ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS FOR THE
DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF:

[REDACTED]

Reg. No.: 14-006303
Issue No.: 2009
Case No.: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date: August 4, 2014
County: Wayne (35)

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Christian Gardocki

HEARING DECISION

Following Claimant's request for a hearing, this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and 400.37; 7 CFR 273.15 to 273.18; 42 CFR 431.200 to 431.250; 45 CFR 99.1 to 99.33; and 45 CFR 205.10. After due notice, an in-person hearing was held on August 4, 2014, from Redford, Michigan. Participants included the above-named Claimant. [REDACTED] [REDACTED], testified and appeared as Claimant's authorized hearing representative (AHR). Participants on behalf of the Department of Human Services (DHS) included [REDACTED], Hearings Facilitator.

ISSUE

The issue is whether DHS properly denied Claimant's application for Medical Assistance (MA) for the reason that Claimant is not a disabled individual.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. On [REDACTED], Claimant applied for MA benefits.
2. Claimant's only basis for MA benefits was as a disabled individual.
3. On [REDACTED], the Medical Review Team (MRT) determined that Claimant was not a disabled individual.
4. On [REDACTED], DHS denied Claimant's application for MA benefits and mailed a Notice of Case Action informing Claimant's AHR of the denial.

5. On [REDACTED] Claimant's AHR requested a hearing disputing the denial of MA benefits.
6. As of the date of administrative hearing, Claimant was a 53-year-old male.
7. Claimant's highest education year completed was the 12th grade.
8. As of the date of the administrative hearing, Claimant was an ongoing Healthy Michigan Plan recipient since 7/2014.
9. Claimant alleged disability based on impairments and issues including cleft pallet and lip, joint pain, and a history of cardiac surgery.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by the Title XIX of the Social Security Act, 42 USC 1396-1396w-5, and is implemented by 42 CFR 400.200 to 1008.59. The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10 and MCL 400.105. Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM) and Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) and Department of Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

Prior to a substantive analysis of Claimant's hearing request, it should be noted that Claimant's AHR noted special arrangements in order to participate in the hearing; specifically, an in-person hearing was requested. The hearing was conducted in accordance with Claimant's request.

The Medicaid program is comprised of several sub-programs which fall under one of two categories; one category is FIP-related and the second category is SSI-related. BEM 105 (10/2010), p. 1. To receive MA under an SSI-related category, the person must be aged (65 or older), blind, disabled, entitled to Medicare or formerly blind or disabled. Id. Families with dependent children, caretaker relatives of dependent children, persons under age 21 and pregnant, or recently pregnant, women receive MA under FIP-related categories. Id. AMP is an MA program available to persons not eligible for Medicaid through the SSI-related or FIP-related categories though DHS does always offer the program to applicants. It was not disputed that Claimant's only potential category for Medicaid eligibility would be as a disabled individual.

Disability for purposes of MA benefits is established if one of the following circumstances applies:

- by death (for the month of death);
- the applicant receives Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits;
- SSI benefits were recently terminated due to financial factors;

- the applicant receives Retirement Survivors and Disability Insurance (RSDI) on the basis of being disabled; or
- RSDI eligibility is established following denial of the MA benefit application (under certain circumstances).
BEM 260 (7/2012) pp. 1-2

There was no evidence that any of the above circumstances apply to Claimant. Accordingly, Claimant may not be considered for Medicaid eligibility without undergoing a medical review process which determines whether Claimant is a disabled individual. Id., p. 2.

Generally, state agencies such as DHS must use the same definition of SSI disability as found in the federal regulations. 42 CFR 435.540(a). Disability is federally defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity (SGA) by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905. A functionally identical definition of disability is found under DHS regulations. BEM 260 (7/2012), p. 8.

Substantial gainful activity means a person does the following:

- Performs significant duties, and
- Does them for a reasonable length of time, and
- Does a job normally done for pay or profit. Id., p. 9.

Significant duties are duties used to do a job or run a business. Id. They must also have a degree of economic value. Id. The ability to run a household or take care of oneself does not, on its own, constitute substantial gainful activity. Id.

The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish a disability through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescribed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related activities or ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CFR 413.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.908; 20 CFR 416.929(a).

Federal regulations describe a sequential five step process that is to be followed in determining whether a person is disabled. 20 CFR 416.920. If there is no finding of disability or lack of disability at each step, the process moves to the next step. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4).

The first step in the process considers a person's current work activity. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(i). A person who is earning more than a certain monthly amount is ordinarily considered to be engaging in SGA. The monthly amount depends on whether a person is statutorily blind or not. "Current" work activity is interpreted to include all time since the date of application. The 2013 monthly income limit considered SGA for non-blind individuals is $1,040.

Claimant credibly denied performing any employment since the date of the MA application; no evidence was submitted to contradict Claimant's testimony. Based on the presented evidence, it is found that Claimant is not performing SGA and has not performed SGA since the date of MA application. Accordingly, the disability analysis may proceed to step two.

The second step in the disability evaluation is to determine whether a severe medically determinable physical or mental impairment exists to meet the 12 month duration requirement. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(ii). The impairments may be combined to meet the severity requirement. If a severe impairment is not found, then a person is deemed not disabled. Id.

The impairments must significantly limit a person's basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(5)(c). "Basic work activities" refers to the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Id. Examples of basic work activities include:

- physical functions (e.g. walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling)
- capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking, understanding; carrying out, and remembering simple instructions
- use of judgment
- responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and/or
- dealing with changes in a routine work setting.

