MICHIGAN ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING SYSTEM
ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF:

[REDACTED]

Reg. No.: 2014-21146
Issue No.: 2009
Case No.: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date: April 2, 2014
County: Wayne (17)

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Christian Gardocki

HEARING DECISION

Following Claimant's request for a hearing, this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and 400.37; 7 CFR 273.15 to 273.18; 42 CFR 431.200 to 431.250; 45 CFR 99.1 to 99.33; and 45 CFR 205.10. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on April 2, 2014, from Detroit, Michigan. Participants included the above-named Claimant. [REDACTED] testified and appeared as Claimant's authorized hearing representative. Participants on behalf of the Department of Human Services (DHS) included [REDACTED], Specialist.

ISSUE

The issue is whether DHS properly denied Claimant's application for Medical Assistance (MA) for the reason that Claimant is not a disabled individual.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. On [REDACTED], Claimant applied for MA benefits.
2. Claimant's only basis for MA benefits was as a disabled individual.
3. On [REDACTED], the Medical Review Team (MRT) determined that Claimant was not a disabled individual (see Exhibits 8-9).

4. On [REDACTED], DHS denied Claimant's application for MA benefits and mailed a Notice of Case Action (Exhibits 6-7) informing Claimant of the denial.
5. On [REDACTED] Claimant's AHR requested a hearing disputing the denial of MA benefits.
6. On [REDACTED] SHRT determined that Claimant was not a disabled individual, in part, based on a Disability Determination Explanation from Social Security Administration.
7. As of the date of the administrative hearing, Claimant was a 43-year-old male with a height of 5'10" and weight of 220-230 pounds.
8. Claimant has no known relevant history of alcohol or illegal substance abuse.
9. Claimant's highest education year completed was the 12th grade.
10. As of the date of the administrative hearing, Claimant had no medical health insurance.
11. Claimant alleged disability based on impairments and issues including asthma, diabetes mellitus, toe amputation complications, and sleep apnea.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by the Title XIX of the Social Security Act, 42 USC 1396-1396w-5, and is implemented by 42 CFR 400.200 to 1008.59. The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10 and MCL 400.105. Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM) and Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) and Department of Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

Prior to a substantive analysis of Claimant's hearing request, it should be noted that Claimant's AHR noted special arrangements in order to participate in the hearing. Claimant testified that he misunderstood the question and that he has no special arrangement requirements.

The Medicaid program is comprised of several sub-programs which fall under one of two categories; one category is FIP-related and the second category is SSI-related. BEM 105 (10/2010), p. 1. To receive MA under an SSI-related category, the person must be aged (65 or older), blind, disabled, entitled to Medicare or formerly blind or disabled. Id. Families with dependent children, caretaker relatives of dependent children, persons under age 21 and pregnant, or recently pregnant, women receive MA under FIP-related categories. Id. AMP is an MA program available to persons not eligible for Medicaid through the SSI-related or FIP-related categories though DHS does always offer the program to applicants. It was not disputed that Claimant's only potential category for Medicaid eligibility would be as a disabled individual.

Disability for purposes of MA benefits is established if one of the following circumstances applies:

- by death (for the month of death);
- the applicant receives Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits;
- SSI benefits were recently terminated due to financial factors;
- the applicant receives Retirement Survivors and Disability Insurance (RSDI) on the basis of being disabled; or
- RSDI eligibility is established following denial of the MA benefit application (under certain circumstances).

BEM 260 (7/2012) pp. 1-2

There was no evidence that any of the above circumstances apply to Claimant. Accordingly, Claimant may not be considered for Medicaid eligibility without undergoing a medical review process which determines whether Claimant is a disabled individual. Id. at 2.

Generally, state agencies such as DHS must use the same definition of SSI disability as found in the federal regulations. 42 CFR 435.540(a). Disability is federally defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity (SGA) by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905. A functionally identical definition of disability is found under DHS regulations. BEM 260 (7/2012), p. 8.

Substantial gainful activity means a person does the following:

- Performs significant duties, and
- Does them for a reasonable length of time, and
- Does a job normally done for pay or profit. Id. at 9.

Significant duties are duties used to do a job or run a business. Id. They must also have a degree of economic value. Id. The ability to run a household or take care of oneself does not, on its own, constitute substantial gainful activity. Id.

The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish a disability through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescribed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related activities or ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CFR 413.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.908; 20 CFR 416.929(a).

