MICHIGAN ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING SYSTEM
ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF:

Reg. No.: 2014-33668
Issue No.: 2009
Case No.: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date: July 31, 2014
County: Macomb (36)

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Christian Gardocki

HEARING DECISION

Following Claimant's request for a hearing, this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and 400.37; 7 CFR 273.15 to 273.18; 42 CFR 431.200 to 431.250; 45 CFR 99.1 to 99.33; and 45 CFR 205.10. After due notice, an in-person hearing was held on July 31, 2014, from Sterling Heights, Michigan. Participants included the above-named Claimant. [REDACTED] testified and appeared as Claimant's authorized hearing representative (AHR). [REDACTED], Claimant's daughter, testified on behalf of Claimant. Participants on behalf of the Department of Human Services (DHS) included [REDACTED], Hearings Facilitator.

ISSUE

The issue is whether DHS properly denied Claimant's application for Medical Assistance (MA) for the reason that Claimant is not a disabled individual.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. On [REDACTED], Claimant applied for MA benefits.
2. Claimant's only basis for MA benefits was as a disabled individual.
3. On [REDACTED] the Medical Review Team (MRT) determined that Claimant was not a disabled individual (see Exhibits 4-5).

4. On [REDACTED], DHS denied Claimant's application for MA benefits and mailed a Notice of Case Action informing Claimant of the denial.
5. On [REDACTED] Claimant's AHR requested a hearing disputing the denial of MA benefits.
6. On [REDACTED] SHRT determined that Claimant was not a disabled individual, in part, by application of Medical-Vocational Rule 202.13.
7. As of the date of the administrative hearing, Claimant was a 54-year-old male with a height of 5'10" and weight of 120 pounds.
8. Claimant has a relevant history of alcohol abuse.
9. Claimant's highest education year completed was the 12th grade.
10. As of the date of the administrative hearing, Claimant was an ongoing Healthy Michigan plan recipient, since approximately 7/2014.
11. Claimant alleged disability based on impairments and issues including neck pain, chronic pancreatitis, spinal arthritis, and a closed head injury.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Medical Assistance (MA) program is established by the Title XIX of the Social Security Act, 42 USC 1396-1396w-5, and is implemented by 42 CFR 400.200 to 1008.59. The Department of Human Services (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers the MA program pursuant to MCL 400.10 and MCL 400.105. Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM) and Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) and Department of Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

The Medicaid program is comprised of several sub-programs which fall under one of two categories; one category is FIP-related and the second category is SSI-related. BEM 105 (10/2010), p. 1. To receive MA under an SSI-related category, the person must be aged (65 or older), blind, disabled, entitled to Medicare or formerly blind or disabled. Id. Families with dependent children, caretaker relatives of dependent children, persons under age 21 and pregnant, or recently pregnant, women receive MA under FIP-related categories. Id. AMP is an MA program available to persons not eligible for Medicaid through the SSI-related or FIP-related categories though DHS does always offer the program to applicants. It was not disputed that Claimant's only potential category for Medicaid eligibility would be as a disabled individual.

Disability for purposes of MA benefits is established if one of the following circumstances applies:

- by death (for the month of death);
- the applicant receives Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits;
- SSI benefits were recently terminated due to financial factors;
- the applicant receives Retirement Survivors and Disability Insurance (RSDI) on the basis of being disabled; or
- RSDI eligibility is established following denial of the MA benefit application (under certain circumstances).
BEM 260 (7/2012) pp. 1-2

There was no evidence that any of the above circumstances apply to Claimant. Accordingly, Claimant may not be considered for Medicaid eligibility without undergoing a medical review process which determines whether Claimant is a disabled individual. Id., p. 2.

Generally, state agencies such as DHS must use the same definition of SSI disability as found in the federal regulations. 42 CFR 435.540(a). Disability is federally defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity (SGA) by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905. A functionally identical definition of disability is found under DHS regulations. BEM 260 (7/2012), p. 8.

Substantial gainful activity means a person does the following:

- Performs significant duties, and
- Does them for a reasonable length of time, and
- Does a job normally done for pay or profit. Id., p. 9.

Significant duties are duties used to do a job or run a business. Id. They must also have a degree of economic value. Id. The ability to run a household or take care of oneself does not, on its own, constitute substantial gainful activity. Id.

The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish a disability through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescribed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related activities or ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CFR 413.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.908; 20 CFR 416.929(a).

Federal regulations describe a sequential five step process that is to be followed in determining whether a person is disabled. 20 CFR 416.920. If there is no finding of disability or lack of disability at each step, the process moves to the next step. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4).

