MICHIGAN ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING SYSTEM
ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF:

[REDACTED]

Reg. No.: 15-004059
Issue No.: 4009
Case No.: [REDACTED]
Hearing Date: April 29, 2015
County: Wayne (35)

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Christian Gardocki

HEARING DECISION

Following Claimant's request for a hearing, this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and 400.37; 7 CFR 273.15 to 273.18; 42 CFR 431.200 to 431.250; 45 CFR 99.1 to 99.33; and 45 CFR 205.10. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on April 27, 2015, from Detroit, Michigan. Participants included the above-named Claimant, [REDACTED], Claimant's fiancée, and [REDACTED], Claimant's sister, testified on behalf of Claimant. Participants on behalf of the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) included [REDACTED], hearings facilitator.

ISSUE

The issue is whether DHHS properly denied Claimant's State Disability Assistance (SDA) eligibility for the reason that Claimant is not a disabled individual.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. On [REDACTED], Claimant applied for SDA benefits.
2. Claimant's only basis for SDA benefits was as a disabled individual.
3. On [REDACTED], the Medical Review Team (MRT) determined that Claimant was not a disabled individual (see Exhibits 8-9).
4. On [REDACTED], DHHS denied Claimant's application for SDA benefits and mailed a Notice of Case Action (Exhibits 5-6; 97-98) informing Claimant of the denial.

5. On [REDACTED], Claimant requested a hearing disputing the denial of SDA benefits.
6. As of the date of the administrative hearing, Claimant was a 59 year old male.
7. Claimant has not earned substantial gainful activity since before the first month of benefits sought.
8. Claimant's highest education year completed was the 12th grade.
9. Claimant has a history of semi-skilled employment, with no transferrable job skills.
10. Claimant alleged disability based on restrictions related to diagnoses of back problems.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program which provides financial assistance for disabled persons is established by 2004 PA 344. DHHS administers the SDA program pursuant to MCL 400.10, et seq., and MAC R 400.3151-400.3180. DHHS policies for SDA are found in the Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), the Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) and the Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

SDA provides financial assistance to disabled adults who are not eligible for Family Independence Program (FIP) benefits. BEM 100 (1/2013), p. 4. The goal of the SDA program is to provide financial assistance to meet a disabled person's basic personal and shelter needs. Id. To receive SDA, a person must be disabled, caring for a disabled person, or age 65 or older. BEM 261 (1/2012), p. 1. A person is disabled for SDA purposes if he/she:

- receives other specified disability-related benefits or services, see Other Benefits or Services below, or
- resides in a qualified Special Living Arrangement facility, or
- is certified as unable to work due to mental or physical disability for at least 90 days from the onset of the disability; or
- is diagnosed as having Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS).

Id.

There was no evidence that any of the above circumstances apply to Claimant. Accordingly, Claimant may not be considered for SDA eligibility without undergoing a medical review process (see BAM 815) which determines whether Claimant is a disabled individual. Id., p. 3.

Generally, state agencies such as DHHS must use the same definition of SSI disability as found in the federal regulations. 42 CFR 435.540(a). Disability is federally defined as the inability to do any substantial gainful activity (SGA) by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. 20 CFR 416.905. As noted above, SDA eligibility is based on a 90 day period of disability.

SGA means a person does the following: performs significant duties, does them for a reasonable length of time, and does a job normally done for pay or profit. Id., p. 9. Significant duties are duties used to do a job or run a business. Id. They must also have a degree of economic value. Id. The ability to run a household or take care of oneself does not, on its own, constitute SGA. Id.

The person claiming a physical or mental disability has the burden to establish a disability through the use of competent medical evidence from qualified medical sources such as his or her medical history, clinical/laboratory findings, diagnosis/prescribed treatment, prognosis for recovery and/or medical assessment of ability to do work-related activities or ability to reason and make appropriate mental adjustments, if a mental disability is alleged. 20 CFR 413.913. An individual's subjective pain complaints are not, in and of themselves, sufficient to establish disability. 20 CFR 416.908; 20 CFR 416.929(a).

Federal regulations describe a sequential five step process that is to be followed in determining whether a person is disabled. 20 CFR 416.920. If there is no finding of disability or lack of disability at each step, the process moves to the next step. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4).

