MICHIGAN ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING SYSTEM
ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF:

[REDACTED]

Reg. No.: 2014-24670
Issue No(s): 2009;4009
Case No.: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date: May 7, 2014
County: Wayne (49)

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Robert J. Chavez

HEARING DECISION

Following Claimant's request for a hearing, this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and 400.37; 42 CFR 431.200 to 431.250; and 45 CFR 205.10. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on May 7, 2014, from Detroit, Michigan. Participants on behalf of Claimant included [REDACTED]. Participants on behalf of the Department of Human Services (Department) included [REDACTED], ES MCW.

ISSUE

Whether the Department properly determined that Claimant has medically improved for purposes of the Medical Assistance (MA) and/or State Disability Assistance (SDA) benefit programs?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. Claimant was a recipient of MA-P and SDA benefits.
2. On October 24, 2013, a medical review of claimant's disability status was conducted.
3. Claimant was found to have a final negative SSI decision from August 15, 2013.
4. Claimant's MA-P was terminated in response to this decision.
5. No finding was made as to whether the conditions involved were the same conditions applied upon at the SSA, or whether these conditions had worsened.

6. Claimant was found to have medically improved for the purposes of the SDA program, and their SDA benefits were placed into closure, because claimant was not considered disabled.
7. Medical evidence from the previous file was considered.
8. Claimant had originally applied for SDA on the basis of deformity of the left tibia, a rotator cuff injury, and a Hill-Sachs deformity of the right shoulder.
9. Claimant was approved for benefits retroactive to April 1, 2011.
10. The medical packet at the time of the initial approval consisted of records related to these conditions.
11. The most recent medical packet contains one medical report stating no significant improvement.
12. Claimant is 40 years old.
13. Claimant has a high school education.
14. Claimant is not currently working.
15. On January 15, 2014, claimant was sent a notice of case action closing MA-P and SDA.
16. On January 27, 2014, claimant filed for hearing.
17. On April 17, 2014, the State Hearing Review Team denied MA-P and SDA, citing a DDE from the SSA conducted in April, 2014, and not using a medical improvement standard.
18. On May 7, 2014, a hearing was held before the Administrative Law Judge.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by the Title XIX of the Social Security Act, 42 USC 1396-1396w-5, and is implemented by 42 CFR 400.200 to 1008.59. The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10 and MCL 400.105.

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program, which provides financial assistance for disabled persons, was established by 2004 PA 344. The Department administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10 et seq. and Mich Admin Code, Rules 400.3151 – 400.3180. Department policies are found in BAM, BEM, and RFT. A person is considered disabled for SDA purposes if the person has a physical or mental impairment which meets federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability standards for at least ninety days. Receipt of SSI benefits based on disability or blindness, or the receipt of MA benefits based on disability or blindness, automatically qualifies an individual as disabled for purposes of the SDA program.

With regards to claimant's MA-P benefits, BEM 271 states that SSA's determination that disability or blindness does not exist for SSI is final and the MA case must be closed if, among other things, the claimant is not alleging a totally different disabling condition than that of the SSA determination, or there is an additional impairment or deterioration in their condition that the SSA has not reviewed or made a determination.

In the current case, the Department has failed to provide evidence that they examined whether or not claimant was alleging a different disabling condition, or deterioration in their condition. Per testimony and procedural documents, it appears that, upon learning of the final SSA decision, the Department immediately closed claimant's case without any investigation as to whether claimant was alleging a different condition or a deterioration that the SSA had not made a determination on yet.

Failure to do this is error; BEM 271 specifically states that the decision is final unless such a situation applies, and the Department could not know whether a situation like that was relevant to the current case without first conducting an examination into the claimant's case. There was no evidence presented that claimant's SSA determination was even on the same conditions; no decisions or SSA files were attached showing that this was the case.

As such, the undersigned must hold that BEM 271 was not properly followed, and claimant's MA-P case was closed without the proper determinations being made.

With regard to claimant's SDA case, any finding by the SSA is not binding. BEM 271. Federal regulations require that the Department use the same operative definition of the term "disabled" as is used by the Social Security Administration for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. 42 CFR 435.540(a).

Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905

However, once an individual has been determined to be disabled for the purposes of disability benefits, continued entitlement to benefits must be periodically reviewed. 20 CFR 416.994. In evaluating whether disability continues, the Administrative Law Judge must follow a sequential evaluation process, not unlike the initial disability evaluation, in which current work activities, severity of impairment, and the possibility of medical improvement and its relationship to the individual's work ability is assessed. Review ceases and benefits continue if there is substantial evidence to find that the individual is unable to engage in substantial gainful activity (SGA). 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5).

In determining the continuation of disability, an eight step process is followed. First, there must be a determination of whether the claimant is engaging in SGA. Second, the undersigned will determine whether the claimant has an impairment which meets or equals the severity of a listed impairment. This is followed by a determination of whether there has been medical improvement. If there has been medical improvement, a determination of whether the medical improvement is related to the claimant's ability to work must be made. If there has been no medical improvement, the undersigned will consider whether any exceptions apply if the claimant has made no medical improvement. If there has been medical improvement and the improvement is related to claimant's ability to work, a determination of whether the impairment is severe will be made. For the seventh step, the undersigned will assess a claimant's current ability to engage in SGA. Finally, the claimant will be judged according to their capacity to perform any other work, given the claimant's age, education, and past work experience. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(i-viii).

The first step that must be considered is whether the claimant is still partaking in Substantial Gainful Activity (SGA). 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(i). To be considered disabled, a person must be unable to engage in SGA. A person who is earning more than a certain monthly amount (net of impairment-related work expenses) is ordinarily considered to be engaging in SGA. The amount of monthly earnings considered as SGA depends on the nature of a person's disability; the Social Security Act specifies a higher SGA amount for statutorily blind individuals and a lower SGA amount for non-blind individuals. Both SGA amounts increase with increases in the national average wage index. The monthly SGA amount for statutorily blind individuals for 2013 is [REDACTED]. For non-blind individuals, the monthly SGA amount for 20121 is [REDACTED].

In the current case, claimant has testified that they are not working, and the Department has presented no evidence or allegations that claimant is engaging in SGA. Therefore, the Administrative Law Judge finds that the claimant is not engaging in SGA, and thus passes the first step of the sequential evaluation process.

In the second step of the sequential evaluation, we must determine if the claimant's impairment is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. This is, generally speaking, an objective standard; either claimant's impairment is listed in this appendix, or it is not. However, at this step, a ruling against the claimant does not direct a finding of "not disabled"; if the claimant's impairment does not meet or equal a listing found in Appendix 1, the sequential evaluation process must continue on to step three.

The Administrative Law Judge finds that the claimant's medical records do not contain medical evidence of an impairment that meets or equals a listed impairment. We therefore proceed to the next step.

In this step, the undersigned must determine whether there has been medical improvement as defined in 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(i). 20 CFR 416.994 (b)(5)(iii). Medical improvement is defined as any decrease in the medical severity of the impairment which was present at the time of the most recent favorable medical decision that the claimant was disabled or continues to be disabled. A determination that there has been a decrease in the medical severity must be based on improvement in the symptoms, signs, and/or laboratory findings associated with claimant's impairment. If there has been medical improvement as shown by a decrease in the medical severity, the undersigned must proceed to step 4, as discussed above. If there has been no decrease in severity, and thus no medical improvement, step 4 is skipped, and the undersigned will proceed to step 5.

In the current case, the Department has failed to meet its burden of proof in showing medical improvement, shown by a decrease in medical severity. The medical evidence presented does not indicate an improvement or a decrease in medical severity. Claimant originally applied for benefits on the basis of a left tibia deformity. The new records contain no evidence showing significant improvement; there is only one new piece of evidence and it shows permanent disability of this extremity.

Furthermore, SHRT relied upon an April, 2014 DDE determination; such a determination would be more relevant to a new case, and not to a finding of medical improvement. As such, SHRT's findings are dismissed as irrelevant to the question at hand.

The Administrative Law Judge will not find actual medical improvement without submitted medical records actually showing improvement, nor will the Administrative Law Judge infer improvement from a lack of medical evidence, when the Department has the burden of proof in showing improvement.

