MICHIGAN ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING SYSTEM
ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF:

██████████
██████████████████
██████████████████████████████

Reg No.: 2013-66280
Issue No.: 2009
Case No.: ██████████
Hearing Date: November 8, 2012
Oakland County DHS (02)

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Lynn M. Ferris

HEARING DECISION

This matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and MCL 400.37 upon the Claimant's request for a hearing. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held in Detroit, Michigan on November 8, 2012. The Claimant appeared and testified. The Claimant was represented by ██████████ the Claimant's Authorized Hearing Representative, who appeared on behalf of the Claimant. Participating on behalf of the Department of Human Services ("Department") was ██████████, ES.

During the hearing, the Claimant waived the time period for the issuance of this decision, in order to allow for the submission of additional medical records. The evidence was received, reviewed, and forwarded to the State Hearing Review Team ("SHRT") for consideration. On June 21, 2013, this office received the SHRT determination which found the Claimant not disabled. This matter is now before the undersigned for a final decision.

ISSUE

Whether the Department properly determined that the Claimant was not disabled for purposes of the Medical Assistance ("MA-P") benefit program?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. The Claimant submitted an application for public assistance seeking MA-P benefits, on April 23, 2012.

2. On May 11, 2012, the Medical Review Team (“MRT”) found the Claimant not disabled.
3. The Department notified the Claimant of the MRT determination on May 16, 2012.
4. On June 22, 2012, the Department received the Claimant’s timely written request for hearing.
5. On September 12, 2012 and June 21, 2013, the SHRT found the Claimant not disabled. (Exhibit 2)
6. The Claimant alleged mental disabling impairment(s) due to paranoid schizophrenia.
7. At the time of hearing, the Claimant was ■ years old with a ■ birth date; was 5’9” in height; and weighed approximately 145 pounds having recently lost 20 pounds due to lack of appetite.
8. The Claimant completed his education to the 12th grade, and with an employment history of working as a bagger/product stocker for a grocery chain, a parts delivery person for an auto parts store, and a restaurant bus boy, greeter and dishwasher.
9. The Claimant’s impairments have lasted, or are expected to last, continuously for a period of 12 months or longer.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance program is established by Subchapter XIX of Chapter 7 of The Public Health & Welfare Act, 42 USC 1397, and is administered by the Department of Human Services, formerly known as the Family Independence Agency, pursuant to MCL 400.10 et seq and MCL 400.105. Department policies are found in the Bridges Administrative Manual (“BAM”), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (“BEM”), and the Bridges Reference Tables (“RFT”).

Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905(a). The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish it through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescribed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related activities or ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CFR 416.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.908; 20 CFR 416.929(a). Similarly, conclusory statements by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind, absent supporting medical evidence, is insufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.927.

When determining disability, the federal regulations require several factors to be considered including: (1) the location/duration/frequency/intensity of an applicant's pain; (2) the type/dosage/effectiveness/side effects of any medication the applicant takes to relieve pain; (3) any treatment other than pain medication that the applicant has received to relieve pain; and (4) the effect of the applicant's pain on his or her ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3). The applicant's pain must be assessed to determine the extent of his or her functional limitation(s) in light of the objective medical evidence presented. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(2).

In order to determine whether or not an individual is disabled, federal regulations require a five-step sequential evaluation process be utilized. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(1). The five-step analysis requires the trier of fact to consider an individual's current work activity; the severity of the impairment(s) both in duration and whether it meets or equals a listed impairment in Appendix 1; residual functional capacity to determine whether an individual can perform past relevant work; and residual functional capacity along with vocational factors (i.e. age, education, and work experience) to determine if an individual can adjust to other work. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4); 20 CFR 416.945.

If an individual is found disabled, or not disabled, at any step, a determination or decision is made with no need evaluate subsequent steps. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If a determination cannot be made that an individual is disabled, or not disabled, at a particular step, the next step is required. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). If an impairment does not meet or equal a listed impairment, an individual's residual functional capacity is assessed before moving from step three to step four. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4); 20 CFR 416.945. Residual functional capacity is the most an individual can do despite the limitations based on all relevant evidence. 20 CFR 416.945(a)(1). An individual's residual functional capacity assessment is evaluated at both steps four and five. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4). In determining disability, an individual's functional capacity to perform basic work activities is evaluated and if found that the individual has the ability to perform basic work activities without significant limitation, disability will not be found. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(iv). In general, the individual has the responsibility to prove disability. 20 CFR 416.912(a). An impairment or combination of impairments is not severe if it does not significantly limit an individual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.921(a). The individual has the responsibility to provide evidence of prior work experience; efforts to work; and any other factor showing how the impairment affects the ability to work. 20 CFR 416.912(c)(3)(5)(6).