The first step in the process considers a person's current work activity. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(i). A person who is earning more than a certain monthly amount is ordinarily considered to be engaging in SGA. The monthly amount depends on whether a person is statutorily blind or not. "Current" work activity is interpreted to include all time since the date of application. The 2014 monthly income limit considered SGA for non-blind individuals is $1,070.

Claimant credibly denied performing any employment since the date of the SDA application; no evidence was submitted to contradict Claimant's testimony. Based on the presented evidence, it is found that Claimant is not performing SGA and has not performed SGA since the date of application. Accordingly, the disability analysis may proceed to step two.

The second step in the disability evaluation is to determine whether a severe medically determinable physical or mental impairment exists to meet the 12 month duration requirement. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(ii). The impairments may be combined to meet the severity requirement. If a severe impairment is not found, then a person is deemed not disabled. Id. The 12 month durational period is applicable to MA benefits; as noted above, SDA eligibility requires only a 90 day duration of disability.

The impairments must significantly limit a person's basic work activities. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(5)(c). "Basic work activities" refers to the abilities and aptitudes necessary to do most jobs. Id. Examples of basic work activities include:

- physical functions (e.g. walking, standing, sitting, lifting, pushing, pulling, reaching, carrying, or handling)
- capacities for seeing, hearing, and speaking, understanding; carrying out, and remembering simple instructions
- use of judgment
- responding appropriately to supervision, co-workers and usual work situations; and/or
- dealing with changes in a routine work setting.

Generally, federal courts have imposed a de minimus standard upon claimants to establish the existence of a severe impairment. Grogan v. Barnhart, 399 F.3d 1257, 1263 (10th Cir. 2005); Hinkle v. Apfel, 132 F.3d 1349, 1352 (10th Cir. 1997). Higgs v Bowen, 880 F.2d 860, 862 (6th Cir. 1988). Similarly, Social Security Ruling 85-28 has been interpreted so that a claim may be denied at step two for lack of a severe impairment only when the medical evidence establishes a slight abnormality or combination of slight abnormalities that would have no more than a minimal effect on an individual's ability to work even if the individual's age, education, or work experience were specifically considered. Barrientos v. Secretary of Health and Human Servs., 820 F.2d 1, 2 (1st Cir. 1987). Social Security Ruling 85-28 has been clarified so that the step two severity requirement is intended "to do no more than screen out groundless claims." McDonald v. Secretary of Health and Human Servs., 795 F.2d 1118, 1124 (1st Cir. 1986).

SSA specifically notes that age, education, and work experience are not considered at the second step of the disability analysis. 20 CFR 416.920 (5)(c). In determining whether Claimant's impairments amount to a severe impairment, all other relevant evidence may be considered. The analysis will begin with a summary of presented medical documentation.

A summary of Claimant medical history was included in spinal surgeon notes (see Exhibit A1). Claimant reported ongoing back pain since 2013. Claimant reported that his pain began after he fell off of a ladder. Attempted treatments included the following: physical therapy (Claimant testified he had 10 sessions in 2014), epidural steroid injections, pain medications, and wearing of a back brace.

Physician office visit notes (Exhibits 44-46) dated [REDACTED], were presented. It was noted that Claimant reported not having any medications since October 2013. Blood test results (Exhibits 49-54) were attached. Attached cardiac testing (Exhibits 63-64) noted an impression of possible left atrial enlargement.

Physician office visit notes (Exhibit 44) dated [REDACTED], were presented. It was noted that Claimant reported lower back pain radiating to his right leg. A plan to prescribe various medications (Lisinopril, Levemir, Ibuprofen, and amitriptyline) was noted.

Physician office visit notes (Exhibits 42-43) dated [REDACTED], were presented. It was noted that Claimant reported right thigh and knee pain associated with lower back pain. It was noted that Claimant felt better after beginning insulin treatments two weeks prior.

Radiology reports of Claimant's knees (Exhibit 35-36; 61-62) dated [REDACTED], were presented. An impression of no acute fracture or dislocation was noted for both of Claimant's knees. Minimal osteoarthritis was noted in Claimant's right knee.

A radiology report of Claimant's lumbar spine (Exhibits 37; 60) dated [REDACTED], was presented. An impression of mild to moderate osteoarthritis was noted.