Federal regulations describe a sequential five step process that is to be followed in determining whether a person is disabled. 20 CFR 416.920. If there is no finding of disability or lack of disability at each step, the process moves to the next step. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4).

The first step in the process considers a person's current work activity. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(i). A person who is earning more than a certain monthly amount is ordinarily considered to be engaging in SGA. The monthly amount depends on whether a person is statutorily blind or not. "Current" work activity is interpreted to include all time since the date of application. The 2013 monthly income limit considered SGA for non-blind individuals is $1,040.

Claimant credibly denied performing any employment since the date of the MA application; no evidence was submitted to contradict Claimant's testimony. Based on the presented evidence, it is found that Claimant is not performing SGA and has not performed SGA since the date of MA application. Accordingly, the disability analysis may proceed to step two.

The second step in the disability evaluation is to determine whether a severe medically determinable physical or mental impairment exists to meet the 12 month duration requirement. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(ii). The impairments may be combined to meet the severity requirement. If a severe impairment is not found, then a person is deemed not disabled. Id.

The impairments must significantly limit a person's basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(5)(c). "Basic work activities" refers to the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Id. Examples of basic work activities include:

- physical functions (e.g. walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling)
- capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking, understanding; carrying out, and remembering simple instructions
- use of judgment
- responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and/or
- dealing with changes in a routine work setting.

Generally, federal courts have imposed a de minimus standard upon claimants to establish the existence of a severe impairment. Grogan v. Barnhart, 399 F.3d 1257, 1263 (10th Cir. 2005); Hinkle v. Apfel, 132 F.3d 1349, 1352 (10th Cir. 1997). Higgs v Bowen, 880 F.2d 860, 862 (6th Cir. 1988). Similarly, Social Security Ruling 85-28 has been interpreted so that a claim may be denied at step two for lack of a severe impairment only when the medical evidence establishes a slight abnormality or combination of slight abnormalities that would have no more than a minimal effect on an individual's ability to work even if the individual's age, education, or work experience were specifically considered. Barrientos v. Secretary of Health and Human Servs., 820 F.2d 1, 2 (1st Cir. 1987). Social Security Ruling 85-28 has been clarified so that the step two severity requirement is intended “to do no more than screen out groundless claims.” McDonald v. Secretary of Health and Human Servs., 795 F.2d 1118, 1124 (1st Cir. 1986).

SSA specifically notes that age, education, and work experience are not considered at the second step of the disability analysis. 20 CFR 416.920 (5)(c). In determining whether Claimant’s impairments amount to a severe impairment, all other relevant evidence may be considered. The analysis will begin with background information from Claimant’s testimony and documentation and a summary of the relevant submitted medical documentation.

Claimant went to the hospital in 7/2013 due to not feeling well. The hospital diagnosed Claimant with acute kidney failure related to DM. Claimant was treated and referred to a foot doctor for evaluation of great toe pain. Claimant attended the follow-up podiatrist appointment and it was discovered that Claimant’s toe was infected with gangrene. Claimant’s toe was amputated.

Claimant testified that he experiences ongoing foot and leg pain. Claimant testified that he feels that he is at 60%-70% of his previous functioning level. Claimant testified that he is unable to work until his condition improves. Claimant also testified that asthma and sleep apnea adversely affect his ability to work.

A Medical Examination Report (Exhibits 17-19) dated [REDACTED] from Claimant’s treating physician was presented. It was noted that Claimant was first examined on [REDACTED] thereby creating an approximate two-month history of treating Claimant. The physician provided diagnoses of diabetes with ulcer. An impression was given that Claimant’s condition was improving. It was noted that Claimant was unable to lift/carry any amount of weight. Claimant’s physician noted that Claimant was unable to perform any repetitive arm function. It was noted that it was possible that Claimant’s impairments would last longer than 90 days. It was noted that Claimant must be non-weight bearing and required the use of crutches. It was noted that Claimant required assistance with washing and cleaning.

An internal medicine examination report (Exhibits 22-29) dated [REDACTED] was presented. It was noted that Claimant does not use a cane or aid for ambulation; it was also noted elsewhere that Claimant used crutches for ambulation. It was noted that Claimant could transfer on and off the examination table without difficulty. It was noted that Claimant reported not having access to a CPAP machine; elsewhere, the examiner noted that Claimant was doing well with a CPAP machine. The examiner noted that acute kidney failure was resolved. The examiner noted that Claimant should continue medications for DM and asthma. The examiner opined that Claimant has restrictions due to a wound problem; presumably, the stated wound problem concerned Claimant’s toe amputation. Left ankle range of motion was noted as subnormal.

