CONCLUSIONS OF LAW
Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Service s Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and the Referenc Tables Manual (RFT). Prior to August 1, 2008, Department policies were contained in the Department of Human Services Program Administrative Manuals (PAM), Program Eligibility Manual (PEM), and Program Reference Tables (PRT).
☐ The Family Independence Program (FIP) was established purs uant to the Persona Responsibility and W ork Opportunity Reconc iliation Act of 1996, Public Law 104-193 42 USC 601, et seq. The Department (formerly k nown as the Family Independence

The Department's OIG requests IPV hearings for cases when:

- benefit overissuances are not forwarded to the prosecutor.
- prosecution of welfar e fraud is declined by the prosecutor for a reason other than lack of evidence, and
  - the total overissuance amount is $1000 or more, or
  - the total overissuance amount is less than $1000, and
    - the group has a previ ous intentional program violation, or
    - the alleged IPV involves FAP trafficking, or
    - the alleged fraud involves c oncurrent receipt of assistance,
    - the alleged fraud is committed by a state/government employee. [BEM 720 (August 1, 2012), p 10.]

Intentional Program Violation

Suspected IPV means an overis suance (OI) exists for which all three of the following conditions exist:

- The client intentionally failed to report information or intentionally gave incomplete or inacc urate information needed to make a correct benefit determination, and
- The client was clearly and correctly in structed regarding his or her reporting responsibilities, and
- The client has no apparent physical or me ntal impairment that limits his or her understanding or ability to fulfill their reporting responsibilities. [BAM 720, p 1 (emphasis in original).]

An IPV is also suspected for a client who is alleged to have trafficked FAP benefits. BAM 720, p 1.

The Department must establish an IPV by clear and convincing evidence. BAM 720, p 1. Clear and convinc ing evidence is eviden ce sufficient to result in a clear and firm belief that the proposition is true. See M Civ JI 8.01.

In this case, the Department alleges t hat Respondent traffick ed his FAP benefits at Trafficking is the buying or selling of FAP benefits for cash or consideration other t Services, Bridges Policy Glossary (BPG) (April 1, 2012), p 45. Trafficking also includes (i) fraudulently using, transferring, alter authorization cards, or access devices, or coupons known to be fraudulently obtained or transferred. BEM 203 (October 1, 2011), p 2.

To establish that Respondent trafficked his FAP benefits at the Department first ent that trafficked FAP benefits. The established that was an establishm Department testified that, although criminal proceedings against owner remained unresolved as of the hearing date, in May 2012 the United Stat es Department of strative proceeding that Agriculture (USDA) determined in an admini establishment that had engaged in trafficking. As a result, status as a FAP was per manently disqualified from accepting and retailer was revoked, and processing Electronic Bridge Tr ansfer (EBT) transactions, which are used to process FAP benefits. Thus, is an establishment that trafficked FAP benefits.

The Department contended t hat Respondent's F AP transaction history at supported a finding that he trafficked hi s benefits at Noor. Respondent's FAP transaction history showed that in each of the four months bet ween November 2011 and February 2012, between the eighteenth and twentieth of each month, Respondent consistently spent $130 to $135 in FAP benef The Department al its at presented evidence that in the two hours prior to Res pondent's $131.10 November 19, conducted $2038 in FAP transactions, and that 2011 FAP transaction. stock of eligible food items, as identified in the photographs admitted into evidence, did not support this series of transactions. The OIG agent also credibly testified that he contacted Respondent on June 20, 2012, and Respondent a cknowledged responsibility and indicated that he would sign and s end back the repay agreement. While Respondent did not admit he trafficked his FAP benefits at and no signed reparv agreement was received by the Departmen t, Respondent's s tatements, within the context of the Department's IPV proceedings against him, I end further support to the Department's trafficking case. See MRE 803(a)(5) and (b)(3).

The totality of the circumstances, particularly Respondent's unusual, consistent monthly FAP transactions at and evidence establishing Noor as a trafficking establishment, was sufficient to show by clear and conv incing evidence that Respondent trafficked his FAP benefits at

Disqualification

A court or hearing decision that finds a client committed an IP V disqualifies that client from receiving program benefits. A disqualified recipient remains a member of an active group as long as he lives with them. Other eligible group members may continue to receive benefits. BAM 720, p 12.

Clients who commit an IPV are disqualified for a standard disqualification period except when a court orders a different period, or except when the overissuance relates to MA. Refusal to repay will not cause denial of current or future MA if the client is otherwise eligible. BAM 710 (October 1, 2009), p 2. Clients are disqualified for periods of one year for the first IPV, two years for the second IPV, lifetime disqualification for the third IPV, and ten years for a concurrent receipt of benefits. BAM 720, p 13.

In this case, the Department satisfied its burden of showing that Respondent committed a first IPV of the FAP program by trafficking FAP benefits. Therefore, Respondent is subject to a one-year FAP disqualification.

Recoupment of Overissuance

When a client group receives more benefits than they are entitled to receive, the Department must attempt to recoup the OI. BAM 700 (December 1, 2011), p 1.

The OI amount for trafficking-related IPVs is the v alue of the trafficked benefits as determined by a court decision, the individual's admission, or documentation used to establish the trafficking determination. BA M 720, p 7. The documentation used to establish Respondent's trafficking in this case was Respondent's FAP transaction history at This document shows $536.49 in FAP transactions by Respondent at between October 1, 2011 and F ebruary 29, 2012. Thus, the Department is entitled to recoup $536.49.