Physician office visit notes (Exhibits 41-42) dated [REDACTED], were presented. It was noted that Claimant was a daily smoker. Claimant's medications included Metformin, Loratadine, Glipizide, Levemir and Ibuprofen. It was noted that Claimant felt sluggish and ran out of insulin syringes. Impressions of arthralgia, DM (type II), and HTN were noted. A plan of a comprehensive metabolic panel was noted. Blood test results (Exhibits 55-59) were attached.

Physician office visit notes (Exhibit 69) dated [REDACTED], were presented. It was noted that Claimant complained of toe pain. Assessments of peripheral neuropathy and onychomycosis were noted.

An MRI report of Claimant's lumbar spine (Exhibits 39-40; 76-77) dated [REDACTED], [REDACTED] was presented. The report was done in response to Claimant's complaints of 3-year-long back pain radiating to his legs. An impression of degenerative disc degeneration with multi-level disc bulges resulting in mild canal stenosis at L4-L5 and L5-S1 was noted.

Physician office visit notes (Exhibit 67) dated [REDACTED] were presented. It was noted that Claimant complained of ingrown toenails and toe pain. Assessments of peripheral neuropathy and onychomycosis were noted.

A Medical Examination Report (Exhibits 85-87) dated [REDACTED], was presented. The form was completed by a family practice physician with an approximate 4 month history of treating Claimant. Claimant's physician listed diagnoses of lower back pain, DM, HTN, and anemia. A straight leg raising test was noted to be positive for each leg. An impression was given that Claimant's condition was stable. It was noted that Claimant requires assistance with cooking, laundry, cleaning, and dressing.

Physician office visit notes (Exhibit 66) dated [REDACTED], were presented. It was noted that Claimant reported right baby toe pain. An impression of intertrigo was noted. A baby toe debridement was performed. A prescription of Spectazole was noted.

Physician office visit notes (Exhibits 78-79) dated [REDACTED], were presented. Assessment of lumbar radiculopathy, uncontrolled DM, tobacco use, diabetic neuropathy, and uncontrolled HTN were noted.

A Medical Examination Report (Exhibits 73-75) dated [REDACTED], was presented. The form was completed by a family practice physician with no previous history of treating Claimant. Claimant's physician listed diagnoses of lumbar back pain, DM, HTN, anemia, and obesity. An impression was given that Claimant's back pain was stable. A straight leg raising test was noted to be positive for each leg. Paraspinal spasms were noted. It was noted that Claimant reported needing assistance with dressing, laundry, and cleaning.

An internal medicine examination report (Exhibits 14-30) dated [REDACTED], was presented. The report was noted as completed by a consultative physician. Claimant's complaints were noted to be back pain, diabetes, and hypertension. Claimant reported paresthesia in his right leg and foot. Notable physical examination findings included the following: +1 pitting edema in lower bilateral extremities, no muscle spasms, no joint deformity, slow gait, and no neurological abnormalities. It was noted that Claimant brought a cane though he did not use it during the examination. Reduced motions in lumbar flexion and hip forward flexion were noted. It was noted that Claimant could perform sitting, standing, bending, carrying, climbing stair, but each with pain. The examining physician noted impressions of diabetes, well-controlled HTN, and neuropathy.

Spinal surgeon progress notes (Exhibits A1-A6) dated [REDACTED], were presented. Reported pain levels were 6/10 in the back and 8/10 in legs. It was noted that Claimant could stand for 30 minutes. It was noted that Claimant could sit for 60 minutes while wearing a back brace. Claimant's lumbar pain was described as moderate-to-severe and chronic. Claimant's pain was noted as radiating to his lower extremities. It was noted that Claimant used a cane for ambulation. Full lumbar strength and lumbar reflexes were noted. Assessments of acquired spondylolisthesis and degenerative lumbar disease were noted. It was noted that Claimant failed conservative treatments and that a lumbar laminectomy and fusion of L4-S1 was planned.

Claimant testified that he has a surgical consultation scheduled in June 2015. Claimant testified that he cannot have surgery until he completely quits smoking.

Claimant testified that radiating back pain restricts his walking, standing, and lifting/carrying abilities. Claimant's testimony was consistent with presented medical treatment history.

It is found that Claimant established significant impairment to basic work activities for a period longer than 90 days. Accordingly, it is found that Claimant established having a severe impairment and the disability analysis may proceed to Step 3.