A Medical Examination Report (Exhibits 32-34) dated [REDACTED] from Claimant’s internal medicine physician was presented. The physician noted an approximate 15-month history of treating Claimant. The physician provided diagnoses of diabetes, osteomyelitis, asthma, left big toe amputation, HTN and obstructive sleep apnea. An impression was given that Claimant's condition was stable. Claimant's physician opined that Claimant could not lift any amount of weight. Claimant's physician noted that Claimant could stand at least 2 hours in an 8-hour workday. Sitting restrictions were not noted. It was noted that Claimant required assistance performing some activities of daily living.

A Disability Determination Explanation (Exhibits 36-44) dated [REDACTED] was presented. The DDE found Claimant to be partially credible, in part, based on deference to a consultative examination report dated [REDACTED].

Hospital Discharge Instructions (Exhibits 30-31) from an admission dated [REDACTED] were presented. A discharge diagnosis of asthma was noted. Noted home medications included albuterol. A follow-up appointment with a physician was noted. It was noted that Claimant was discharged on [REDACTED].

A consultative physician made a contradictory statement concerning Claimant's ability to walk without a walking assistance device. A second contradiction was made concerning sleep apnea and Claimant's access to a CPAP machine. Inexplicably, SSA gave significant weight to the physician's statements despite the inconsistencies. In turn, SHRT relied on the DDE. The SHRT decision and DDE are found to be unpersuasive and inaccurate based on their reliance on contradictory statements made by a consultative examiner.

It was established that Claimant has a history of uncontrolled DM resulting in toe amputation. Presented evidence established that Claimant still requires a crutch for ambulation. It is found that Claimant established significant impairments to performing basic work activities for a period of longer than 12 months. Accordingly, it is found that Claimant established having a severe impairment and the disability analysis may move to step three.

The third step of the sequential analysis requires a determination whether the Claimant's impairment, or combination of impairments, is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(iii). If Claimant's impairments are listed and deemed to meet the 12 month requirement, then the claimant is deemed disabled. If the impairment is unlisted, then the analysis proceeds to the next step.

A listing for amputation (Listing 1.05) was considered based on Claimant's toe amputation. The listing was summarily rejected because Claimant did not lose a hand, suffer stump complications or undergo hip-related complications.

A listing for sleep-related disorders (Listing 3.10) was considered based on a diagnosis of sleep apnea. The listing was summarily rejected due to a failure to verify any respiratory testing, arterial hypoxemia or mental restrictions.

It is found that Claimant failed to establish meeting a SSA listing. Accordingly, the analysis moves to step four.

The fourth step in analyzing a disability claim requires an assessment of the Claimant's residual functional capacity (RFC) and past relevant employment. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4)(iv). An individual is not disabled if it is determined that a claimant can perform past relevant work. Id.

Past relevant work is work that has been performed within the past 15 years that was a substantial gainful activity and that lasted long enough for the individual to learn the position. 20 CFR 416.960(b)(1). Vocational factors of age, education, and work experience, and whether the past relevant employment exists in significant numbers in the national economy is not considered. 20 CFR 416.960(b)(3). RFC is assessed based on impairment(s), and any related symptoms, such as pain, which may cause physical and mental limitations that affect what can be done in a work setting. RFC is the most that can be done, despite the limitations.

Claimant testified that he worked as a security guard for 19 years until losing his toe. Claimant testified that his job required significant walking which he is unable to perform until he is able to obtain further medical treatment for his toe. Claimant's testimony was credible and consistent with the presented evidence. It is found that Claimant is unable to perform past relevant employment and the analysis may proceed to step five.

In the fifth step in the process, the individual's RFC in conjunction with his or her age, education, and work experience, are considered to determine whether the individual can engage in any other substantial gainful work which exists in the national economy. SSR 83-10. While a vocational expert is not required, a finding supported by substantial evidence that the individual has the vocational qualifications to perform specific jobs is needed to meet the burden. O'Banner v Sec of Health and Human Services, 587 F2d 321, 323 (CA 6, 1978). Medical-Vocational guidelines found at 20 CFR Subpart P, Appendix II, may be used to satisfy the burden of proving that the individual can perform specific jobs in the national economy. Heckler v Campbell, 461 US 458, 467 (1983); Kirk v Secretary, 667 F2d 524, 529 (CA 6, 1981) cert den 461 US 957 (1983).

