2. The OIG has has not requested that Respondent be disqualified from receiving program benefits.
3. Respondent was a recipient of FIP FAP SDA CDC MA benefits during the period of August, 2011, through March, 2012.
4. Respondent was was not aware of the responsibility to report changes in status that could affect benefit eligibility and benefit levels.
5. Respondent had no apparent physical or mental impairment that would limit her understanding or ability to fulfill this requirement.
6. The Department's OIG indicates that the time period they are considering the fraud period is August, 2011-March, 2012.
7. During the alleged fraud period, Respondent was issued $1,844.85 in FIP FAP SDA CDC MA benefits from the State of Michigan.
8. Respondent was entitled to $1,844.55 in FIP FAP SDA CDC MA during this time period.
9. Respondent did did not receive an OI in the amount of $1,844.55 under the FIP FAP SDA CDC MA program.
10. The Department has has not established that Respondent committed an IPV.
11. This was Respondent's first second third IPV.
12. A notice of hearing was mailed to Respondent at the last known address and was was not returned by the US Post Office as undeliverable.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and the Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) [formerly known as the Food Stamp (FS) program] is established by the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended, and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and 1999 AC, Rule 400.3001 through Rule 400.3015.

When a client group receives more benefits than they are entitled to receive, the Department must attempt to recoup the overissuance (OI). Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM) 700 (2013).

Suspected IPV means an OI exists for which all three of the following conditions exist:

- The client intentionally failed to report information or intentionally gave incomplete or inaccurate information needed to make a correct benefit determination, and
- The client was clearly and correctly instructed regarding his or her reporting responsibilities, and
- The client has no apparent physical or mental impairment that limits his or her understanding or ability to fulfill their reporting responsibilities.

IPV is suspected when there is clear and convincing evidence that the client has intentionally withheld or misrepresented information for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, increasing or preventing reduction of program benefits or eligibility. Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM) 720 (2013).

The Department's OIG requests IPV hearings for cases when:

- benefit overissuances are not forwarded to the prosecutor,
- prosecution of welfare fraud is declined by the prosecutor for a reason other than lack of evidence, and
- the total overissuance amount is $1000 or more, or
- the total overissuance amount is less than $1000, and
 - the group has a previous intentional program violation, or
 - the alleged IPV involves FAP trafficking, or

- the alleged fraud involves concurrent receipt of assistance, or
- the alleged fraud is committed by a state/government employee.

A court or hearing decision that finds a client committed an IPV disqualifies that client from receiving certain program benefits. A disqualified recipient remains a member of an active group as long as he lives with them. Other eligible group members may continue to receive benefits. Id.

Clients who commit an IPV are disqualified for a standard disqualification period except when a court orders a different period, or except when the OI relates to MA. Refusal to repay will not cause denial of current or future MA if the client is otherwise eligible. Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM) 710 (2009). Clients are disqualified for periods of one year for the first IPV, two years for the second IPV, lifetime disqualification for the third IPV, and ten years for a concurrent receipt of benefits. BAM 720.

Additionally, the following findings of fact and conclusions of law are entered in this case. The first element of IPV requires the Department to prove by clear and convincing evidence that the Respondent intentionally failed to report information or gave incomplete or inaccurate information to the Department for the purpose of receiving benefits to which she was not entitled.

The Department's evidence in this case consists of benefits records and store sales records. There is nothing in the Department's evidence to indicate that Respondent failed to give information or intentionally gave incomplete or inaccurate information to the Department. This element is usually established by application forms showing that Respondent was informed of her obligations and responsibilities regarding reporting information. However, in this case the Department failed to produce an application or other document that shows Respondent's intent.

Accordingly, having considered all of the evidence in this case as a whole, it is found and determined that the Department has failed to establish that an Intentional Program Violation occurred in this case. The Department's request for a finding of IPV in the FAP program is DENIED.

Next, it must be considered whether an overissuance of benefits occurred. If so, the Department must seek recoupment. Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM) 700 (2013).

The Department's evidence consists of purchase reports which show the total amounts of purchases made by Respondent on each occasion that she purchased food. However, the Department has submitted nothing to show that she was not entitled to these benefits. The fact that she used her benefits to purchase goods at a particular store does not support a conclusion that the Department issued her the wrong amount of benefits. This would not be a logical conclusion to draw from the evidence of record.

Accordingly, having considered all of the evidence in this case as a whole, it is found and determined that the Department has failed to establish that an overissuance of FAP benefits occurred in this case. The Department's request for a finding of overissuance is DENIED.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, concludes that:

1. Respondent did did not commit an IPV.
 2. Respondent did did not receive an OI of program benefits in the amount of $1,844.85 from the following program(s) FIP FAP SDA CDC MA.
- The Department is ORDERED to delete the OI and cease any recoupment action.
