3. On July 29, 2014, the Medical Review Team (MRT) found Claimant not disabled.
4. On August 7, 2014, the Department notified Claimant of the MRT determination.
5. On August 15, 2014, the Department received Claimant's timely written request for hearing.
6. Claimant alleged disabling impairments including back pain, chest pain, hypertension, hyperbilirubinemia, and depression.

7. At the time of hearing, Claimant was 53 years old with a [REDACTED], birth date; was 5'8" in height; and weighed 205 pounds.
8. Claimant completed the some college and has a work history including security guard and daycare assistant.
9. Claimant's impairments have lasted, or are expected to last, continuously for a period of 12 months or longer.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and Department of Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by Title XIX of the Social Security Act, 42 USC 1396-1396w-5; 42 USC 1315; the Affordable Care Act of 2010, the collective term for the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, Pub. L. No. 111-148, as amended by the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010, Pub. L. No. 111-152; and 42 CFR 430.10-.25. The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to 42 CFR 435, MCL 400.10, and MCL 400.105-.112k.

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program, which provides financial assistance for disabled persons, was established by 2004 PA 344. The Department administers the SDA program pursuant to 42 CFR 435, MCL 400.10 et seq. and Mich Admin Code, Rules 400.3151 – 400.3180. A person is considered disabled for SDA purposes if the person has a physical or mental impairment which meets federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability standards for at least ninety days. Receipt of SSI benefits based on disability or blindness, or the receipt of MA benefits based on disability or blindness, automatically qualifies an individual as disabled for purposes of the SDA program.

Disability is defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905(a). The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish it through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescribed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-relate activities or ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CFR 416.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.908; 20 CFR 416.929(a). Similarly, conclusory statements by a physician or mental health professional that an individual is disabled or blind, absent supporting medical evidence, is insufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.927.

When determining disability, the federal regulations require several factors to be considered including: (1) the location/duration/frequency/intensity of an applicant's pain; (2) the type/dosage/effectiveness/side effects of any medication the applicants takes to relieve pain; (3) any treatment other than pain medication that the applicant has received to relieve pain; and (4) the effect of the applicant's pain on his or her ability to do basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(3). The applicant's pain must be assessed to determine the extent of his or her functional limitation(s) in light of the objective medical evidence presented. 20 CFR 416.929(c)(2).

Once an individual has been found disabled for purposes of MA benefits, continued entitlement is periodically reviewed in order to make a current determination or decision as to whether disability remains in accordance with the medical improvement review standard. 20 CFR 416.993(a); 20 CFR 416.994. In evaluating a claim for ongoing MA benefits, federal regulation require a sequential evaluation process be utilized. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5). The review may cease and benefits continued if sufficient evidence supports a finding that an individual is still unable to engage in substantial gainful activity. Id. Prior to deciding an individual's disability has ended, the department will develop, along with the Claimant's cooperation, a complete medical history covering at least the 12 months preceding the date the individual signed a request seeking continuing disability benefits. 20 CFR 416.993(b). The department may order a consultative examination to determine whether or not the disability continues. 20 CFR 416.993(c).

The first step in the analysis in determining whether an individual's disability has ended requires the trier of fact to consider the severity of the impairment(s) and whether it meets or equals a listed impairment in Appendix 1 of subpart P of part 404 of Chapter 20. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(i). If a Listing is met, an individual's disability is found to continue with no further analysis required.

If the impairment(s) does not meet or equal a Listing, then Step 2 requires a determination of whether there has been medical improvement as defined in 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1); 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(ii). Medical improvement is defined as any decrease in the medical severity of the impairment(s) which was present at the time of the most favorable medical decision that the individual was disabled or continues to be disabled. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(1)(i). If no medical improvement found, and no exception applies (see listed exceptions below), then an individual's disability is found to continue. Conversely, if medical improvement is found, Step 3 calls for a determination of whether there has been an increase in the residual functional capacity ("RFC") based on the impairment(s) that were present at the time of the most favorable medical determination. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(iii).

If medical improvement is not related to the ability to work, Step 4 evaluates whether any listed exception applies. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(iv). If no exception is applicable, disability is found to continue. Id. If the medical improvement is related to an individual's ability to do work, then a determination of whether an individual's impairment(s) are severe is made. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(iii), (v). If severe, an assessment of an individual's residual functional capacity to perform past work is made. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(vi). If an individual can perform past relevant work, disability does not continue. Id. Similarly, when evidence establishes that the impairment(s) do (does) not significantly limit an individual's physical or mental abilities to do basic work activities, continuing disability will not be found. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(v). Finally, if an individual is unable to perform past relevant work, vocational factors such as the individual's age, education, and past work experience are considered in determining whether despite the limitations an individual is able to perform other work. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(vii). Disability ends if an individual is able to perform other work. Id.

The first group of exceptions (as mentioned above) to medical improvement (i.e., when disability can be found to have ended even though medical improvement has not occurred) found in 20 CFR 416.994(b)(3) are as follows:

- (i) Substantial evidence shows that the individual is the beneficiary of advances in medical or vocational therapy or technology (related to the ability to work);
- (ii) Substantial evidence shows that the individual has undergone vocational therapy related to the ability to work;
- (iii) Substantial evidence shows that based on new or improved diagnostic or evaluative techniques the impairment(s) is not as disabling as previously determined at the time of the most recent favorable decision;
- (iv) Substantial evidence demonstrates that any prior disability decision was in error.

