ISSUE

Did the Department properly deny Claimant's Family Independence Program (FIP) application based on noncompliance with child support reporting obligations?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. Claimant was an ongoing recipient of FIP benefits.
2. On July 16, 2013, the Department sent Claimant a Notice of Case Action notifying her that her FIP case would close effective August 1, 2013, because of her noncompliance with child support reporting obligations.
3. Claimant reapplied for FIP benefits on August 7, 2013.

4. On September 20, 2013, the Department sent Claimant a Notice of Case Action notifying her that her application was denied because of her noncompliance with child support reporting obligations.
5. On November 18, 2013, Claimant filed a request for hearing disputing the Department's actions concerning her FIP benefits.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), Department of Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT), and Department of Human Services Emergency Relief Manual (ERM).

The Family Independence Program (FIP) was established pursuant to the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, PL 104-193, and 42 USC 601 to 679c. The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FIP pursuant to MCL 400.10 and 400.57a and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3101 to .3131.

Additionally, Claimant filed a request for hearing concerning her FIP case on November 18, 2013. Because Claimant's request for hearing was filed more than 90 days after the July 16, 2013, Notice of Case Action notifying her of the closure of her FIP case due to child support noncooperation, her hearing request concerning that action was not timely filed. See BAM 600 (July 2013), p. 5. However, Claimant's request for hearing was timely with respect to the September 20, 2013, Notice of Case Action denying her August 8, 2013, FIP application. Therefore, the Department's action denying the application is reviewed in this Hearing Decision.

The Department denied Claimant's application because it concluded that she was noncompliant with her child support reporting obligations.

Department policy requires the custodial parent of children to comply with all requests for action or information needed to establish paternity and/or obtain child support on behalf of children for whom they receive assistance, unless a claim of good cause for not cooperating has been granted or is pending. BEM 255 (July 2014), p. 1. At application, the Department must inform the client to contact OCS in a verification checklist (VCL) and give the client 10 days to cooperate with OCS. BEM 255, p. 12. If the client fails to cooperate on or before the VCL due date and there is no good cause pending or granted, the client is subject to a FIP disqualification. BEM 255, p. 12. A FIP disqualification results in group ineligibility for a minimum of one month. BBEM 255, p. 13.

In this case, the evidence at the hearing established that the child support noncooperation was due to Claimant's failure to provide OCS information concerning the paternity of her three minor children and her minor daughter's failure to provide OCS information concerning the paternity of her child (Claimant's grandchild). Evidence at the hearing showed that OCS had found Claimant compliant with her child support reporting obligations as of November 18, 2013, and her daughter was compliant with her child support reporting obligations as of December 11, 2013.

OCS participated in the hearing and during the course of the hearing testified that its files indicated that Claimant had contacted the Department on July 22, 2013, concerning paternity of her three children. Although Claimant had not responded to OCS's return call, in reviewing the records, the OCS specialist participating in the hearing noted that OCS had on file affidavits of paternity identifying the legal father of the three children at issue and could have proceeded with its child support action without interviewing Claimant. Because OCS had the paternity information it had requested from Claimant, Claimant was cooperative with child support as of July 22, 2013, when she made initial contact with OCS. Therefore, the Department did not act in accordance with Department policy when it denied Claimant's August 7, 2013, FIP application due to her noncompliance.

The evidence at the hearing also addressed Claimant's daughter's child support noncompliance. Claimant's mother testified that, although OCS had found her grandchild compliant on December 11, 2013, she had first called OCS in July 2013 and left a message with the assigned OCS worker providing the same paternity information she later provided a second time to OCS in December 2013. The OCS specialist at the hearing testified that, prior to October 1, 2013, clients were required to leave messages with an assigned OCS agent, and she had no access to the agent's phone records to determine whether a message had been left concerning paternity of Claimant's grandchild. In the absence of any testimony disputing Claimant's mother's testimony that requested information concerning Claimant's grandchild's paternity was provided to OCS in July 2013, Claimant's daughter was compliant with her child support reporting obligations as of July 2013. See BEM 255, p. 9.

Because both Claimant and her daughter were compliant with their respective child support reporting obligations as of July 2013, the Administrative Law Judge, based on the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, finds that the Department did not act in accordance with Department policy when it denied Claimant's August 7, 2013, FIP application.
