DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF:

[REDACTED]

Reg. No.: 201410839
Issue No(s): 2009
Case No.: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date: April 17, 2014
County: Wayne (43)

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Robert J. Chavez

HEARING DECISION

Following Claimant's request for a hearing, this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and 400.37; 42 CFR 431.200 to 431.250; and 45 CFR 205.10. After due notice, an in-person hearing was held on April 17, 2014, from Detroit, Michigan. Participants on behalf of Claimant included [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. Participants on behalf of the Department of Human Services (Department) included [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] ES.

ISSUE

Whether the Department properly determined that Claimant was not disabled for purposes of the Medical Assistance (MA) and/or State Disability Assistance (SDA) benefit programs?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

- (1) Claimant applied for MA-P on March 28, 2013 .
- (2) Claimant is [REDACTED] years old.
- (3) Claimant is not currently working.
- (4) Claimant alleged disability due to a fractured hip and mental health issues.
- (5) In February, 2013, claimant fractured the femoral neck of the hip and underwent an open reduction internal fixation.

- (6) Treating source records indicate that claimant was improving.
- (7) Claimant did not appear to testify.
- (8) Claimant alleged mental health issues.
- (9) No medical records were submitted showing treatment, diagnoses, mental residual functional capacity, or other limitations from claimant's mental health issues.
- (10) Claimant appears to have a guardian; the guardianship order is temporary, and the psychological assessment made with regards to the guardianship order offers no opinion on claimant's mental status, due to claimant's noncooperation with the exam.
- (11) On July 18, 2013, the Medical Review Team denied MA-P, stating that claimant did not meet durational requirements.
- (12) On July 22, 2013, claimant was sent a notice of case action.
- (13) On November 1, 2013, claimant filed for hearing.
- (14) On January 28, 2014, the State Hearing Review Team denied MA-P, stating that claimant did not meet durational requirements.
- (15) On April 17, 2014, a hearing was held before the Administrative Law Judge.
- (16) The record was extended in order to allow for the submission of psychiatric records; however, no records were able to be located.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by the Title XIX of the Social Security Act, 42 USC 1396-1396w-5, and is implemented by 42 CFR 400.200 to 1008.59. The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10 and MCL 400.105.

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program, which provides financial assistance for disabled persons, was established by 2004 PA 344. The Department administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10 et seq. and Mich Admin Code, Rules 400.3151 – 400.3180. Department policies are found in BAM, BEM, and RFT. A person is considered disabled for SDA purposes if the person has a physical or mental impairment which meets federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability standards for at least ninety days. Receipt of SSI benefits based on disability or blindness, or the receipt of MA benefits based on disability or blindness, automatically qualifies an individual as disabled for purposes of the SDA program.

Federal regulations require that the Department use the same operative definition of the term “disabled” as is used by the Social Security Administration for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. 42 CFR 435.540(a). Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905

This is determined by a five-step sequential evaluation process where current work activity, the severity and duration of the impairment(s), statutory listings of medical impairments, residual functional capacity, and vocational factors (i.e., age, education, and work experience) are considered. These factors are always considered in order according to the five step sequential evaluation, and when a determination can be made at any step as to the claimant’s disability status, no analysis of subsequent steps are necessary. 20 CFR 416.920

The first step that must be considered is whether the claimant is still partaking in Substantial Gainful Activity (SGA). 20 CFR 416.920(b). To be considered disabled, a person must be unable to engage in SGA. A person who is earning more than a certain monthly amount (net of impairment-related work expenses) is ordinarily considered to be engaging in SGA. The amount of monthly earnings considered as SGA depends on the nature of a person’s disability; the Social Security Act specifies a higher SGA amount for statutorily blind individuals and a lower SGA amount for non-blind individuals. Both SGA amounts increase with increases in the national average wage index. The monthly SGA amount for statutorily blind individuals for 2013 is $1,740. For non-blind individuals, the monthly SGA amount for 2013 is $1040.

In the current case, claimant’s guardian testified that claimant was not working, and the Department has presented no evidence or allegations that claimant is engaging in SGA. Claimant has not been engaging in SGA during any of the time this application and hearing have been pending. Therefore, the undersigned holds that the claimant is not performing SGA, and passes step one of the five-step process.

The second step that must be considered is whether or not the claimant has a severe impairment. A severe impairment is an impairment expected to last 12 months or more (or result in death), which significantly limits an individual’s physical or mental ability to perform basic work activities. The term “basic work activities” means the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Examples of these include:

- (1) Physical functions such as walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying or handling;
- (2) Capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking;
- (3) Understanding, carrying out, and remembering simple instructions;

- (4) Use of judgment;
- (5) Responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and
- (6) Dealing with changes in a routine work setting. 20 CFR 416.921(b).

The purpose of the second step in the sequential evaluation process is to screen out claims lacking in medical merit. Higgs v. Bowen 880 F2d 860, 862 (6th Cir, 1988). As a result, the Department may only screen out claims at this level which are “totally groundless” solely from a medical standpoint. This is a de minimus standard in the disability determination that the court may use only to disregard trifling matters. As a rule, any impairment that can reasonably be expected to significantly impair basic activities is enough to meet this standard.

In the current case, claimant has not presented evidence of a severe impairment that has lasted or is expected to last the durational requirement of 12 months.

Claimant has alleged an impairment stemming from a hip fracture and mental health issues. However, the only medical records in the packet arise from that hospital and rehabilitation admission from February, 2013, which noted that claimant was improving. Claimant was not ambulating effectively at the time, but that status was expected to change. Claimant did not appear to testify with regards to improvement. There are no records that show claimant’s injuries or conditions are expected to last one year or more. Claimant has had no current admissions since initial treatment and rehab.

With regards to the mental health issues, while claimant appears to have some severe underlying issues, no mental health medical records, treating source statements, diagnoses or exams were submitted. Claimant’s AHR submitted an exam that was used in conjunction with a petition for guardianship; however, this exam’s final analysis was that no analysis could be made, due to claimant’s noncooperation with the examiner. As such, the exhibit was of little use in making a determination as to claimant’s mental state.

Oblique statements in claimant’s rehab records and statements regarding a successful petition for guardianship certainly convince the undersigned personally that claimant has severe, and perhaps debilitating mental health issues. However, without mental health records, much less a specific diagnosis, the Administrative Law Judge finds himself unable to issue a ruling as to whether claimant’s issues are legally sufficient to pass muster in the eyes of the law.

In other words, while the undersigned may truly believe that claimant has severe issues, without hard evidence, the undersigned’s hands are proverbially tied by the requirements of the applicable law.

Claimant has not presented the required competent, material, and substantial evidence which would support a finding that the claimant has an impairment or combination of impairments which would significantly limit the physical or mental ability to do basic work activities for a period of 12 months or more. 20 CFR 416.920(c).

The medical record as a whole does not establish any impairment that would impact claimant's basic work activities for a period of 12 months or 90 days (for the purposes of the SDA program). There are no current medical records in the case that establish that claimant continues to have a serious medical impairment. There is no objective medical evidence to substantiate the claimant's claim that the impairment or impairments are severe enough to reach the criteria and definition of disabled. Accordingly, after careful review of claimant's medical records, this Administrative Law Judge finds that claimant is not disabled for the purposes of the Medical Assistance disability (MA-P) or SDA program.

As a finding of not disabled can be made at the step two of the five step process, no further analysis is required. 20 CFR 416.920

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, finds Claimant not disabled for purposes of the MA and/or SDA benefit program.
