg requi red "constant elevation." Surgic a procedures included right leg and foot irrigation and excisional debridement greater than 10 squared centimeters, right tibia-fibula closed reduction with application of multiplana external fixator, right foot multiple compar tment fasciotomy, and right_leg application of vacuum s ponge les s than 50 squared centimeters , fasciotomy of superficial and deep posterior compartments and lateral and anterior compartment of the right leg (right le ation and excisional debridement with application of vacuum sponge (irrigation and debridement of right lower extremity with wound vacuum-assisted closur e ("VAC") placement of lateral fasciotomy and delayed primary closure of medial fasciotomy (incision and drainage with irrigation and debridement right leg wounds, primary closure of fasciotomy site, and replacement of wound VAC (removal of temporary external fixator, application of circular frame/external fixator, closed reduction of right tibia, and irrigation and debridement of open wounds as application of wound VAC (irrigation debridement of right distal tibia and calcaneal open fractures we ith reapplic ation and wound VAC exchange (and irrigation and debrid ement of the right open al tibia and calcaneus fractures with reapplication of wound VAC exchange ). The discharge summary was not s ubmitted; however, the Claimant remained hospitalized until at least

On a letter was written by the Claimant's primary care physician at the orthopaedic trauma clinic confirming the Claimant's inability to work due to the severity of his injury whic h needs multiple surgeries to include irrigation, debridement, external fixation removal, final fixation of fracture, wound VAC changes, and physical therapy This recov ery is estimated to last well over a year to 18 months due in part to complication of the soft tissue trauma which may require flap repair.

As previously noted, the Claim ant bears the burden to present sufficient objective medical evidence to substantiate the alleged disabling impairment(s). As summarized above, the Claimant has presented medical evidence establishing that he does have physical limitations on his ability to perform basic work activities. The medical evidence has established that the Claimant has an impairment, or combination thereof, that has more than a deminimus effect on the Claimant's basic work activities. Further, the impairments have lasted continuously for twelve months; therefore, the Claimant is not disqualified from receipt of MA-P benefits under Step 2.

In the third step of the seque ntial an alysis of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the Claimant's impairment, or co mbination of impairments, is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. The Claimant has alleged physic al disabling impairments due to crushed right leg/heel injury.

Listing 1.00 defines musculoskeletal syst em impairments. Disor ders of the musculoskeletal system may re sult from her editary, congenital, or acquired pathologic processes. 1.00A. Impairments may resu It from infectious , inflammatory , or degenerative processes, traumatic or developmental events, or neoplastic, vascular, or toxic/metabolic dis eases. 1.00A. Regardle ss of the cause(s) of a musculoskeleta impairment, functional loss for purposes of these listings is defined as the inability to ambulate effectively on a sustained basis for any reason, including pain associated with the underlying musculoskeletal impairment, or the inability to perform fine and gross movements effectively on a sus tained basis for any reason, including pain associated with the underlying musculoskeletal impairment. 1.00B2a. The inability to perform fine and gross movements effectively means an extreme loss of function of both upper extremities. 1.00 B2c. In other words, an impairment(s) that interferes very seriously with the individual's ability to independently initiate, sustain, or complete activities 1.00B2c To use the upper ex tremities effectively, an individual must be capable of sustaining such functions as reaching, pus hing, pulling, grasping, and fingering to be able to c arry out activities of daily living. 1.00B2c. Examples in clude the inability to prepare a simple meal, feed oneself, take care of personal hygien e, sort/handle papers/files, or place items in a cabinet at or about the waist level. 1.00B2c. Pa in or other symptoms are also considered. 1.00B2d

Categories of Musculoskeletal include:

- 1.02 Major dysfunction of a joint(s) due to any cause:
 Characterized by gross anat omical deformity (e.g. subluxation, contracture, bony or fibrous ankylosis, instability) and chronic joint pain and stiffne ss with s igns of limitation of motion or other abnormal motion of the affected joint(s), and findings on appropriat e medically acceptable imaging of joint space nar rowing, bony destruction, or ankylosis of the affected joint(s). With:
 - A. Involvement of one major peri pheral weight-bearing joint (i.e., hip, knee, or ank le), resulting in inab ility to ambulate effectively as defined in 1.00B2b; or
 - B. Involvement of one major peripheral joint in each upper extremity (i.e., shoulder, elbow, wr ist, hand) resulting in inability to perform fine and gross movements effectively a defined in 1.00B2c

1.03 Reconstructive surgery or surgical arthodesis of a major weight-bearing joint, with inab ility to ambulate effectively, as defined in 1.00B2b, and return to effective ambulation did not occur, or is not expected to occur, within 12 months of onset.

In this case, the objective evidence shows the the Claimant suffered a crush injury to his right leg/heel. The Cl aimant underwent sev eral surgical procedures and c ontinues to require surgical intervention/repairs with an estimated time fr ame of well over a year to 18 months. The Claimant has 3 halos with wound VAC and remains unable to ambulate. In light of the fo regoing, it is found that the Claimant's impairment meets, or is the medical equivalent thereof, a listed impairment within 1.00 as detailed above. Accordingly, the Claimant is found disabled at Step 3 with no further analysis required.

The State Disability Assist ance program, which pr ovides financial assistance for disabled persons, was established by 2004 PA 344. The Department administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10 et seq. and Mich Admin Code, Rules 400.3151 – 400.3180. Department policie s are found in BAM, BEM, and RFT. A person is considered disabled for SDA purposes if the person has a ph ysical or menta I impairment which m eets federal SSI dis ability standards for at least ninety days. Receipt of SSI benefits based on disability or blindness, or the receipt of MA benefit s based on disab ility or blindness automatically qualifies an individua I as disab led for purposes of the SDA program.

In this case, the Claimant is found disa bled for purposes of the MA-P program; therefore, he is found disabled for purposes of SDA benefit program.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above findings of fact and conclusions of law finds the Claimant disabled for purposes of the MA-P and SDA benefit programs.

Accordingly, it is ORDERED:

- 1. The Department's determination is REVERSED.
- 1. The Department shall initiate processing of the February 22, 2012 application, retroactive to January 2012, to determine if all other non-medical criteria ar e met and inform the Claimant of the determination in accordance wit h Department policy.

- 2. The Department shall supplement for lo st benefits (if any) that the Claimant was entitled to receiv e if otherwise elig ible and qualified in acc ordance with Department policy.
- 3. The Department shall review the Claimant's continued eligibility in July 2013 in accordance with Department policy.