The Department has the burden of proof to show actual improvement. The evidence presented by the Department does not show improvement particularly significant or relevant to claimant's residual functional capacity. There are no findings that show claimant is capable of work related activities. Therefore, as the medical records cannot be said to show improvement, the Department has not met its burden of proof in showing improvement, and the undersigned will continue to step 5.

If there has been no medical improvement or it is found that the medical improvement is not related to your ability to work, the Administrative Law Judge must consider whether any of the exceptions in 20 CFR 416.994(b)(3) and (4) apply. If no exceptions apply, disability will be found to continue. If one of the first group of exceptions to medical improvement applies, the sequential process continues. If an exception from the second group of exceptions to medical improvement applies, disability will be found to have ended. The second group of exceptions to medical improvement may be considered at any point in this process. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(v).

The law provides for certain limited situations when disability can be found to have ended even though medical improvement has not occurred, if the claimant can engage in substantial gainful activity. These exceptions to medical improvement are intended to provide a way of finding that a person is no longer disabled in those limited situations where, even though there has been no decrease in severity of the impairment(s), evidence shows that the person should no longer be considered disabled or never should have been considered disabled. If one of these exceptions applies, it must also be shown that, taking all current impairment(s) into account, not just those that existed at the time of the most recent favorable medical decision, you are now able to engage in substantial gainful activity before disability can be found to have ended. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(3).

The first group of exceptions, found in 20 CFR 416.994(b)(3), are as follows:

(i) Substantial evidence shows that you are the beneficiary of advances in medical or vocational therapy or technology (related to your ability to work);

(ii) Substantial evidence shows that you have undergone vocational therapy (related to your ability to work);

(iii) Substantial evidence shows that based on new or improved diagnostic or evaluative techniques your impairment(s) is not as disabling as it was considered to be at the time of the most recent favorable decision;

(iv) Substantial evidence demonstrates that any prior disability decision was in error. This exception to medical improvement based on error is considered if substantial evidence (which may be evidence on the record at the time any prior determination of the entitlement to benefits based on disability was made, or newly obtained evidence which relates to that determination) demonstrates that a prior determination was in error. A prior determination will be found in error only if:

(A) Substantial evidence shows on its face that the decision in question should not have been made (e.g., the evidence in your file such as pulmonary function study values was misread or an adjudicative standard such as a listing in appendix 1 of subpart P of part 404 of this chapter or a medical/vocational rule in appendix 2 of subpart P of part 404 of this chapter was misapplied), or;

(B) At the time of the prior evaluation, required and material evidence of the severity of your impairment(s) was missing. That evidence becomes available upon review, and substantial evidence demonstrates that had such evidence been present at the time of the prior determination, disability would not have been found, or;

(C) Substantial evidence which is new evidence which relates to the prior determination (of allowance or continuance) refutes the conclusions that were based upon the prior evidence (e.g., a tumor thought to be malignant was later shown to have actually been benign). Substantial evidence must show that had the new evidence, (which relates to the prior determination) been considered at the time of the prior decision, the claim would not have been allowed or continued. A substitution of current judgment for that used in the prior favorable decision will not be the basis for applying this exception.

In examining the record, the undersigned finds that no exceptions of the first group apply.

In addition to the first group of exceptions to medical improvement, the following exceptions may result in a determination that the claimant is no longer disabled. In these situations, the decision will be made without a determination that the claimant has medically improved or can engage in substantial gainful activity. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(4). The second group of exceptions to medical improvement, found at 20 CFR 416.994(b)(4), are as follows:

- i) A prior determination or decision was fraudulently obtained;
- ii) Claimant did not cooperate;
- iii) Claimant is unable to be located;
- iv) Claimant failed to follow prescribed treatment which would be expected to restore the ability to engage in substantial gainful activity.

The undersigned has considered the record and finds no evidence that the claimant meets any of these exceptions.

Therefore, as no exceptions apply, disability must be found to continue. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(v). As claimant is found disabled at this step, no further evaluation is needed, and the undersigned declines to do so. Finally, as disability must be found to continue, the Department was in error when in closed claimant's SDA benefit cases for medical improvement.

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, finds Claimant  medically improved  not medically improved for purposes of the MA and/or SDA benefit program.