To determine the physical demands (i.e. exertional requirements) of work in the national economy, jobs are classified as sedentary, light, medium, heavy, and very heavy. 20 CFR 416.967. The definitions for each are listed below.

Sedentary work involves lifting of no more than 10 pounds at a time and occasionally lifting or carrying articles like docket files, ledgers, and small tools. 20 CFR 416.967(a). Although a sedentary job is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out job duties. Id. Jobs are sedentary if walking and standing are required occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met.

Light work involves lifting no more than 20 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying objects weighing up to 10 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(b) Even though weight lifted may be very little, a job is in this category when it requires a good deal of walking or standing, or when it involves sitting most of the time with some pushing and pulling of arm or leg controls. Id. To be considered capable of performing a full or wide range of light work, an individual must have the ability to do substantially all of these activities. Id. An individual capable of light work is also capable of sedentary work, unless there are additionally limiting factors such as loss of fine dexterity or inability to sit for long periods of time. Id.

Medium work involves lifting no more than 50 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 25 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(c). An individual capable of performing medium work is also capable of light and sedentary work. Id.

Heavy work involves lifting no more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 50 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(d). An individual capable of heavy work is also capable of medium, light, and sedentary work. Id.

Finally, very heavy work involves lifting objects weighing more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying objects weighing 50 pounds or more. 20 CFR 416.967(e). An individual capable of very heavy work is able to perform work under all categories. Id.

Limitations or restrictions which affect the ability to meet the demands of jobs other than strength demands are considered nonexertional. 20 CFR 416.969a(a). Examples of non-exertional limitations include difficulty functioning due to nervousness, anxiousness, or depression; difficulty maintaining attention or concentration; difficulty understanding or remembering detailed instructions; difficulty in seeing or hearing; difficulty tolerating some physical feature(s) of certain work settings (i.e. can't tolerate dust or fumes); or difficulty performing the manipulative or postural functions of some work such as reaching, handling, stooping, climbing, crawling, or crouching. 20 CFR 416.969a(c)(1)(i)-(vi) If the impairment(s) and related symptoms, such as pain, only affect the ability to perform the non-exertional aspects of work-related activities, the rules in Appendix 2 do not direct factual conclusions of disabled or not disabled. 20 CFR 416.969a(c)(2)

The determination of whether disability exists is based upon the principles in the appropriate sections of the regulations, giving consideration to the rules for specific case situations in Appendix 2. Id. In using the rules of Appendix 2, an individual's circumstances, as indicated by the findings with respect to RFC, age, education, and work experience, is compared to the pertinent rule(s).

Given Claimant's age, education and employment history a determination of disability is dependent on Claimant's ability to perform sedentary employment. For sedentary employment, periods of standing or walking should generally total no more than about 2 hours of an 8-hour workday. Social Security Rule 83-10.

The evidence tended to establish that Claimant has walking and ambulation restrictions due to a toe amputation. The evidence also established that Claimant has some degree of respiratory restrictions related to sleep apnea and asthma. Claimant's doctor also noted that Claimant was unable to perform repetitive arm motions, though no particular cause was given.

All of Claimant's conditions are likely to improve, though all require medical treatment. Unfortunately for Claimant, he does not have access to health insurance so that proper treatment can be acquired.

Claimant credibly stated that he needs physical therapy. This is consistent with Claimant's reliance of a crutch 8 months after a toe amputation. Claimant testified that he needs a CPAP machine and asthma medication. Claimant's testimony was given significant weight, in part, due to its consistency with presented records. Some weight was also given to Claimant's strong work history.

Based on the presented evidence, it is found that Claimant is currently unable to perform any type of employment due to ambulation, lifting, respiratory and joint restrictions. Accordingly, Claimant is a disabled individual and it is found that DHS improperly denied Claimant's MA application. As Claimant's condition is expected to improve once Claimant has access to medical treatment, a redetermination date will be scheduled in 6 months from the date of this decision, rather than the typical 12 months.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law finds that DHS improperly denied Claimant's application for MA benefits. It is ordered that DHS:

- (1) reinstate Claimant's MA benefit application dated [REDACTED];
- (2) evaluate Claimant's eligibility for MA benefits subject to the finding that Claimant is a disabled individual;
- (3) initiate a supplement for any benefits not issued as a result of the improper application denial; and
- (4) schedule a review of benefits in SIX MONTHS from the date of this administrative decision, if Claimant is found eligible for future MA benefits.

The actions taken by DHS are REVERSED.