The first step in the process considers a person's current work activity. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(i). A person who is earning more than a certain monthly amount is ordinarily considered to be engaging in SGA. The monthly amount depends on whether a person is statutorily blind or not. "Current" work activity is interpreted to include all time since the date of application. The 2013 monthly income limit considered SGA for non-blind individuals is $1,040.

Claimant credibly denied performing any employment since the date of the MA application; no evidence was submitted to contradict Claimant's testimony. Based on the presented evidence, it is found that Claimant is not performing SGA and has not performed SGA since the date of MA application. Accordingly, the disability analysis may proceed to step two.

The second step in the disability evaluation is to determine whether a severe medically determinable physical or mental impairment exists to meet the 12 month duration requirement. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(ii). The impairments may be combined to meet the severity requirement. If a severe impairment is not found, then a person is deemed not disabled. Id.

The impairments must significantly limit a person's basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(5)(c). "Basic work activities" refers to the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Id. Examples of basic work activities include:

- physical functions (e.g. walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling)
- capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking, understanding; carrying out, and remembering simple instructions
- use of judgment
- responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and/or
- dealing with changes in a routine work setting.

Generally, federal courts have imposed a de minimus standard upon claimants to establish the existence of a severe impairment. Grogan v. Barnhart, 399 F.3d 1257, 1263 (10th Cir. 2005); Hinkle v. Apfel, 132 F.3d 1349, 1352 (10th Cir. 1997). Higgs v Bowen, 880 F.2d 860, 862 (6th Cir. 1988). Similarly, Social Security Ruling 85-28 has been interpreted so that a claim may be denied at step two for lack of a severe impairment only when the medical evidence establishes a slight abnormality or combination of slight abnormalities that would have no more than a minimal effect on an individual's ability to work even if the individual's age, education, or work experience were specifically considered. Barrientos v. Secretary of Health and Human Servs., 820 F.2d 1, 2 (1st Cir. 1987). Social Security Ruling 85-28 has been clarified so that the step two severity requirement is intended "to do no more than screen out groundless claims." McDonald v. Secretary of Health and Human Servs., 795 F.2d 1118, 1124 (1st Cir. 1986).

SSA specifically notes that age, education, and work experience are not considered at the second step of the disability analysis. 20 CFR 416.920 (5)(c). In determining whether Claimant's impairments amount to a severe impairment, all other relevant evidence may be considered. The analysis will begin with a summary of the relevant submitted medical documentation.

Hospital documents (Exhibits 19-105) from an admission dated [REDACTED] 3 were presented. It was noted that Claimant presented following a fall of approximately 24 stairs. It was noted that Claimant is a known alcoholic with an extensive history of alcohol abuse. It was noted that Claimant smoked two packs of tobacco per day. A history of degenerative disease with kyphosis and C3-C4 subluxation was noted. An impression of colitis vs. chronic diverticulitis was noted following abdomen radiology. Noted discharge diagnoses included the following: concussion, cervical spine injury with disc protrusion, left 6th-10th rib fractures, and subdural hematoma. It was noted that Claimant's cervical spine needed near future cervical intervention due to concerns of becoming unstable. It was noted that Claimant was discharged with a soft collar, recommended for ambulation. A four week follow-up with neurosurgery was noted. It was noted that Claimant was okay to increase activity with physical and occupational therapy. A discharge date of [REDACTED] was noted.

Claimant alleged disability, in part, due to chronic pancreatitis. Presented records verified one hospital admission related to pancreatitis.

Hospital documents (Exhibits A1-A7) from an admission dated [REDACTED] were presented. It was noted that Claimant presented following multiple episodes of vomiting, and one episode of hematemesis. It was noted that Claimant received various medications for treatment of pancreatitis. It was noted that Claimant had 5/5 muscle strength and full ranges of motion in all extremities. A follow-up in 1-2 weeks was noted. Discharge diagnoses included the following: multiple gastric ulcers, severe gastritis, duodenitis, esophageal ulcer, chronic pancreatitis, multi-level spondylosis, scabies, colitis, and acute kidney injury.

Alcohol consumption is known to exacerbate pancreatitis. Hospital records noted that Claimant "had drunk pretty extensively" before admission (see Exhibit A2). No other records of pancreatitis exacerbation were submitted. It is found that Claimant has minimal restrictions from pancreatitis, if Claimant stopped abusing alcohol.

A diagnosis of a closed-head injury was verified. It was noted that radiology demonstrated "tiny acute subdural hematoma". Descriptors of "acute" and "tiny" are suggestive that Claimant does not have any long-term restrictions related to hematoma.