In addition to the above, when evaluating mental impairments, a special technique is utilized. 20 CFR 416.920a(a) First, an individual's pertinent symptoms, signs, and laboratory findings are evaluated to determine whether a medically determinable mental impairment exists. 20 CFR 416.920a(b)(1) When a medically determinable mental impairment is established, the symptoms, signs and laboratory findings that substantiate the impairment are documented to include the individual's significant history, laboratory findings, and functional limitations. 20 CFR 416.920a (e) (2) Functional limitation(s) is assessed based upon the extent to which the impairment(s) interferes with an individual's ability to function independently, appropriately, effectively, and on a sustained basis. Id.; 20 CFR 416.920a(c) (2) Chronic mental disorders, structured settings, medication, and other treatment and the effect on the overall degree of functionality is considered. 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(1) In addition, four broad functional areas (activities of daily living; social functioning; concentration, persistence or pace; and episodes of decompensation) are considered when determining an individual's degree of functional limitation. 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(3) The degree of limitation for the first three functional areas is rated by a five point scale: none, mild, moderate, marked, and extreme. 20 CFR 416.920a(c)(4) A four point scale (none, one or two, three, four or more) is used to rate the degree of limitation in the fourth functional area. Id. The last point on each scale represents a degree of limitation that is incompatible with the ability to do any gainful activity. Id.

After the degree of functional limitation is determined, the severity of the mental impairment is determined. 20 CFR 416.920a(d) If severe, a determination of whether the impairment meets or is the equivalent of a listed mental disorder is made. 20 CFR 416.920a(d)(2) If the severe mental impairment does not meet (or equal) a listed impairment, an individual's residual functional capacity is assessed. 20 CFR 416.920a(d)(3)

As outlined above, the first step looks at the individual's current work activity. In the record presented, the Claimant is not involved in substantial gainful activity and, therefore, is not ineligible for disability benefits under Step 1.

The severity of the Claimant's alleged impairment(s) is considered under Step 2. The Claimant bears the burden to present sufficient objective medical evidence to substantiate the alleged disabling impairments. In order to be considered disabled for MA purposes, the impairment must be severe. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 416.920(b). An impairment, or combination of impairments, is severe if it significantly limits an individual's physical or mental ability to do basic work activities regardless of age, education and work experience. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4)(ii); 20 CFR 416.920(c).

Basic work activities means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. 20 CFR 416.921(b). Examples include:

1. Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling;
2. Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
3. Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;
4. Use of judgment;
5. Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
6. Dealing with changes in a routine work setting.

Id.

The second step allows for dismissal of a disability claim obviously lacking in medical merit. Higgs v Bowen, 880 F2d 860, 862 (CA 6, 1988). The severity requirement may still be employed as an administrative convenience to screen out claims that are totally groundless solely from a medical standpoint. Id. at 863 citing Farris v Sec of Health and Human Services, 773 F2d 85, 90 n.1 (CA 6, 1985). An impairment qualifies as non-severe only if, regardless of a claimant's age, education, or work experience, the impairment would not affect the claimant's ability to work. Salmi v Sec of Health and Human Services, 774 F2d 685, 692 (CA 6, 1985).

In the present case, the Claimant alleges disability due to alleged mental impairments due to paranoid schizophrenia.

A summary of the medical evidence presented follows.

The Psychiatric Evaluation by the Claimant's treating psychiatrist was conducted on [REDACTED]. The examination report noted that Claimant was thin but adequately nourished and appearing stated age with difficulty asserting himself. Attends sessions in timely fashion and accompanied by his guardian. The history notes indicate long history of auditory hallucinations, often command in nature. The mental status exam indicated Claimant was moderately anxious, full range of emotional reactions, seeks reassurance, somewhat restless but cooperative, thought process is somewhat idiosyncratic, speech fluent, goal directed, mildly pressured speech, without evidence of hallucinations or delusions. Intact memory and insight. The exam noted that the Claimant had few personal interactions. The diagnosis was schizophrenia, paranoid type, with a GAF score of 53 down from previous evaluation of 60. Treatment began in [REDACTED]

A mental residual functional capacity assessment was also performed and found the Claimant markedly limited in Understanding and Memory in his ability to remember locations and work-like procedures, and understand and remember detailed instructions. The Claimant was markedly limited in Sustained Concentration and Persistence in his ability to carry out detailed instructions, maintain attention and concentration for extended periods, ability to perform activities with a schedule, maintain regular attendance and be punctual within customary tolerances, ability to complete a normal workday and worksheet without interruptions from psychologically based symptoms and to perform at a consistent pace without unreasonable number and length of rest periods. He was moderately limited in ability to work in coordination with or proximity to others without being distracted by them and to make simple work-related decisions. As regards Social Interaction the Claimant was markedly limited in his ability to interact appropriately with the general public, accept instructions and respond appropriately and to get along with co-workers or peers without distracting them or exhibiting behavioral extremes. The Claimant was not significantly limited in socially appropriate behavior and to adhere to basic standards of neatness and cleanliness. The Claimant was moderately limited in his ability to respond appropriately to change in work setting and travel in unfamiliar places and use public transportation and ability to set realistic goals and make plans independently.

