CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Br idges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and the Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

☐ The Family Independence Program (FIP) was established pursuant to the Personal Responsibility and W ork Opportunity Reconc iliation Act of 1996, Public Law 104-193, 42 USC 601, et seq. The Department (formerly k nown as the Family Independence Agency) administers FIP pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and 1999 AC, Rule 400.3101 through Rule 400.3131. FIP replaced the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) program effective October 1, 1996.

The Food Assistanc e Program (FAP) [for merly known as the Food Sta mp (FS) program] is established by the Food St amp Act of 1977, as amend ed, and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and 1999 AC, Rule 400.3001 through Rule 400.3015.

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program, which provides financial assistance for disabled persons, is established by 2004 PA 344. The D epartment of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and 20 00 AACS, Rule 400.3151 through Rule 400.3180.

The Child Development and Care (CDC) program is establis hed by Titles IVA, IVE and XX of the Soc ial Security Act, the Ch ild Care and Developm ent Block Grant of 1990, and the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996. The program is implemented by Title 45 of the Code of Feder al Regulations, Parts 98 and 99. The Depart ment provides servic es to adults and children pursuant to MCL 400.14(1) and 1999 AC, Rule 400.5001 through Rule 400.5015.

The Medical Ass istance (MA) program is es tablished by the Title XIX of the Soc ial Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independ ence Agency) administers the MA pr ogram pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MC L 400.105.

When a client group receives more benefits than they are entitled to receive, the Department must attempt to recoup the OI. BAM 700.

Suspected IPV means an OI exists for which all three of the following conditions exist:

- The client intentionally failed t o report information or intentionally gave incomplete or inaccurate information needed to make a correct benefit determination, and
- The client was clearly and co rrectly instructed regarding his or her reporting responsibilities, and
- The client has no apparent physical or mental impairment that limits his or her understanding or ability to fulfill their reporting responsibilities.

IPV is sus pected when there is clear and convinc ing evidenc e that the client has intentionally withheld or misr epresented information for t he purpose of establishing, maintaining, increasing or preventing reduc tion of program benefits or eligibility. BAM 720.

Clear and convincing evidence is evidence sufficient to result in a clear and firm belief that the proposition is true. See M Civ JI 8.01.

The Department's OIG requests IPV hearings for cases when:

- benefit overissuanc es are not forwarded to the prosecutor,
- prosecution of welfare fraud is declined by the prosecutor for a reason other than lack of evidence, and
- the total overissuance amount is $1000 or more, or
- the total overissuance amount is less than $1000, and
 - the group has a previ ous intentional program violation, or
 - the alleged IPV involves FAP trafficking, or
 - the alleged fraud involves c oncurrent receipt of assistance,
 - the alleged fraud is committed by a state/government employee.

Trafficking is the buy ing or selling of FAP benefits for cash or consideration other than eligible food. Department of Human Servic es, Bridges Policy Glossary (BPG) (April 1, 2012), p 45.

The issue in this c ase is not the scope of the definition of trafficking under the Department policy; the all egations raised by the Department against Respondent are sufficient to establish that t he alleged conduct falls within the definition of trafficking. Rather, the issue is whether the evidence presented by the Department was sufficient to establish that Respondent committed the activities alleged by the Department.

A court or hearing decision that finds a client committed an IP V disqualifies that client from receiving certain program benefits. A disqualified reci pient remains a member of an active group as long as he lives with continue to receive benefits. BAM 720.

Clients who commit an IPV are disqualified for a standard di squalification period except when a court orders a diffe rent period, or except when the overissuance relates to MA. Refusal to repay will not cause denial of current or future MA if the client is otherwis e eligible. BAM 710. Clients are disqualified for periods of one year for the first IPV, two years for the second IPV, lifet ime disqualification for the th ird IPV, and ten years for a concurrent receipt of benefits. BAM 720.

In support of its allegation, the Department relies on the fact that an investigation of by the Unit ed States Department of Agricultur e (USDA) and federal Office of Inspector General concluded th at the was trafficking benef its, resulting in a pending criminal complaint in f ederal court. As of the date of this hearin g, the criminal matter involving the was unresolved. At the hearing, the Departm ent presented evidence that, during the course of the had admitted that he was involved in trafficking F AP investigation, the owner of benefits. There was also testimony that former customers had admitted that they Statements made by had trafficked FAP benefits at third parties offered in evidence to prove the truth of the ma tter asserted are hearsay and generally inadmissible in civil proceedings. MRE 801; MRE 802. Athough an admins trative law judge may be more lenient in deciding what evidence may be presented, administrative hearings are subject to the same rules used in circuit court to the extent these rules are practical in the case being he ard. BAM 600 (August 1, 2012), p 28. In cases involving IPV allegations, the burden on the Department is to establish by clear and convincing evidence that the client committed the IPV. Clear and convincing evidence is evidence e sufficient to result in a clear and firm belief that the proposit ion is true. See M Civ JI 8.01. Thus, the weight of hearsay test imony admitted during the course of an administrative hearing is weighted accordingly.

At the hearing the OIG agent testified t hat she had spoken wit h the respondent, by phone, after completing the IPV file, and that the respondent admitted to trafficking i n FAP benefits. The OIG agent admitted that the respondent di d not state that she had used the entire amount spent at the market in question for non-food items or cash. Thus, the issue, given the testi monial evidence provided by the department, is; what amount of FAP benefits were trafficked and what amount should be recouped. Further, does the evidence presented rise to the level of "clear and c onvincing as previously defined.

FAP Trafficking

The OI amount for trafficking-related IPVs is the v alue of the tra fficked benefits as determined by:

The court decision.

The individual's admission.

Documentation used to establish the trafficking determination. (BAM 720, p. 7).

Here, the evidence e presented to support the department's claim of trafficing F AP benefits does not rise to the level of clear and convining. Further, while the department presents evidence of the misuse of the claimant's FAP benefits there is no evidence to show what amount of the purchases made were inconsistent with appropriate FAP benefit use.

Thus, there is no evidence to show the amount that was trafficked.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, concludes that:

1. Respondent \Box did \boxtimes did not commit an IPV.

2012-61610/MJB