The third step of the sequential analysis requires a determination whether the Claimant's impairment, or combination of impairments, is listed in Appendix 1 of Subpart P of 20 CFR, Part 404. 20 CFR 416.920 (a)(4)(iii). If Claimant's impairments are listed and deemed to meet the 12 month requirement, then the claimant is deemed disabled. If the impairment is unlisted, then the analysis proceeds to the next step.

A listing for joint dysfunction (Listing 1.02) was considered based on Claimant's complaints of knee pain. The listing was rejected due to a failure to establish that Claimant is unable to ambulate effectively.

A listing for spinal disorders (Listing 1.04) was considered based on Claimant's lumbar treatment history. This listing was rejected due to a failure to establish a spinal disorder resulting in a compromised nerve root.

It is found that Claimant failed to establish meeting a SSA listing. Accordingly, the analysis moves to step four.

The fourth step in analyzing a disability claim requires an assessment of the Claimant's residual functional capacity (RFC) and past relevant employment. 20 CFR 416.920(a)(4)(iv). An individual is not disabled if it is determined that a claimant can perform past relevant work. Id.

Past relevant work is work that has been performed within the past 15 years that was a substantial gainful activity and that lasted long enough for the individual to learn the position. 20 CFR 416.960(b)(1). Vocational factors of age, education, and work experience, and whether the past relevant employment exists in significant numbers in the national economy is not considered. 20 CFR 416.960(b)(3). RFC is assessed based on impairment(s), and any related symptoms, such as pain, which may cause physical and mental limitations that affect what can be done in a work setting. RFC is the most that can be done, despite the limitations.

Claimant testified that his only employment since 1999 amounting to SGA income limits involved cooking. Claimant testified that he cooked for large groups (approximately 1000 people per day). Claimant testified that he was expected to move large pots (weighing approximately 25 pounds).

Claimant testified that he unable to perform the standing and lifting/carrying required of his former employment. Claimant's testimony was consistent with presented records. It is found that Claimant cannot perform past relevant employment and the disability analysis may proceed to the final step.

In the fifth step in the process, the individual's RFC in conjunction with his or her age, education, and work experience, are considered to determine whether the individual can engage in any other substantial gainful work which exists in the national economy. SSR 83-10. While a vocational expert is not required, a finding supported by substantial evidence that the individual has the vocational qualifications to perform specific jobs is needed to meet the burden. O'Banner v Sec of Health and Human Services, 587 F2d 321, 323 (CA 6, 1978). Medical-Vocational guidelines found at 20 CFR Subpart P, Appendix II, may be used to satisfy the burden of proving that the individual can perform specific jobs in the national economy. Heckler v Campbell, 461 US 458, 467 (1983); Kirk v Secretary, 667 F2d 524, 529 (CA 6, 1981) cert den 461 US 957 (1983).

To determine the physical demands (i.e. exertional requirements) of work in the national economy, jobs are classified as sedentary, light, medium, heavy, and very heavy. 20 CFR 416.967. The definitions for each are listed below.

Sedentary work involves lifting of no more than 10 pounds at a time and occasionally lifting or carrying articles like docket files, ledgers, and small tools. 20 CFR 416.967(a). Although a sedentary job is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out job duties. Id. Jobs are sedentary if walking and standing are required occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met.

Light work involves lifting no more than 20 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying objects weighing up to 10 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(b) Even though weight lifted may be very little, a job is in this category when it requires a good deal of walking or standing, or when it involves sitting most of the time with some pushing and pulling of arm or leg controls. Id. To be considered capable of performing a full or wide range of light work, an individual must have the ability to do substantially all of these activities. Id. An individual capable of light work is also capable of sedentary work, unless there are additionally limiting factors such as loss of fine dexterity or inability to sit for long periods of time. Id.

Medium work involves lifting no more than 50 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 25 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(c). An individual capable of performing medium work is also capable of light and sedentary work. Id.

Heavy work involves lifting no more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 50 pounds. 20 CFR 416.967(d). An individual capable of heavy work is also capable of medium, light, and sedentary work. Id.

Finally, very heavy work involves lifting objects weighing more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying objects weighing 50 pounds or more. 20 CFR 416.967(e). An individual capable of very heavy work is able to perform work under all categories. Id.