The second group of exceptions [20 CFR 416.994(b)(4)] to medical improvement are as follows:

- (i) A prior determination was fraudulently obtained;
- (ii) The individual failed to cooperate;
- (iii) The individual cannot be located;
- (iv) The prescribed treatment that was expected to restore the individual's ability to engage in substantial gainful activity was not followed.

If an exception from the second group listed above is applicable, a determination that the individual's disability has ended is made. 20 CFR 416.994(b)(5)(iv). The second group of exceptions to medical improvement may be considered at any point in the process. Id.

As discussed above, the first step in the sequential evaluation process to determine whether the Claimant's disability continues looks at the severity of the impairment(s) and whether it meets or equals a listed impairment in Appendix 1.

In the present case, Claimant alleged disabling impairments including back pain, chest pain, hypertension, hyperbilirubinemia, and depression.

A March 14, 2014, Affidavit of Attending Physician documented a diagnosis of major depressive disorder, recurrent with paranoid features. The doctor stated that Claimant was unable to do any type of work indefinitely. Recent records from Community Mental Health were also provided. A July 9, 2014, medication review note documented diagnoses including major depressive disorder, recurrent with paranoid features and Cluster B traits. Claimant's Global Assessment of Functioning (GAF) remained 42. It was noted that Claimant's case manager stated Claimant was quite anxious and paranoid at times. A June 26, 2014 Assessment documented diagnoses including major depressive disorder, recurrent without psychotic features and paranoid personality disorder. Claimant's GAF was 32. An April 9, 2014, medication review note documented diagnoses including major depressive disorder, recurrent with paranoid features and Cluster B traits. Claimant's GAF was 42. Claimant was doing well, but still had excess worry and some paranoia. A January 9, 2014, medication review note documented diagnoses including major depressive disorder, recurrent with paranoid features and Cluster B traits. Claimant's GAF was noted to remain at 40. Claimant had been depressed, having some PTSD with flashbacks, fatigue, and some ongoing paranoia. It appears the fatigue was a side effect from medication. In comparison, a July 8, 2013, medication review note documented diagnoses including major depressive disorder, recurrent with paranoid features and Cluster B traits. Claimant's GAF was noted to remain at 40. Claimant had some paranoia and poor appetite.

Recent records from Claimant's doctor's office document diagnosis and treatment of arthritis with herniated disc L4-S5, dyspnea, costochondritis, hyperbilirubinemia, vitamin B12 deficiency, depression, and anxiety. A May 29, 2014, office visit note indicates abnormal liver labs, feeling tired, not eating well, feeling weak, and psychological symptoms. January 2014 to April 2014, office visit notes, in part, document chronic chest pain.

Claimant was hospitalized March 31, 2014 to April 1, 2014, for chest pain. The chest pain was thought to be secondary to GERD. Claimant was found to have single-vessel non-obstructive coronary artery disease. Additional diagnoses included hypertension, dyslipidemia, and depression. An April 1, 2014, cardiac catheterization showed single vessel coronary artery disease, 30-40% stenosis in the second diagonal branch off the left anterior descending artery. Medical therapy and risk factor modification were recommended.

On July 3, 2014, Claimant underwent multiple dental extractions in preparation for a denture. Earlier records show a diagnosis of deep decay into pulp and crown broken off at gum line.

Based on the objective medical evidence, considered listings included: 1.00 Musculoskeletal System, 4.00 Cardiovascular System, 12.00 Mental Disorders. However, the medical evidence was not sufficient to meet the intent and severity requirements of any listing, or its equivalent. Accordingly, the Claimant cannot be found disabled, or not disabled at this step.

Step 2 requires a determination of whether there has been medical improvement. On July 11, 2013, the MRT found Claimant disabled based on non-exertional impairment(s).

Comparison of the July 2013 Community Mental Health medication review to more recent records show very minimal, if any, improvement. The records indicate compliance with medications. Claimant's GAF scores on the medication reviews only increased from 40 to 42. The GAF score for June 2014 assessment, from a different evaluator, was 32. Additionally, there did not appear to be any evidence of improvement regarding physical impairments. In his credible testimony, Claimant described ongoing substantial symptoms and limitations due to his combination of physical and mental impairments. Claimant's Case Manager indicated that Claimant's testimony was consistent with the records from her agency, though Claimant downplayed the paranoia and nightmares, as well as the depression a bit too. In consideration of all medical evidence, it is found that, overall, there has been no medical improvement. The exceptions contained in 20 CFR 416.994(b)(3) and 20 CFR 416.994(b)(4) are not applicable.

Accordingly, Claimant is found disabled for purposes of continued MA-P entitlement; therefore the Claimant's is also found disabled for purposes of continued SDA benefits.

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, finds Claimant disabled for purposes of the MA and/or SDA benefit program.

DECISION AND ORDER

Accordingly, the Department's determination is REVERSED.

THE DEPARTMENT IS ORDERED TO INITIATE THE FOLLOWING, IN ACCORDANCE WITH DEPARTMENT POLICY AND CONSISTENT WITH THIS HEARING DECISION, WITHIN 10 DAYS OF THE DATE OF MAILING OF THIS DECISION AND ORDER:

1. Reinstate Claimant's MA and/or SDA case(s) retroactive to the effective date of the closure, if not done previously, to determine Claimant's non-medical eligibility. The Department shall inform Claimant of the determination in writing. A review of this case shall be set for November 2015.

2. The Department shall supplement for lost benefits (if any) that Claimant was entitled to receive, if otherwise eligible and qualified in accordance with Department policy.