It was verified that Claimant suffered multiple rib fractures. There was insufficient evidence that Claimant suffers long-term restrictions related to broken ribs or hematoma.

Multiple lumbar and cervical abnormalities were verified. The abnormalities would likely cause some degree of ambulation and lifting restrictions. The restrictions were verified to have begun in 12/2013, the first month where Claimant seeks MA eligibility. It is found that Claimant has a severe impairment and the analysis may proceed to step three.

The third step of the sequential analysis requires a determination whether the Claimant's impairment, or combination of impairments, is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(iii). If Claimant's impairments are listed and deemed to meet the 12 month requirement, then the claimant is deemed disabled. If the impairment is unlisted, then the analysis proceeds to the next step.

A listing for spinal disorders (Listing 1.04) was considered based on presented radiology. This listing was rejected due to a failure to establish a spinal disorder resulting in a compromised nerve root causing a reduction in muscle strength and/or a failure to establish that Claimant is unable to ambulate effectively.

Digestive disorder listings (Listings 5.00) were considered based on treatment for pancreatitis. The listings were rejected due to a lack of evidence that Claimant meets any digestive listing.

A listing for organic mental health disorders (Listing 12.02) was considered based on Claimant's closed-head injury. The listing was rejected due to a failure to establish any of the listing requirements.

It is found that Claimant failed to establish meeting a SSA listing. Accordingly, the analysis moves to step four.

The fourth step in analyzing a disability claim requires an assessment of the Claimant's residual functional capacity (RFC) and past relevant employment. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4)(iv). An individual is not disabled if it is determined that a claimant can perform past relevant work. Id.

Past relevant work is work that has been performed within the past 15 years that was a substantial gainful activity and that lasted long enough for the individual to learn the position. 20 CFR 416.960(b)(1). Vocational factors of age, education, and work experience, and whether the past relevant employment exists in significant numbers in the national economy is not considered. 20 CFR 416.960(b)(3). RFC is assessed based on impairment(s), and any related symptoms, such as pain, which may cause physical and mental limitations that affect what can be done in a work setting. RFC is the most that can be done, despite the limitations.

Claimant testified that his only past employment involved cleaning bricks and caulking. Claimant testified that the job required climbing ladders and lugging a power washer. Claimant testified that he is unable to perform his duties anymore. Claimant's testimony was credible and consistent with the presented evidence. It is found that Claimant cannot perform past relevant employment and the analysis may proceed to step five.

In the fifth step in the process, the individual's RFC in conjunction with his or her age, education, and work experience, are considered to determine whether the individual can engage in any other substantial gainful work which exists in the national economy. SSR 83-10. While a vocational expert is not required, a finding supported by substantial evidence that the individual has the vocational qualifications to perform specific jobs is needed to meet the burden. O'Banner v Sec of Health and Human Services, 587 F2d 321, 323 (CA 6, 1978). Medical-Vocational guidelines found at 20 CFR Subpart P, Appendix II, may be used to satisfy the burden of proving that the individual can perform specific jobs in the national economy. Heckler v Campbell, 461 US 458, 467 (1983); Kirk v Secretary, 667 F2d 524, 529 (CA 6, 1981) cert den 461 US 957 (1983).

To determine the physical demands (i.e. exertional requirements) of work in the national economy, jobs are classified as sedentary, light, medium, heavy, and very heavy. 20 CFR 416.967. The definitions for each are listed below.

Sedentary work involves lifting of no more than 10 pounds at a time and occasionally lifting or carrying articles like docket files, ledgers, and small tools. 20 CFR 416.967(a). Although a sedentary job is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out job duties. Id. Jobs are sedentary if walking and standing are required occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met.

Light work involves lifting no more than 20 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying objects weighing up to 10 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(b) Even though weight lifted may be very little, a job is in this category when it requires a good deal of walking or standing, or when it involves sitting most of the time with some pushing and pulling of arm or leg controls. Id. To be considered capable of performing a full or wide range of light work, an individual must have the ability to do substantially all of these activities. Id. An individual capable of light work is also capable of sedentary work, unless there are additionally limiting factors such as loss of fine dexterity or inability to sit for long periods of time. Id.

Medium work involves lifting no more than 50 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 25 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(c). An individual capable of performing medium work is also capable of light and sedentary work. Id.

Heavy work involves lifting no more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 50 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(d). An individual capable of heavy work is also capable of medium, light, and sedentary work. Id.

Finally, very heavy work involves lifting objects weighing more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying objects weighing 50 pounds or more. 20 CFR 416.967(e). An individual capable of very heavy work is able to perform work under all categories. Id.

