ISSUE

Did the Department properly deny the Claimant's application for Food Assistance Program (FAP)?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. The Claimant applied for FAP benefits.
2. On September 22, 2014, the Department denied the Claimant's application due to his failure to submit the required verification.
3. On September 22, 2014, the Department sent the Claimant its decision.
4. On October 24, 2014, the Claimant verbally requested a hearing to protest the Department's actions.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and Department of Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) [formerly known as the Food Stamp program] is established by the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended, 7 USC 2011 to 2036a and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in 7 CFR 271.1 to 285.5. The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10 and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3001 to .3015.

Additionally, Bridges Assistance Manual (BAM) 130 (2014) p. 2 provides that the Department worker tell the Claimant what verification is required, how to obtain it and the due date by using either a DHS-3503 Verification Checklist, or for MA determinations, the DHS-1175, MA Determination Notice to request verification. In this case, the Department did exactly that. The Claimant submitted a bank statement without the name of the financial institution on it. The Claimant failed to submit verification of loss of employment, rent expense, earned income payment, and disability. These facts were not contested. The Claimant asserted that he had reported all of the information on his application and inferred that this should be sufficient. The Claimant testified that the Department has several computerized match programs including programs with the Social Security Administration. The Claimant indicated that the Department was capable of verifying his personal information.

The Claimant was informed that the Department worker is required to assist the Claimant in obtaining verification if the Claimant needs and requests assistance. In this case, it is not contested that the Claimant did not request assistance, even after receiving that DHS-1605, Notice of Case Action informing the Claimant that the proper verification had not been received and that if the Claimant submitted such proper verification within 30 days of his application date that the eligibility would be determined from the date he had applied. The notice further informed the claimant that if he provided verification after 30 days but prior to 60 days after the application date and eligibility would be determined from the date he provided his verification. Yet, the Claimant took no action to request assistance or submit the required verification.

Bridges Assistance Manual (BAM) 130 (2014) p. 5 provides that verifications are considered to be timely if received by the date they are due. It instructs Department workers to send a negative action notice when the Claimant indicates a refusal to provide a verification, or when the time period given has elapsed and the Claimant has not made a reasonable effort to provide it. In this case, the Administrative Law Judge determines that the time period to submit the verification had lapsed and the Claimant had made no reasonable effort to provide the verification. Furthermore, it is not contested that the Claimant did not seek assistance in obtaining the verifications. As such, the Administrative Law Judge concludes that the Department has met its burden of establishing that it was acting in accordance with policy when taking action to deny the Claimant's FAP application for failure to submit the required verification.

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, finds that the Department acted in accordance with Department policy when it took action to deny the Claimant's application for FAP benefits.
