ISSUE

Did the Department properly determine that Claimant was noncompliant with PATH and sanction and close Claimant's FIP?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. On February 21, 2014, the Department sent Claimant a PATH appointment notice to appear for PATH orientation on March 3, 2014 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
2. The worker testified that the PATH noncompliance affected both FAP and FIP.
3. Claimant provided the Department with several medical forms indicating that Claimant could work with restrictions. (Exhibits A through D).
4. The PATH program could accommodate these restrictions
5. Claimant did not appear at PATH orientation. .
6. Claimant knew she had a PATH appointment.
7. Claimant spoke with the worker on February 29, 2014.

8. Claimant did not attempt to make childcare arrangements before or after she spoke with the worker.
9. Claimant had a medical appointment on March 3, 2014 at 3:30 p.m.
10. On March 12, 2014, the Department notified Claimant of noncompliance and that FIP would be closed and of some undocumented changed to FAP.
11. The FIP sanction was from April 1, 2014 through June 30, 2014.
12. Claimant requested hearing for FIP and FAP on March 24, 2014.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), Department of Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT), and Department of Human Services Emergency Relief Manual (ERM).

The Family Independence Program (FIP) was established pursuant to the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, PL 104-193, and 42 USC 601 to 679c. The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FIP pursuant to MCL 400.10 and 400.57a and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3101 to .3131.

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) [formerly known as the Food Stamp program] is established by the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended, 7 USC 2011 to 2036a and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in 7 CFR 271.1 to 285.5. The Department (formerly known as the Family Independence Agency) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10 and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3001 to .3015.

Additionally, When the Department presents a case for an administrative hearing, policy allows the Department to use the hearing summary as a guide when presenting the evidence, witnesses and exhibits that support the Department's position. See BAM 600, page 28. But BAM 600 also requires the Department to always include the following in planning the case presentation: (1) an explanation of the action(s) taken; (2) a summary of the policy or laws used to determine that the action taken was correct; (3) any clarifications by central office staff of the policy or laws used; (4) the facts which led to the conclusion that the policy is relevant to the disputed case action; (5) the DHS procedures ensuring that the client received adequate or timely notice of the proposed action and affording all other rights. See BAM 600 at page 28. This implies that the Department has the initial burden of going forward with evidence during an administrative hearing.

Placing the burden of proof on the Department is merely a question of policy and fairness, but it is also supported by Michigan law. In McKinstry v Valley Obstetrics-Gynecology Clinic, PC, 428 Mich 167; 405 NW2d 88 (1987), the Michigan Supreme Court, citing Kar v Hogan, 399 Mich 529; 251 NW2d 77 (1979), said:

The term “burden of proof” encompasses two separate meanings. 9 Wigmore, Evidence (Chadbourn rev), § 2483 et seq., pp 276 ff.; McCormick, Evidence (3d ed), § 336, p 946. One of these meanings is the burden of persuasion or the risk of nonpersuasion.

The Supreme Court then added:

The burden of producing evidence on an issue means the liability to an adverse ruling (generally a finding or a directed verdict) if evidence on the issue has not been produced. It is usually cast first upon the party who has pleaded the existence of the fact, but as we shall see, the burden may shift to the adversary when the pleader has his initial duty. The burden of producing evidence is a critical mechanism in a jury trial, as it empowers the judge to decide the case without jury consideration when a party fails to sustain the burden.

The burden of persuasion becomes a crucial factor only if the parties have sustained their burdens of producing evidence and only when all of the evidence has been introduced. See McKinstry, 428 Mich at 93-94, quoting McCormick, Evidence (3d ed), § 336, p 947.

In other words, the burden of producing evidence (i.e., going forward with evidence) involves a party’s duty to introduce enough evidence to allow the trier of fact to render a reasonable and informed decision. Thus, the Department must provide sufficient evidence to enable the Administrative Law Judge to ascertain whether the Department followed policy in a particular circumstance.

Here, the Department did not meet its burden of going forth with the evidence because it did not provide a Notice of Case Action. It is difficult to determine what happened with FAP and when without such notice, and it renders the FIP case unclear as well. Discrepancies between the Notice and the Hearing Summary or evidence are too frequent to conclude that the Notice that went to Claimant set forth that the action occurred due to the reasons presented during the hearing and in the manner presented. Indeed, the worker testified that the FIP closure occurred from April 1, 2014, but the Hearing Summary, which only addressed FIP despite Claimant’s request for a hearing on both FAP and FIP, stated that the effective date of the Decision was March 24, 2014. This calls in question whether the Department accurately recounted the decision during the hearing.

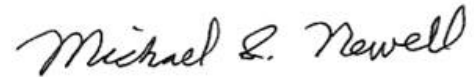

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, finds that the Department failed to satisfy its burden of showing that it acted in accordance with Department policy when it closed FIP and reduced FAP.