An earlier Psychiatric Examination Report dated [REDACTED] completed a few months after treatment began, noted that the diagnosis was Schizophrenia, paranoid type and GAF was 57 down from 60. The mental status exam noted that the Client was upset due to losing his job and his speech was anguished, and notes that patient hears voices and has delusions and depressed mood. The Mental Residual Functional Capacity Examination finds the Claimant Moderately limited in 10 categories and not significantly limited in 10 categories.

Treatment records were not released by the treating organization although requested by the Department.

As previously noted, the Claimant bears the burden to present sufficient objective medical evidence to substantiate the alleged disabling impairment(s). As summarized above, the Claimant has presented some medical evidence establishing that he does have some physical limitations on his ability to perform basic work activities. The medical evidence has established that the Claimant has an impairment, or combination thereof, that has more than a de minimis effect on the Claimant's basic work activities. Further, the impairments have lasted continuously for twelve months; therefore, the Claimant is not disqualified from receipt of MA-P benefits under Step 2.

In the third step of the sequential analysis of a disability claim, the trier of fact must determine if the Claimant's impairment, or combination of impairments, is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. The evidence confirms treatment/diagnoses of schizophrenia paranoid type. Accordingly, listing 12.03 was reviewed and considered. Listing 12.03 provides:

12.03 *Schizophrenic, paranoid and other psychotic disorders: Characterized by the onset of psychotic features with deterioration from a previous level of functioning.

The required level of severity for these disorders is met when the requirements in both A and B are satisfied, or when the requirements in C are satisfied.

A. Medically documented persistence, either continuous or intermittent, of one or more of the following:

1. Delusions or hallucinations; or
2. Catatonic or other grossly disorganized behavior; or
3. Incoherence, loosening of associations, illogical thinking, or poverty of content of speech if associated with one of the following:
  - a. Blunt affect; or
  - b. Flat affect; or
  - c. Inappropriate affect;

OR

4. Emotional withdrawal and/or isolation;

AND

B. Resulting in at least two of the following:

1. Marked restriction of activities of daily living; or
2. Marked difficulties in maintaining social functioning; or

3. Marked difficulties in maintaining concentration, persistence, or pace; or
4. Repeated episodes of decompensation, each of extended duration;

OR

C. Medically documented history of a chronic schizophrenic, paranoid, or other psychotic disorder of at least 2 years' duration that has caused more than a minimal limitation of ability to do basic work activities, with symptoms or signs currently attenuated by medication or psychosocial support, and one of the following:

1. Repeated episodes of decompensation, each of extended duration; or
2. A residual disease process that has resulted in such marginal adjustment that even a minimal increase in mental demands or change in the environment would be predicted to cause the individual to decompensate; or
3. Current history of 1 or more years' inability to function outside a highly supportive living arrangement, with an indication of continued need for such an arrangement.

The medical records presented show ongoing treatment and a condition onset since [REDACTED] a fact also confirmed by Claimant's witness, a family member appointed with power of attorney to assist the Claimant who has known the Claimant for many years. The Claimant has been medication compliant during the period. The last evaluation by a treating psychiatrist found after evaluation significant marked limitations in Understanding and Memory, Sustained Concentration and Persistence, Social Interaction and Adaption set forth in detail above. The areas of moderate limitation which indicates that the Claimant's capacity to perform the activity is impaired were considered and were significant. At the hearing the Claimant credibly testified to crying spells, and even with medications hears voices on average at least one time a day. Claimant's appetite is not good, he has lost 20 pounds in the last six months. The medical records and the mental residual capacity assessment document problems with sleeping, difficulty concentrating or thinking, difficulties maintaining concentration persistence and pace and lastly social functioning. Thus it is determined that the Claimant has demonstrated that his medical impairment meets or is the medical equivalent of listing 12.03.A 1 and B, 1-3.

As a result, the medical records and testimony demonstrate clearly that the Claimant has marked restrictions in daily living and social functioning and adaptation and concentration, persistence and pace and has a GAF score of 50 which has continued to decrease since the inception and during treatment. Deference was also accorded to the medical opinion of the Claimant's treating psychiatrist. The evaluations of the treating physician and the medical conclusion of a "treating " physician is "controlling" if it is well-supported by medically acceptable clinical and laboratory diagnostic techniques and is not inconsistent with the other substantial evidence in the case record under 20 CFR§ 404.1527(d)(2),

Ultimately, based on the medical evidence, the Claimant's impairment(s) meets, or is the medical equivalent of, a listed impairment within 12.00, specifically 12.03. Accordingly, the Claimant is found disabled at Step 3 with no further analysis required.

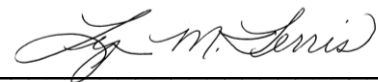

In this case, the Claimant is found disabled for purposes of the MA-P program.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above findings of fact and conclusions of law finds the Claimant is disabled for purposes of the MA-P benefit program. Accordingly the Department's Decision is hereby REVERSED.

Accordingly, It is ORDERED:

1. The Department's shall begin processing the Claimant's April 23, 2012 application to determine Claimant's non- medical eligibility.
2. The Department shall complete a review of this case shall be set for July 2014.