Generally, federal courts have imposed a de minimus standard upon claimants to establish the existence of a severe impairment. Grogan v. Barnhart, 399 F.3d 1257, 1263 (10th Cir. 2005); Hinkle v. Apfel, 132 F.3d 1349, 1352 (10th Cir. 1997). Higgs v Bowen, 880 F.2d 860, 862 (6th Cir. 1988). Similarly, Social Security Ruling 85-28 has been interpreted so that a claim may be denied at step two for lack of a severe impairment only when the medical evidence establishes a slight abnormality or combination of slight abnormalities that would have no more than a minimal effect on an individual's ability to work even if the individual's age, education, or work experience were specifically considered. Barrientos v. Secretary of Health and Human Servs., 820 F.2d 1, 2 (1st Cir. 1987). Social Security Ruling 85-28 has been clarified so that the step two severity requirement is intended "to do no more than screen out groundless claims." McDonald v. Secretary of Health and Human Servs., 795 F.2d 1118, 1124 (1st Cir. 1986).

SSA specifically notes that age, education, and work experience are not considered at the second step of the disability analysis. 20 CFR 416.920 (5)(c). In determining whether Claimant's impairments amount to a severe impairment, all other relevant evidence may be considered. The analysis will begin with a summary of the relevant submitted medical documentation and Claimant's testimony.

Hospital documents (Exhibits 13-65) from an admission dated [REDACTED] were presented. It was noted that Claimant presented with complaints of chest pain and dyspnea, ongoing for several years. It was noted that cardiac testing revealed various heart abnormalities. It was noted that Claimant underwent the following surgeries: aortic root replacement, ascending arch replacement, artery implantation, and artery repair. It was noted that Claimant received an unspecified amount of physical therapy during admission. Noted discharge diagnoses included ascending aortic aneurysm, aortic arch aneurysm, aortic insufficiency, and aortic stenosis. A discharge date of [REDACTED] was noted. Claimant stated that he was restricted from driving for 3 months. Claimant also stated that he had an unspecified weight lifting restriction.

Hospital discharge documents (Exhibits A2-A4) from an admission dated [REDACTED] were presented. Details of Claimant's hospitalization were not provided. Discharge diagnosis included syncope, aortic valve replacement, diabetes, and hypertension. A discharge date of [REDACTED] was noted.

A prescription (Exhibit A1) dated [REDACTED] was presented. Prescriptions for the following were noted: Keflex, Zocor, Lopressor, metformin, and ASA.

Claimant alleged disability, in part, related to cardiac restrictions. Claimant testified that he has not had insurance but that he had one follow-up appointment with a cardiologist after heart surgery. Records were not presented but Claimant testified that he was told that his "heart was alright". It is known that Claimant required cardiac surgical intervention. Diagnoses of congestive heart failure or coronary artery disease are suggestive of ongoing cardiac restrictions. The presented evidence was not suggestive of ongoing restrictions. Based on the presented records, it appears that whatever problems that Claimant had, were corrected by surgery. It is found that Claimant does not have any severe cardiac-related restrictions.

Claimant testified that he was hit by a motorcycle when he was 15 years old; Claimant stated that the injuries cause him ongoing knee pain and leg pain. Claimant also testified that he developed hernia in 2003, while performing car-prep employment. Claimant testified that he received an operation but that the stitches broke, which required a second surgery. Claimant testified that he has ongoing groin pain since his second surgery. Claimant thinks his pain is caused by nerve damage. Claimant's testimony may be accurate, but it was completely unsubstantiated. No medical records concerning treatment for joint pain were presented. Without any treatment records, it cannot be found that Claimant has a severe impairment related to joint pain.

It was very apparent that Claimant had a cleft palate and lip. A partially repaired cleft palate was noted as part of Claimant's medical history (see Exhibit 16). Throughout the hearing, Claimant's speech was difficult to understand. Claimant's speech was obviously impaired. Speech is a basic work activity. It is found that Claimant has a severe impairment and the analysis may proceed to step three.

The third step of the sequential analysis requires a determination whether the Claimant's impairment, or combination of impairments, is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(iii). If Claimant's impairments are listed and deemed to meet the 12 month requirement, then the claimant is deemed disabled. If the impairment is unlisted, then the analysis proceeds to the next step.

Claimant's only established severe impairment was his difficulty speaking due to a cleft palate and lip. The applicable SSA listing reads as follows:

2.09 Loss of speech due to any cause, with inability to produce by any means speech that can be heard, understood, or sustained.

Claimant's speech was difficult to understand. It was not so poor that he was unable to produce speech that could be understood.

It is found that Claimant failed to establish meeting a SSA listing. Accordingly, the analysis moves to step four.

The fourth step in analyzing a disability claim requires an assessment of the Claimant's residual functional capacity (RFC) and past relevant employment. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4)(iv). An individual is not disabled if it is determined that a claimant can perform past relevant work. Id.

Past relevant work is work that has been performed within the past 15 years that was a substantial gainful activity and that lasted long enough for the individual to learn the position. 20 CFR 416.960(b)(1). Vocational factors of age, education, and work experience, and whether the past relevant employment exists in significant numbers in the national economy is not considered. 20 CFR 416.960(b)(3). RFC is assessed based on impairment(s), and any related symptoms, such as pain, which may cause physical and mental limitations that affect what can be done in a work setting. RFC is the most that can be done, despite the limitations.

Claimant testified that he performed car prepping work for a 20 year period. Claimant testified that some of his duties involved changing tires and installing alarm systems. Presumably, Claimant's speech was no worse when he was employed than the present time; no evidence indicated differently. Claimant testified that he lost his job after developing hernia which restricted his lifting abilities. Insufficient evidence of lifting restrictions was presented.

Based on the presented evidence, it is found that Claimant can perform past employment. Accordingly, Claimant is not a disabled individual and it is found that DHS properly denied Claimant's MA application.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, finds that DHS properly denied Claimant's MA benefit application dated [REDACTED] based on a determination that Claimant is not disabled. The actions taken by DHS are AFFIRMED.