Limitations or restrictions which affect the ability to meet the demands of jobs other than strength demands are considered nonexertional. 20 CFR 416.969a(a). Examples of non-exertional limitations include difficulty functioning due to nervousness, anxiousness, or depression; difficulty maintaining attention or concentration; difficulty understanding or remembering detailed instructions; difficulty in seeing or hearing; difficulty tolerating some physical feature(s) of certain work settings (i.e. can't tolerate dust or fumes); or difficulty performing the manipulative or postural functions of some work such as reaching, handling, stooping, climbing, crawling, or crouching. 20 CFR 416.969a(c)(1)(i)-(vi) If the impairment(s) and related symptoms, such as pain, only affect the ability to perform the non-exertional aspects of work-related activities, the rules in Appendix 2 do not direct factual conclusions of disabled or not disabled. 20 CFR 416.969a(c)(2)

The determination of whether disability exists is based upon the principles in the appropriate sections of the regulations, giving consideration to the rules for specific case situations in Appendix 2. Id. In using the rules of Appendix 2, an individual's circumstances, as indicated by the findings with respect to RFC, age, education, and work experience, is compared to the pertinent rule(s).

Given Claimant's age, education and employment history a determination of disability is dependent on Claimant's ability to perform light employment. Social Security Rule 83-10 states that the full range of light work requires standing or walking, off and on, for a total of approximately 6 hours of an 8-hour workday.

Claimant testified that he can walk 1-1 ½ blocks before back pain prevents further walking. Claimant testified that he needs 10-15 minutes of rest before walking further. Claimant testified that he can stand 10-15 minutes before it feels like needles go through his back. Claimant's testimony was consistent with an inability to perform the standing required of light employment.

Claimant testified that his doctor prescribed a walker. Claimant's testimony was not verified though medical records consistently noted Claimant's use of a cane. Use of any walking-assistance device is consistent with an inability to perform light employment.

Claimant testified that he has to sit in a bathing chair to bathe. Claimant testified that he can't stand long enough to shower. Claimant testified that his fiancée helps him put on shoes and socks. Claimant testified that his fiancée financially supports him. Claimant testified that his fiancée also cooks and cleans for him. Claimant's testimony was consistent with physician statements that Claimant needs assistance with cooking, cleaning, and dressing.

Physician statements of restrictions were provided. Treating source opinions cannot be discounted unless the Administrative Law Judge provides good reasons for discounting the opinion. Rogers v. Commissioner, 486 F. 3d 234 (6th Cir. 2007); Bowen v Commissioner.

On a Medical Examination Report dated [REDACTED], Claimant's physician opined that Claimant was restricted as follows over an eight-hour workday: less than 2 hours of standing and/or walking, and less than 6 hours of sitting. Claimant's physician opined that Claimant was restricted from performing arm reaching. Claimant was completely restricted from any lifting/carrying.

On a Medical Examination Report dated [REDACTED], Claimant's physician opined that Claimant was restricted as follows over an eight-hour workday: less than 2 hours of standing and/or walking, and less than 6 hours of sitting. Claimant's physician opined that Claimant was restricted from performing arm reaching. Claimant was completely restricted from any lifting/carrying.

Both presented Medical Examination Report physician statements were consistent with restrictions that would prevent Claimant's ability to perform light employment. The restrictions were also consistent with Claimant's verified treatment history.

Based on the presented medical evidence, it is found that Claimant is unable to perform the requirements of light employment. For purposes of this decision, it will be found that Claimant can perform the requirements of sedentary employment.

Based on Claimant's exertional work level (sedentary), age (advanced age), education (high school with no direct entry into skilled employment), employment history (semi-skilled with no known transferrable skills), Medical-Vocational Rule 201.06 is found to apply. This rule dictates a finding that Claimant is disabled. Accordingly, it is found that DHHS improperly found Claimant to be not disabled for purposes of SDA benefits.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above findings of fact and conclusions of law finds that DHHS improperly denied Claimant's application for SDA benefits. It is ordered that DHHS:

- (1) reinstate Claimant's SDA benefit application dated [REDACTED];
- (2) evaluate Claimant's eligibility subject to the finding that Claimant is a disabled individual;
- (3) initiate a supplement for any benefits not issued as a result of the improper application denial; and
- (4) schedule a review of benefits in one year from the date of this administrative decision, if Claimant is found eligible for future benefits.

The actions taken by DHHS are REVERSED.
