CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and the Reference Tables Manual (RFT). Prior to August 1, 2008, Department policies were contained in the Department of Human Services Program Administrative Manuals (PAM), Program Eligibility Manual (PEM), and Program Reference Tables (PRT).

Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and the Reference Tables Manual (RFT). Prior to August 1, 2008, Department policies were contained in the Department of Human Services Program Administrative Manuals (PAM), Program Eligibility Manual (PEM), and Program Reference Tables (PRT).

The Family Independence Program (FIP) was established pursuant to the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, Public Law 104-193, 42 USC 601, et seq. The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FIP pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3101 through R 400.3131. FIP replaced the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) program effective October 1, 1996.

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) [formerly known as the Food Stamp (FS) program] is established by the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended, and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3001 through R 400.3015.

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program, which provides financial assistance for disabled persons, is established by 2004 PA 344. The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3151 through R 400.3180.

The Child Development and Care (CDC) program is established by Titles IVA, IVE and XX of the Social Security Act, the Child Care and Development Block Grant of 1990, and the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996. The program is implemented by Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Parts 98 and 99. The Department provides services to adults and children pursuant to MCL 400.14(1) and Mich Admin Code, R 400.5001 through R 400.5015.

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by the Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105.

The Department's OIG requests IPV hearings for cases when:

- benefit overissuances are not forwarded to the prosecutor,

- prosecution of welfare fraud is declined by the prosecutor for a reason other than lack of evidence, and
 - the total overissuance amount is $1000 or more, or
 - the total overissuance amount is less than $1000, and
 - the group has a previous intentional program violation, or
 - the alleged IPV involves FAP trafficking, or
 - the alleged fraud involves concurrent receipt of assistance,
 - the alleged fraud is committed by a state/government employee. [BEM 720 (August 1, 2012), p 10.]

Subsequent to the scheduling of the current hearing and prior to the hearing date, the Notice of Hearing and accompanying documents were mailed to Respondent via first class mail at the last known address and were returned by the United States Postal Service as undeliverable. Department policy dictates that when correspondence sent to Respondent concerning an intentional program violation (IPV) is returned as undeliverable, the hearing cannot proceed with respect to any program other than Food Assistance Program (FAP). BAM 720, p 10. Thus, the Request for an IPV Hearing concerning Respondent's MA program benefits is dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. The hearing proceeded with respect to the alleged FAP IPV.

Intentional Program Violation

Suspected IPV means an overissuance (OI) exists for which all three of the following conditions exist:

- The client intentionally failed to report information or intentionally gave incomplete or inaccurate information needed to make a correct benefit determination, and
- The client was clearly and correctly instructed regarding his or her reporting responsibilities, and
- The client has no apparent physical or mental impairment that limits his or her understanding or ability to fulfill their reporting responsibilities. [BAM 720, p 1 (emphasis in original).]

An IPV is also suspected for a client who is alleged to have trafficked FAP benefits. BAM 720, p 1.

The Department must establish an IPV by clear and convincing evidence. BAM 720, p 1. Clear and convincing evidence is evidence sufficient to result in a clear and firm belief that the proposition is true. See M Civ JI 8.01.

In this case, the Department alleges that Respondent trafficked his FAP benefits at [REDACTED]. Trafficking is the buying or selling of FAP benefits for cash or consideration other than eligible food. Department of Human Services, Bridges Policy Glossary (BPG) (April 1, 2012), p 45. Trafficking also includes (i) fraudulently using, transferring, altering, acquiring, or possessing coupons, authorization cards, or access devices, or (ii) redeeming or presenting for payment coupons known to be fraudulently obtained or transferred. BEM 203 (October 1, 2011), p 2. The Department has also referenced the definitions of trafficking from MCL 750.300a of the Michigan Penal Code and from 7 CFR § 273.16(c)(2) (2012). While the definition of trafficking from a criminal statute is not appropriate in an administrative hearing, it is noted that the definitions provided in both MCL 750.300a and 7 CFR § 273.16(c)(2) are similar to those in BEM 203 and in the BPG. Further, the issue in this case is not whether the definition of trafficking in the Department policy is broad enough to encompass Respondent's alleged activities. Rather, the issue is whether clear and convincing evidence established the allegations brought by the Department against Respondent.

