CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and Department of Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT). Prior to August 1, 2008, Department policies were contained in the Department of Human Services Program Administrative Manuals (PAM), Department of Human Services Program Eligibility Manual (PEM), and Department of Human Services Reference Schedules Manual (RFS).

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) [formerly known as the Food Stamp program] is established by the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended, 7 USC 2011 to 2036a and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in 7 CFR 271.1 to 285.5. The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10 and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3001 to .3015.

The Department's OIG requests IPV hearings for the following cases:

- FAP trafficking OIs that are not forwarded to the prosecutor,
- prosecution of welfare fraud or FAP trafficking is declined by the prosecutor for a reason other than lack of evidence, and
  - the total OI amount for the FIP, SDA, CDC, MA and FAP programs is $1000 or more, or
  - the total OI amount is less than $1000, and
    - the group has a previous IPV, or
    - the alleged IPV involves FAP trafficking, or
    - the alleged fraud involves concurrent receipt of assistance (see BEM 222), or
    - the alleged fraud is committed by a state/government employee.

BAM 720 (July 2013), p. 10.

Intentional Program Violation

Suspected IPV means an OI exists for which all three of the following conditions exist:

- The client intentionally failed to report information or intentionally gave incomplete or inaccurate information needed to make a correct benefit determination, and
- The client was clearly and correctly instructed regarding his or her reporting responsibilities, and
- The client has no apparent physical or mental impairment that limits his or her understanding or ability to fulfill reporting responsibilities.

BAM 700 (7/1/13), p. 6; BAM 720, p. 1.

An IPV is also suspected for a client who is alleged to have trafficked FAP benefits. BAM 720, p. 1.

An IPV requires that the Department establish by clear and convincing evidence that the client has intentionally withheld or misrepresented information for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, increasing or preventing reduction of program benefits or eligibility. BAM 720, p. 1 (emphasis in original); see also 7 CFR 273(e)(6). Clear and convincing evidence is evidence sufficient to result in a clear and firm belief that the proposition is true. See M Civ JI 8.01.

In this case, the Department alleges that Respondent committed an IPV of her FAP benefits because she failed to report earned income from her employment. The Department testified that Respondent became employed on April 1, 2010 at the Sentimental Lady Saloon, but that she did not report her employment and earned income to the Department until September 20, 2011, when she verified her employment which began April 2010. At the time of her redetermination in March of 2010, the Respondent advised that Department that she was looking for work and she had just received her last unemployment check. The Claimant credibly testified that she reported her employment by providing the Department a written notice change of employment that she started employment, and placed it in the drop box for providing documents to the Department in 2010. The Department stated that this late reporting caused an OI of FAP benefits in the amount of $1023 from June 1, 2010 through April 30, 2011.

At the hearing, Respondent testified that she timely reported her employment in writing and earned income to the Department by completing a change report and submitting it to the Department in 2010. Respondent's testimony was credible. Respondent stated that she is aware of the reporting requirements and that shortly after she gained employment, she notified the Department of the change in circumstance.

Therefore, there was insufficient evidence of intent presented by the Department to establish by clear and convincing evidence that Respondent committed an IPV of her FAP benefits by failing to report income.

Disqualification

A court or hearing decision that finds a client committed IPV disqualifies that client from receiving program benefits. BAM 720, p. 12. A disqualified recipient remains a member of an active group as long as he lives with them, and other eligible group members may continue to receive benefits. BAM 720, p. 13.

Clients who commit an IPV are disqualified for a standard disqualification period except when a court orders a different period, or except when the OI relates to MA. BAM 720, p. 13. Refusal to repay will not cause denial of current or future MA if the client is otherwise eligible. BAM 710 (July 2013), p. 2. Clients are disqualified for periods of one year for the first IPV, two years for the second IPV, lifetime disqualification for the third IPV, and ten years for a FAP concurrent receipt of benefits. BAM 720, p. 16.

In this case, the Department has failed to satisfy its burden of showing that Respondent committed an IPV concerning FAP benefits. Therefore, Respondent is not subject to a disqualification under the FAP program.

Overissuance

When a client group receives more benefits than they are entitled to receive, the Department must attempt to recoup the OI. BAM 700, p. 1. The amount of the OI is the benefit amount the client actually received minus the amount the client was eligible to receive. BAM 720, p 6; BAM 715 (December 2011), pp 1, 5; BAM 705 (December 2011), p 5.

In this case, the Department alleged that Respondent was overissued FAP benefits in the amount of $1023. The Department failed to present any evidence of how it determined earned income in the amount of $1143 . The verification of employment indicated that Claimant was getting only $186 per week but was apparently not considered as the best evidence of income from purposes of computing income and overissuance. Therefore, the budget prepared in January 2012 which uses income of $1143 does not support the overissuance amount sought by the Department nor did the Department provide the basis for the earned income it used to calculate the FAP budget it presented in support of the overissuance. Additionally, the Department did not present any FAP OI budgets for the period of overissuance and no explanation was given regarding how the OI was calculated. As such, the Department has failed to establish that Respondent was overissued FAP benefits in the amount of $1023.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, concludes that:

1. Respondent  did  did not commit an IPV by clear and convincing evidence.
2. Respondent  did  did not receive an OI of program benefits in the amount of $1023 from the following program(s)  FIP  FAP  SDA  CDC  MA.

The Department is ORDERED to delete the OI and cease any recoupment action.
