CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The State Disability Assistance ("SDA") program, which provides financial assistance for disabled persons, was established by 2004 PA 344. DHS administers the SDA program purusant to MCL 400.10 et seq. and Michigan Administrative Code ("MAC R") 400.3151 – 400.3180. Department policies are f ound in BAM, BEM, and BRM. A person i s considered disabled for SDA purposes if the person has a ph ysical or menta I impariment which m eets federal SSI dis ability standards for at least ninety days. Receipt of SSI or RSDI benefit s based on disability or blindness, or the receipt of MA benefits based on disability or blindness automatically qualifies an individual as disabled for purposes of the SDA program.

Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental im pairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expect ed to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905(a). The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to esta blish it through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinica l/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescri bed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical r ability to reason a nd make assessment of ability to do work-relate activities o appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CRF 413.913. An individual's subjective pain com plaints ar e not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disab ility. 20 CF R 416.908; 2 0 CFR 4 16.929(a). Similarly, conclusor y statements by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind, absent supporting medical evidence, is insufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.927.

When determining disability, t he federal regulations require several factors to be considered including: (1) the location/duration/frequency/intensity of an applicant's pain; (2) the type/dosage/effectiveness/side effects of any medication the applic ants takes to relieve pain; (3) any treatment other t han pain medication that the applicant has received to relieve pain; and (4) the effect of the applicant's pain on his or her ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3). The applicant's pain must be assessed to determi ne the ext ent of his or her functi onal limitation(s) in light of the objective medical evidence presented. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(2).

Once an individual has been found disabled for purposes of MA benefit s, continued entitlement is periodically reviewed in order to make a current determination or decision as to whether disability remains in acco rdance with the medical improvement review standard. 20 CFR 416.993(a); 20 CFR 416.994. In evaluating a claim for ongoing MA benefits, federal regulations require a sequential evaluation process be utilized. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5). The review may cease and benefits continued if sufficient evidence supports a finding that an indiv idual is st ill unable to engage in substantial gainful activity. Id. Prior to decid ing an individual's disability has end ed, the de partment will develop, along with the Claimant's cooperation, a complete medic al history covering a t ng the date the individual signed a request seeking least the 12 months precedi continuing disability benef its. 20 CF R 416.993(b). The department may order a consultative examination to determine whether or not the disability continues. 20 CFR 416.993(c).

The first step in the analysis in determining w hether an individual's disability has ended requires the trier of fact to consider the severity of the impairment(s) and whether it meets or equals a listed impairment in Appendix 1 of subpart P of part 404 of Chapter 20. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(i). If a Li sting is met, an individual's disability is found to continue with no further analysis required.

If the impairment(s) does not meet or equal a Listing, then Step 2 requires a determination of whet her there has been m edical improvement as defined in 20 CF R 416.994(b)(1); 20 CFR 416.994(b) ((5)(ii). Medical improvement is defined as any decrease in the medical severity of the impa irment(s) which was present at the time of the most favorable medical dec ision that the individual was disabled or continues to be disabled. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(i). If no medical improvement found, and no exception applies (see listed exceptions below), then an individual's disability is found to continue. Conversely, if medical improvement is found, Step 3 calls for a determination of whether there has been an increase in the residual functional capacity ("RFC") based on the impairment(s) that were pr esent at the time of t he most favorable medical determination. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(iii).

If medical improvement is not related to t he ability to work, Step 4 evalua tes whether any listed exception applies. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(i v). If no exception is applicable. disability is found to continue. If the medical improvement ld. is related to an individual's ability to do work, then a det ermination of whether an individual's impairment(s) are severe is made. 20 CFR 416. 994(b)(5)(iii), (v). If severe, an assessment of an individual's residual functional capacity to perform past work is made. 20 CF R 416.994(b)(5)(vi). If an individual can perform past relevant work , disability does not continue. Id. Similarly, when evidence estab lishes that the impairment(s) do (does) not significantly limit an individual's physical or mental abilities to do basic work activities, continuing disability will not be found. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(v). Finally, if an individual is unable t o perform past relevant work, vocational factors such as the individual's age, educ ation, and past work ex perience are considered in determining whether despite the lim itations an individual is able t o perform other work. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(vii). Disability ends if an individual is able to perform other work. Id.

The first group of exc eptions (as mentioned above) to medical im provement (i.e., when disability c an be found to have ended e ven though medical improvement has not occurred) found in 20 CFR 416.994(b)(3) are as follows:

- Substantial evidence shows that the individual is the beneficiary of advances in medial or vocational therapy or technology (related to the ability to work;
- (ii) Substantial evidence shows that the individual has undergone vocational therapy related to the ability to work;
- Substantial evidence shows t hat based on new or improved diagnostic or evaluative techniques the impairment(s) is not as disabling as previous ly determined at the time of the most recent favorable decision;
- (iv) Substantia I evidence demonstrates that any prior disability decision was in error.

The second group of exceptions [20 CFR 416.994(b)(4)] to medical improvement are as follows:

- (i) A prior determination was fraudulently obtained;
- (ii) The individual failed to cooperated;
- (iii) The individual cannot be located;
- (iv) The prescribed treatment t hat was expected to restore the individual's ability to engage in subs tantial gainful activity was not followed.

If an exception from the second group listed above is applicable, a determination that the individual's disability has ended is made. 20 CF R 416.994(b)(5)(iv). The second group of exceptions to medica I improvement may be considered at any point in the process. Id.

As disc ussed above, the first step in t he sequential evaluation process to determine whether the Claimant's disability continues I ooks at the severity of the impairment(s) and whether it meets or equals a listed impairment in Appendix 1.

At the time of the Claimant 's initial approval, the Claim ant had diagnoses of kidney disease. The Claim ant was previous ly was found disabled. Claimant has chronic kidney disease and heart problems.

In this case, the Claimant's diagnosis has not changed. Claim ant's impairments meet or equal listing, 12.04. In light of the foregoing, a det ermination of whether the Claimant's condition has medically improved is necessary. As noted above, the Claimant was previously found disabled in comparing those medical records to the recent evidence (as detailed above), it is found that the Claimant's c ondition has not medically improved accordingly, the Claimant's disability is found to have continued at Step 2. 20 CF R 4 16.994(b)(1); 20 CF R 416.994(b)(5)(ii). The Department has failed to meet its burden proving that Claimant has had medical improvement that would warrant a finding that he is no longer disabled. The Department could not explain at hearing, in what way Claimant's health had improved.

In this case, the Claimant is found disabled for purposes of continued SDA entitlement. The Department failed to present adequat e proof that Claimant has had medical improvement.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon t he above findings of fact and conclusion s of law finds the Claimant disabled for purposes of continued SDA benefits.

Accordingly, it is ORDERED:

- 1. The Department's determination is REVERSED.
- 2. The Department shall in itiate review of the application for SDA to determine if a II other non-medical criteria are met and inform the Claimant of the determination.
- 3. The Depar tment shall supplement for any lost benefits (if any) that the Claimant was entitle d to receive if otherwise eligible and qualifie d in accordance with department policy.
- 4. The Department shall review the Claimant's continued eligibility in in accordance with department policy.