In support of its allegation that Respondent trafficked his FAP benefits at [REDACTED], the Department relied on (i) the criminal trafficking investigation and resulting complaint against [REDACTED] (ii) the admissions of trafficking made by [REDACTED] owner and unnamed customers, and (iii) Respondent's transaction history at [REDACTED].

The Department presented evidence that an investigation of [REDACTED] by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) and federal Office of Inspector General concluded that [REDACTED] was trafficking benefits, resulting in a pending criminal complaint against [REDACTED] owner in federal court. As of the date of this hearing, the criminal matter involving [REDACTED] was unresolved. Thus, while there are allegations that [REDACTED] trafficked benefits, there has been no confirmation of that fact. Accordingly, it is inappropriate to base any allegations that Respondent trafficked his FAP benefits at [REDACTED] on the fact that [REDACTED] is an establishment where FAP benefits were trafficked.

At the hearing, the Department also presented evidence that, during the course of the investigation against [REDACTED], the owner [REDACTED] admitted that he was involved in trafficking FAP benefits. There was also testimony that former [REDACTED] customers had admitted that they had trafficked FAP benefits at [REDACTED]. Statements made by others offered into evidence to prove the truth of the matter asserted are hearsay and are generally inadmissible in a trial or hearing. MRE 801; MRE 802. Administrative hearings are subject to the same rules used in circuit court to the extent these rules are practical in the case being heard although an administrative law judge may be more lenient in deciding what evidence may be presented. BAM 600 (August 1, 2012), p 28. In this case, statements by [REDACTED] owner and former customers regarding trafficking activity at [REDACTED] are hearsay and have limited, if any, evidentiary value. This is especially true in this case where evidence that third parties may have engaged in trafficking at [REDACTED] is not dispositive of whether Respondent engaged in trafficking, particularly where no one identified Respondent as having trafficked his FAP benefits at [REDACTED] and Respondent has not admitted he trafficked his FAP benefits at [REDACTED].

The only remaining evidence presented by the Department to establish Respondent's trafficking was his FAP transaction history at [REDACTED]. The Department contended that Respondent's $520.21 in FAP transactions at [REDACTED] between September 2011 and December 2011 were not supported by the stock of eligible food items sold at [REDACTED].

However, the Department did not present any evidence that Respondent's purchases at [REDACTED] were not legitimate food purchases or that his transactions were otherwise fraudulent. Respondent was not prohibited from spending his FAP benefits at an establishment which sold food items and was licensed to engage in FAP transactions. Respondent received $200 monthly in FAP benefits, and his transaction history shows that he went to [REDACTED] once a month between September 2011 and November 2011 and spent between $100 and $183. While he went to [REDACTED] four times in December 2011, the total transactions that month total about $100. Respondent's transactions at [REDACTED], without more, fail to establish by clear and convincing evidence that Respondent trafficked his FAP benefits. Thus, the Department has failed to establish that Respondent committed an IPV with respect to his FAP benefits.

Disqualification

A court or hearing decision that finds a client committed an IPV disqualifies that client from receiving program benefits. A disqualified recipient remains a member of an active group as long as he lives with them. Other eligible group members may continue to receive benefits. BAM 720, p 12.

Clients who commit an IPV are disqualified for a standard disqualification period except when a court orders a different period, or except when the overissuance relates to MA. Refusal to repay will not cause denial of current or future MA if the client is otherwise eligible. BAM 710 (October 1, 2009), p 2. Clients are disqualified for periods of one year for the first IPV, two years for the second IPV, lifetime disqualification for the third IPV, and ten years for a concurrent receipt of benefits. BAM 720, p 13.

In this case, the Department has failed to satisfy its burden of showing that Respondent committed an IPV. Therefore, Respondent is not subject to a disqualification under the FAP program.

Recoupment of Overissuance

When a client group receives more benefits than they are entitled to receive, the Department must attempt to recoup the OI. BAM 700 (December 1, 2011), p 1. The OI amount for trafficking-related IPV's is the value of the trafficked benefits as determined by a court decision, the individual's admission, or documentation used to establish the trafficking determination. BAM 720, p 7.

At the hearing, the Department alleged that Respondent trafficked $520.21 of his FAP benefits between September 2011 and December 2011. However, because the Department failed to establish that Respondent trafficked his FAP benefits, it cannot establish that he was not entitled to the FAP benefits at issue. Thus, the Department is not entitled to recoup any FAP benefits in this case.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, concludes that:
