ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: Darryl Johnson

HEARING DECISION FOR INTENTIONAL PROGRAM VIOLATION

Upon the request for a hearing by the Department of Health and Human Services (Department), this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9, and in accordance with Titles 7, 42 and 45 of the Code of Federal Regulation (CFR), particularly 7 CFR 273.16 and 45 CFR 235.110; and with Mich Admin Code, R 400.3130 and 400.3178. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on May 17, 2016, from Lansing, Michigan. The Department was represented by Regulation Agent of the Office of Inspector General (OIG). The Respondent represented herself.

ISSUES

- 1. Did Respondent receive an overissuance (OI) of Child Development and Care (CDC) benefits that the Department is entitled to recoup?
- 2. Did the Department establish, by clear and convincing evidence, that Respondent committed an Intentional Program Violation (IPV)?
- 3. Should Respondent be disqualified from receiving benefits for CDC?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. The Department's OIG filed a hearing request on September 28, 2015, to establish an OI of benefits received by Respondent as a result of Respondent having allegedly committed an IPV.

- 2. The OIG has requested that Respondent be disqualified from receiving program benefits.
- 3. Respondent was a recipient of CDC benefits issued by the Department.
- 4. Respondent was aware of the responsibility to report changes in employment and income of group members.
- 5. Respondent did not have an apparent physical or mental impairment that would limit the understanding or ability to fulfill this requirement.
- 6. The Department's OIG indicates that the time period it is considering the fraud period is January 1, 2012 through March 9, 2013 (fraud period).
- During the fraud period, Respondent was issued $ in CDC benefits by the State of Michigan, and the Department alleges that Respondent was entitled to $ in such benefits during this time period.
- 8. The Department alleges that Respondent received an OI in CDC benefits in the amount of $10000000.
- 9. This was Respondent's first alleged IPV.
- 10. A notice of hearing was mailed to Respondent at the last known address and was not returned by the US Post Office as undeliverable.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Health and Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), Adult Services Manual (ASM), and Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

The Child Development and Care (CDC) program is established by Titles IV-A, IV-E and XX of the Social Security Act, 42 USC 601-619, 670-679c, and 1397-1397m-5; the Child Care and Development Block Grant of 1990, PL 101-508, 42 USC 9858 to 9858q; and the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, PL 104-193. The program is implemented by 45 CFR 98.1-99.33. The Department administers the program pursuant to MCL 400.10 and provides services to adults and children pursuant to MCL 400.14(1) and Mich Admin Code, R 400.5001-.5020.

Effective October 1, 2014, the Department's OIG requests IPV hearings for the following cases:

• Willful overpayments of $500.00 or more under the AHH program.

- FAP trafficking overissuances that are not forwarded to the prosecutor.
- Prosecution of welfare fraud or FAP trafficking is declined by the prosecutor for a reason other than lack of evidence, and
 - The total amount for the FIP, SDA, CDC, MA and FAP programs combined is $500 or more, or
 - the total amount is less than $500, and
 - ➢ the group has a previous IPV, or
 - > the alleged IPV involves FAP trafficking, or
 - the alleged fraud involves concurrent receipt of assistance (see BEM 222), or
 - the alleged fraud is committed by a state/government employee.

BAM 720 (1/1/16), p. 12; ASM 165 (5/1/13), p. 1.

Intentional Program Violation

Suspected IPV means an OI exists for which all three of the following conditions exist:

- The client intentionally failed to report information or intentionally gave incomplete or inaccurate information needed to make a correct benefit determination, and
- The client was clearly and correctly instructed regarding his or her reporting responsibilities, and
- The client has no apparent physical or mental impairment that limits his or her understanding or ability to fulfill reporting responsibilities.

BAM 700 (1/1/16), p. 6; BAM 720, p. 1.

An IPV is also suspected for a client who is alleged to have trafficked FAP benefits. BAM 720, p. 1.

An IPV requires that the Department establish by clear and convincing evidence that the client has intentionally withheld or misrepresented information for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, increasing or preventing reduction of program benefits or eligibility. BAM 720, p. 1 (emphasis in original); see also 7 CFR 273(e)(6). Clear and convincing evidence is evidence sufficient to result in a clear and firm belief that the proposition is true. See M Civ JI 8.01.

In this case, Respondent was awarded CDC at a time when she and her husband were both working. His employment ended at the end of 2011, but that was not reported to the Department. Respondent testified that she believed the Department was automatically aware of the fact that her husband had gone from being employed to receiving unemployment compensation benefits, so she did not think she needed to report the change. However, the Department mailed to Respondent (Exhibit 1 Page 44) a Notice of Case Action on February 10, 2012, which said that they were approved for CDC based upon both of them being employed. She was also reminded (Page 50) that she needed to report changes in employment and income. She did not report either change. She did not deny that her husband was on unemployment. His bi-weekly benefits are shown in Exhibit 1 Pages 12-20. He had several periods of unemployment from 2009-2012.

The issue to be decided is whether Respondent intentionally violated program rules by not notifying the Department of her husband's change in employment and income. I am convinced she deliberately withheld the information from the Department. When she completed an application (Exhibit 1 Page 30) that was submitted on May 9, 2011, she said that her husband was working 20-25 hours per week. She also reported (Page 33) that he had been receiving unemployment but that it was not expected to continue. The unemployment records show that he continued to file his unemployment claim bi-weekly for more than four months, and that he was claiming almost full benefits in every claim. That indicates he was claiming that his earnings were very low for unemployment purposes, while the Department was paying 95% of the cost for two children to spend up to 80 hours in day care every two weeks. Although that is not part of the fraud period, it does provide evidence that Respondent and her husband were less than forthcoming in reporting information to the State regarding their eligibility to receive benefits.

The Department has presented clear and convincing evidence that Respondent committed an IPV in the CDC program.

Disqualification

A client who is found to have committed a CDC IPV by a court or hearing decision is disqualified from receiving program benefits. BAM 720, p.15. Clients are disqualified for ten years for a FAP IPV involving concurrent receipt of benefits, and, for all other IPV cases involving FIP, FAP or SDA, for standard disqualification periods of one year for the first IPV, two years for the second IPV, and lifetime for the third IPV. BAM 720, p. 16. CDC clients who intentionally violate CDC program rules are disqualified for six months for the first occurrence, twelve months for the second occurrence, and lifetime for the third occurrence. BEM 708, p. 1. A disqualified recipient remains a member of an active group as long as he/she lives with them, and other eligible group members may continue to receive benefits. BAM 720, p. 15.

In this case, Respondent committed an IPV in the CDC program. This is her first IPV and therefore she will be disqualified for six months in the CDC program.

Overissuance

When a client group receives more benefits than entitled to receive, the Department must attempt to recoup the OI. BAM 700, p. 1.

In this case, the Department has presented clear and convincing evidence that Respondent was receiving monthly in CDC for nearly 28 months. See Exhibit 1 Pages 21-25. The Department has indicated it believes monthly in CDC for nearly 28 months. See Exhibit 1 evidence as to why it believes this is not readily apparent) so that will be deducted from the total, leaving an OI of monthly in CDC which is to be recouped.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, concludes that:

- 1. The Department has established by clear and convincing evidence that Respondent committed an IPV.
- 2. Respondent received an OI of program benefits in the amount of $ from the CDC program.

The Department is ORDERED to initiate recoupment/collection procedures for the amount of $ 1000 in accordance with Department policy.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that Respondent be disqualified from CDC for a period of six months.
