ISSUE

Did the Department of Health and Human Services (Department) properly determine that the Claimant received an overissuance of Food Assistance Program (FAP) benefits that the Department is required to recoup?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

- 1. The Claimant was an ongoing Food Assistance Program (FAP) recipient from February 1, 2015, through June 30, 215.
- 2. The Claimant receives monthly Retirement, Survivors, and Disability Insurance (RSDI) in the gross monthly amount of $
- 3. ON June 17, 2015, the Department sent the Claimant a Notice of Overissuance (DHS-4358) informing her that she had received an overissuance of $
- 4. On June 25, 2015, the Department received the Claimant's request for a hearing protesting the recoupment of Food Assistance Program (FAP) benefits.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Health and Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Department of Health and Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), Department of Health and Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT), and Department of Health and Human Services Emergency Relief Manual (ERM).

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) [formerly known as the Food Stamp program] is established by the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, 7 USC 2011 to 2036a and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in 7 CFR 273. The Department (formerly known as the Department of Human Services) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10, the Social Welfare Act, MCL 400.1-.119b, and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3001-.3011.

All earned and unearned income available to the Claimant is countable. Earned income means income received from another person or organization or from self-employment for duties for duties that were performed for compensation or profit. Unearned income means all income that is not earned, including but not limited to funds received from the Family Independence Program (FIP), State Disability Assistance (SDA), Child Development and Care (CDC), Medicaid (MA), Social Security Benefits (RSDI/SSI), Veterans Administration (VA), Unemployment Compensation Benefits (UCB), Adult Medical Program (AMA), alimony, and child support payments. The amount counted may be more than the client actually receives because the gross amount is used prior to any deductions. Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM) 500 (July 1, 2014).

When a client group receives more benefits than it is entitled to receive, DHS must attempt to recoup the overissuance. Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM) 700 (May 1, 2014), p 1.

The Claimant was an ongoing FAP recipient from February 1, 2015, through June 30, 2015. The Claimant was receiving Retirement, Survivors, and Disability Insurance (RSDI) benefits in the gross monthly amount of Sector. The Department determined her FAP benefits based on the Claimant receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits in the gross monthly amount of Sector.

The Claimant argues that he reported her increase of income to the Department. The Department's representative acknowledged that the Claimant may have reported her increase of income and that the Department could have discovered this new source of income.

The Department issued the Claimant FAP benefits totaling $970 during the alleged overissuance period, which was based on her SSI income. If the Department had considered her RSDI income, she would have been eligible for only $80 of FAP benefits. Therefore, the Claimant received a $890 overissuance of FAP benefits.

The Department concedes that the overissuance should be attributed to Department error, but this does not excuse the Claimant from having to repay the benefits she was not eligible to receive.

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, finds that the Department acted in accordance with Department policy when it determined that the Claimant received a $890 overissuance of Food Assistance Program (FAP) due to Department error that the Department is required to recoup.

DECISION AND ORDER

Accordingly, the Department's decision is AFFIRMED.
