CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

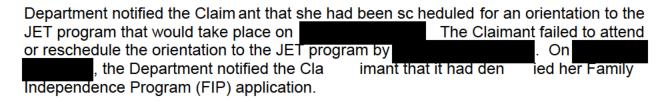

The Family Independence Program (FIP) was established pursuant to the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconc iliation Act of 1996, Public Law 104-193, 8 USC 601, et seq. The Department of Human Services (DHS or Department) administers the FIP program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3101-3131. The FIP program replaced the Ai d to Dependent Children (ADC) program effective October 1, 1996. De partment policies are found in the Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Elig ibility Manual (BEM), Refe rence Table Manual (RF T), and the Bridges Reference Manual (BRM).

Department policy states that clients must be made aware that public as sistance is limited to 48 months to meet their family's needs and that they must take personal responsibility to achieve self-sufficiency. This message, along with information on ways to achieve independence, direct support services, non-compliance penalties, and good cause reasons, is initially shared by DHS when the client applies for cash assistance. Jobs, Education and Training (JET) program requirements, education and training opportunities, and as sessments will be covered by the JET case manager when a mandatory JET participant is referred at application. Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) 229 (December 1, 2011).

Federal and State laws require each work eligib le individual (WEI) in the FIP and RAP group to participate in the Jobs, Educati on and T raining (JET) Program or other employment-related activities unless temporar ily deferred or engaged in activities that meet participation requirements. These c lients must participate in employment and/or self-sufficiency-related activities to incr ease their employabilit y and obtain stab le employment. JET is a program administer ed by the Michigan Department of Labor and Economic Growth (D LEG) through the Mi chigan Works Agencies (MWAs). The JET program serves employers and job seekers for employers to have skille d workers and job seekers to obtain jobs that provide economic self-sufficiency. A WEI who refuses, without good cause, to participate in as signed employment and/or self-sufficiency-related activities is subject to penalties. Department of Human Services Bridge s Eligibility Manual (BEM) 230A (December 1, 2011).

The Claimant applied for Family Independence Progr am (FIP) benefits on and the Department had referred her the Jobs, Education, and Training (JET) program as a condition of receiving benefits. On the

The Claimant's represent ative did not dispute that the Claimant failed to attend the orientation to the JET program, but argued that there was good cause for this noncompliance. The Claimant's representative testified that the side effects of the Claimant's required medication are a barrier to her participation in the JET program that are beyond her control.

Good cause is a v alid reas on for noncom pliance with employment and/or self-sufficiency-related activities that are based on factors that are beyond the control of the noncompliant person. A cl aim of good cause must be verified and documented for member adds and recipients. B EM 233A. In this case, the Claimant's representative failed to present sufficient evidence to establish good cause for the Claimant's noncompliance.

The Department provided the CI aimant with forms that if completed and returned may have established a need to defer the Claimant from partici pation in the JET program. These forms were not returned to the Department in a timely manner. These forms may have also establishhed good cause for the Claimant's noncompliance with the JET program on Non-compliance with employment or self-sufficiency activities may result in denial of benefits. Non-compliance of applicants includes failing or refusing to a ppear and participate with the JET program. Non-compliance while an application for FIP benefits is pending results in group ineligibility. BEM 233A.

The Dep artment will not approve a FIP applie ation where the Claimant is not fully participating in the JET program. The Department does not conduct a triage meeting while the Claimant's application is pending.

The Claim ant's representative testified that she was un able to obtain medica I documentation to establish a deferral from the JET program, or good cause for failing to participate in the JET program, because of delays getting the documentation completed by the Claimant's treating physician.

However, since neither the information necessary for the Department to grant a deferral from the JET program, nor evidence necessary for the Department to find good cause were provided, the Claimant remained ineligible to receive FIP benefits until she complied with the program.

The Department has established that it properly denied the Claimant's FIP application for noncompliance with the JE T program while her application was pending, and the Claimant failed to establish that she had good cause for her noncompliance.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusion sof law, decides that the Department acted in accordance with policy when it denied the Claimant's application for Family Independence Program (FIP) benefits.

The Department's FIP eligibility determination is AFFIRMED. It is SO ORDERED.
