HEARING DECISION

Following Petitioner's request for a hearing, this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9 and 400.37; 42 CFR 431.200 to 431.250; and 45 CFR 205.10. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on October 18, 2016, from Lansing, Michigan. The Petitioner was represented by himself with his friend, [REDACTED] as a witness. The Department of Health and Human Services (Department) was represented by [REDACTED], Hearing Facilitator. The record was left open for additional medical records, which was received on October 24, 2016 and the record was closed.

ISSUE

Whether the Department properly determined that Petitioner was not disabled for purposes of the State Disability Assistance (SDA) benefit programs?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based upon the competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. On April 16, 2015, the Petitioner applied for SDA.
2. On July 22, 2016, the Medical Review Team (MRT) denied the Petitioner's application for SDA is denied per BEM 261 because the nature and severity of the Petitioner's impairment's would not preclude work activity at the above stated level for 90 days and is capable of performing other work under Medical Vocation Grid Rule 202.20 per 20 CFR 416.920(f).

3. On August 31, 2016, the Department Caseworker sent the Petitioner a notice that his application was denied.
4. On September 15, 2016, the Department received a hearing request from the Petitioner, contesting the Department's negative action.
5. The Petitioner is a [REDACTED] year-old man whose date of birth is [REDACTED]. The Petitioner is [REDACTED] tall and weighs [REDACTED] pounds. The Petitioner completed the 9th grade of High School and has a GED. The Petitioner can read and write and do basic math. The Petitioner was incarcerated from 2010 through 2011 and 2013 through 2015. He was last employed for a temporary service for a couple month in 2004 as a laborer at the light to medium level.
6. The Petitioner's alleged impairments are headaches-migraines, herniated discs in back and neck, he stated in 1998 fell 3 stories, in 1996 he was beaten by the police, and 2004 he had a car accident, bipolar disorder, mood swings, paranoia, schizoaffective disorder, balance and numbness issues.
7. The Petitioner was seen by his treating psychiatrist on [REDACTED] for a psychiatric evaluation. He was diagnosed with anxiety disorder, NOS and major depressive disorder, recurrent, severe, with psychosis. He was given a GAF of [REDACTED]. The Petitioner has psychiatric issues for a long time without treatment due to both head injuries and longstanding depression. He does have difficulty with self-control. He has found medication helpful and reports less psychotic symptoms and better sleep. His mood is somewhat improved, but he is still very anxious. He had a blunt affect. He had auditory hallucinations, but there are improved with his medication. He did have delusions, but no suicidal ideation. There was no evidence of homicidal or suicidal ideations. Petitioner Exhibit 1, pgs. 176-184.
8. On [REDACTED], the Petitioner underwent a mental status examination at [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [REDACTED]. He complained of headaches, problems with concentration, shoulder pain, and voices mumbling in his head. He denied homicidal or suicidal ideation, but admitted to voices to hearing voices. He had had a dull and blunted affect. His mood was emotionless. He was diagnosed with borderline intellectual functioning, rule out cognitive disorder secondary to history of brain injuries. Mood disorder secondary to traumatic brain injuries managed with medication. Alcohol abuse in remission. His prognosis was fair to guarded. He is able to manage his benefit funds. There are no cognitive impairments that would prevent him from engaging in work related activities or follow simple 2 to 3 step directions. Since he remains compliance with psychiatric medications, he should be able to perform routine work related activities and appropriately interact with others. Department Exhibit 1, pgs. 4-8.

9. On [REDACTED], the Petitioner was seen by his treating psychiatrist. He had auditory hallucinations. He denied suicidal and homicidal ideations. He was diagnosed with anxiety disorder, NOS and major depressive disorder, recurrent, severe, with psychosis. He was a GAF of [REDACTED]. He reported disappointment and irritability with DHHS situation. He tends to ruminate over issues and has difficulty managing his situation. His Prozac medication was increased to improve his mood and increase stability. His medications were continued as they are helpful and he has no side effect from them with decreased anxiety and auditory hallucinations. He was encouraged to continue with therapy. Petitioner Exhibit 1, pgs 63-69.
10. On [REDACTED], the Petitioner was seen by his treating physician for a 1 month follow up. He was diagnosed with degenerative joint disease (djd), herniated nucleus pulposus, anxiety disorder, unspecified, and major depressive disorder, single episode, unspecified. He was provided medications for his dj. Department Exhibit 1, pgs. 44-48.
11. On [REDACTED], the Petitioner's treating psychiatrist found him markedly limited in all areas of the Mental Residual Functional Capacity Assessment. He cannot take care of any financial issues alone. He is withdrawn, isolative, and misinterpretations of other's intention. His GAF was [REDACTED] to [REDACTED]. He would be absent from work 4 days a month from his mental conditions. His diagnosis was depression, major, severe recurrent with psychotic features. Petitioner Exhibit 1, pgs 58-60.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Department of Human Services Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and Department of Human Services Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

The State Disability Assistance (SDA) program, which provides financial assistance for disabled persons, was established by 2004 PA 344. The Department administers the SDA program pursuant to 42 CFR 435, MCL 400.10 et seq. and Mich Admin Code, Rules 400.3151 – 400.3180. A person is considered disabled for SDA purposes if the person has a physical or mental impairment which meets federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability standards for at least ninety days. Receipt of SSI benefits based on disability or blindness, or the receipt of MA benefits based on disability or blindness, automatically qualifies an individual as disabled for purposes of the SDA program.

