CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are found in the Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) and the Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

The Family Independence Program (FIP) was established pursuant to the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, Public Law 104-193, 42 USC 601, et seq. The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FIP pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and 1997 AACS R 400.3101-3131. FIP replaced the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) program effective October 1, 1996.

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) [formerly known as the Food Stamp (FS) program] is established by the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended, and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and 1997 AACS R 400.3001-3015

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by the Title XIX of the Social Security Act and is implemented by Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MCL 400.105.

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program which provides financial assistance for disabled persons is established by 2004 PA 344. The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and 1998-2000 AACS R 400.3151-400.3180.

The Child Development and Care (CDC) program is established by Titles IVA, IVE and XX of the Social Security Act, the Child Care and Development Block Grant of 1990, and the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996. The program is implemented by Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Parts 98 and 99. The Department provides services to adults and children pursuant to MCL 400.14(1) and 1997 AACS R 400.5001-5015.

The Department argued that claimant had submitted insufficient pay stubs to determine eligibility.

Claimant argued that he submitted every pay stub that the Department had asked for.

BAM 130 provides insight in these situations:

If neither the client nor you can obtain verification despite a reasonable effort, use the best available information. If no evidence is available, use your best judgment. BAM 130, p. 3 (2012).

There is no evidence that Claimant did not make a reasonable effort to return the pay stubs in question; Claimant testified that he had contacted the Department to find out why his case had closed due to genuine confusion. The Department did not rebut this testimony. The undersigned does not find credible the argument that Claimant purposely returned only half of the needed verifications, and then contacted the Department to question why his case had closed. The more likely scenario is that Claimant sent the Department what he assumed were the verifications needed; also likely is that Claimant did submit full verifications and some of the verifications were misplaced during routine paperwork handling.

Therefore, as Claimant used a reasonable effort to obtain verification and return the paystubs he believed were appropriate, and sent the Department in good faith what were thought to be sufficient verifications, the Department, if it felt the verification in question insufficient, should have, at the very least, contacted Claimant to alert her that the verification was insufficient.

Thus, as the Department did not notify Claimant that verifications Claimant submitted were incomplete; and as Claimant used a reasonable effort when providing the Department with requested information, the Department was in error when closing Claimant's case for failing to return the verifications in question and by not alerting Claimant to the mistake.

Based upon the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, the Administrative Law Judge concludes that the Department properly improperly closed Claimant's case.

denied Claimant's application.

reduced Claimant's benefits.