Limitations or restrictions which affect the ability to meet the demands of jobs other than strength demands are considered nonexertional. 20 CFR 416.969a(a). Examples of non-exertional limitations include difficulty functioning due to nervousness, anxiousness, or depression; difficulty maintaining attention or concentration; difficulty understanding or remembering detailed instructions; difficulty in seeing or hearing; difficulty tolerating some physical feature(s) of certain work settings (i.e. can't tolerate dust or fumes); or difficulty performing the manipulative or postural functions of some work such as reaching, handling, stooping, climbing, crawling, or crouching. 20 CFR 416.969a(c)(1)(i)-(vi) If the impairment(s) and related symptoms, such as pain, only affect the ability to perform the non-exertional aspects of work-related activities, the rules in Appendix 2 do not direct factual conclusions of disabled or not disabled. 20 CFR 416.969a(c)(2)

The determination of whether disability exists is based upon the principles in the appropriate sections of the regulations, giving consideration to the rules for specific case situations in Appendix 2. Id. In using the rules of Appendix 2, an individual's circumstances, as indicated by the findings with respect to RFC, age, education, and work experience, is compared to the pertinent rule(s).

Given Claimant's age, education and employment history a determination of disability is dependent on Claimant's ability to perform light employment. Social Security Rule 83-10 states that the full range of light work requires standing or walking, off and on, for a total of approximately 6 hours of an 8-hour workday. Claimant presented physician statements concerning his restrictions.

A Medical Examination Report (Exhibits 11-13) dated [REDACTED] was presented. The form was completed by Claimant's treating physician. The physician provided diagnoses of alcohol abuse, hypertension, tachycardia, tobacco abuse, closed rib fracture, subdural hemorrhage, cervical vertebra fracture, and closed hip dislocation. It was noted that Claimant needed assistance with all ADLs. It was noted that Claimant had the following mental restrictions: sustained concentration, comprehension, and memory. The physician opined that Claimant was restricted to less than 2 hours of standing and/or walking per 8-hour workday. It was noted that Claimant was restricted from all lifting/carrying. The physician opined that Claimant was restricted from performing repetitive actions such as simple grasping, reaching, pushing/pulling, fine manipulating, and operating leg/foot controls.

The stated walking restrictions are consistent with an inability to perform light employment. It must be considered that the restrictions were provided only 15 days after Claimant was discharged from the hospital. It is intuitive to believe that Claimant's condition would improve but the physician noted that Claimant's condition was deteriorating, possibly due to the generally deteriorating condition of spinal problems. Claimant testified that he only saw his physician once in the last two years. The stated restrictions' close proximity to hospitalization and relative lack of recent treatment history raises doubt that the restrictions reflect Claimant's long-term prognosis.

It was noted that a CT of Claimant's cervical spine revealed spur disc complexes at 4 vertebrae spaces, with effacement of the thecal sac and mild central canal stenosis. Minimal anterolisthesis and retrolisthesis was noted at multiple vertebrae. Following lumbar radiology, a disc protrusion was noted at L3-L4, with minimal neural foraminal narrowing. Following cervical spine radiology, grade 1 anterolisthesis at C3-C4 and moderate spondylotic degenerative changes were noted. Grade 1 anterolisthesis and mild stenosis are understood to be the least invasive degrees. The totality of evidence was suggestive that Claimant has lifting and walking restrictions that would preclude Claimant's performance of light employment.

Claimant's and his daughter's testimony tended to minimize Claimant's alcohol use. For good measure, Claimant is also a smoker. Despite Claimant's continued alcohol and tobacco abuse, it is unlikely that Claimant spinal problems would significantly improve if Claimant ceased alcohol and tobacco consumption. It is found that Claimant's alcohol and tobacco abuse are immaterial to Claimant's walking and lifting restrictions.

Based on Claimant's exertional work level (sedentary), age (approaching advanced age), education (high school- no direct entry into skilled employment), employment history (semi-skilled with no transferrable skills), Medical-Vocational Rule 201.14 is found to apply. This rule dictates a finding that Claimant is disabled. Accordingly, it is found that DHS improperly found Claimant to be not disabled for purposes of MA benefits.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law finds that DHS improperly denied Claimant's application for MA benefits. It is ordered that DHS:

- (1) reinstate Claimant's MA benefit application dated [REDACTED];
- (2) evaluate Claimant's eligibility for MA benefits subject to the finding that Claimant is a disabled individual;
- (3) initiate a supplement for any benefits not issued as a result of the improper application denial; and
- (4) schedule a review of benefits in one year from the date of this administrative decision, if Claimant is found eligible for future MA benefits.

The actions taken by DHS are REVERSED.