The Department conforms to State statute in administering the SDA program.

2000 PA 294, Sec. 604, of the statute states:

Sec. 604. (1) The department shall operate a state disability assistance program. Except as provided in subsection (3), persons eligible for this program shall include needy citizens of the United States or aliens exempted from the supplemental security income citizenship requirement who are at least 18 years of age or emancipated minors meeting 1 or more of the following requirements:

- (a) A recipient of supplemental security income, social security, or medical assistance due to disability or 65 years of age or older.
- (b) A person with a physical or mental impairment which meets federal supplemental security income disability standards, except that the minimum duration of the disability shall be 90 days. Substance abuse alone is not defined as a basis for eligibility.

Pursuant to Federal Rule 42 CFR 435.540, the Department uses the Federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) policy in determining eligibility for disability. Under SSI, disability is defined as:

...the inability to do any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.... 20 CFR 416.905.

A set order is used to determine disability. Current work activity, severity of impairments, residual functional capacity, past work, age, or education and work experience are reviewed. If there is a finding that an individual is disabled or not disabled at any point in the review, there will be no further evaluation. 20 CFR 416.920.

Medical evidence may contain medical opinions. Medical opinions are statements from physicians and psychologists or other acceptable medical sources that reflect judgments about the nature and severity of the impairment(s), including symptoms, diagnosis and prognosis, what an individual can do despite impairment(s), and the physical or mental restrictions. 20 CFR 416.927(a)(2).

The Administrative Law Judge is responsible for making the determination or decision about whether the statutory definition of disability is met. The Administrative Law Judge reviews all medical findings and other evidence that support a medical source's statement of disability. 20 CFR 416.927(e).

For mental disorders, severity is assessed in terms of the functional limitations imposed by the impairment. Functional limitations are assessed using the criteria in paragraph (B) of the listings for mental disorders (descriptions of restrictions of activities of daily living, social functioning; concentration, persistence or pace; and ability to tolerate increased mental demands associated with competitive work). 20 CFR, Part 404, Subpart P, Appendix 1, 12.00(C).

The residual functional capacity is what an individual can do despite limitations. All impairments will be considered in addition to ability to meet certain demands of jobs in the national economy. Physical demands, mental demands, sensory requirements and other functions will be evaluated. 20 CFR 416.945(a).

To determine the physical demands (exertional requirements) of work in the national economy, we classify jobs as sedentary, light, medium and heavy. These terms have the same meaning as they have in the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, published by the Department of Labor. 20 CFR 416.967.

Pursuant to 20 CFR 416.920, a five-step sequential evaluation process is used to determine disability. An individual's current work activity, the severity of the impairment, the residual functional capacity, past work, age, education and work experience are evaluated. If an individual is found disabled or not disabled at any point, no further review is made.

The first step is to determine if an individual is working and if that work is "substantial gainful activity" (SGA). If the work is SGA, an individual is not considered disabled regardless of medical condition, age or other vocational factors. 20 CFR 416.920(b).

Secondly, the individual must have a medically determinable impairment that is "severe" or a combination of impairments that is "severe." 20 CFR 404.1520(c). An impairment or combination of impairments is "severe" within the meaning of regulations if it significantly limits an individual's ability to perform basic work activities. An impairment or combination of impairments is "not severe" when medical and other evidence establish only a slight abnormality or a combination of slight abnormalities that would have no more than a minimal effect on an individual's ability to work. 20 CFR 404.1521; Social Security Rulings (SSRs) 85-28, 96-3p, and 96-4p. If the Petitioner does not have a severe medically determinable impairment or combination of impairments, the Petitioner is not disabled. If the Petitioner has a severe impairment or combination of impairments, the analysis proceeds to the third step.

The third step in the process is to assess whether the impairment or combination of impairments meets a Social Security listing. If the impairment or combination of impairments meets or is the medically equivalent of a listed impairment as set forth in Appendix 1 and meets the durational requirements of 20 CFR 404.1509, the individual is considered disabled. If it does not, the analysis proceeds to the next step.

Before considering step four of the sequential evaluation process, the trier must determine the Petitioner's residual functional capacity. 20 CFR 404.1520(e). An individual's residual functional capacity is his ability to do physical and mental work activities on a sustained basis despite limitations from his impairments. In making this finding, the trier must consider all of the Petitioner's impairments, including impairments that are not severe. 20 CFR 404.1520(e) and 404.1545; SSR 96-8p.

The fourth step of the process is whether the Petitioner has the residual functional capacity to perform the requirements of his past relevant work. 20 CFR 404.1520(f). The term past relevant work means work performed (either as the Petitioner actually performed it or as is it generally performed in the national economy) within the last 15 years or 15 years prior to the date that disability must be established. If the Petitioner has the residual functional capacity to do past relevant work, then the Petitioner is not disabled. If the Petitioner is unable to do any past relevant work or does not have any past relevant work, the analysis proceeds to the fifth step.

In the fifth step, an individual's residual functional capacity is considered in determining whether disability exists. An individual's age, education, work experience and skills are used to evaluate whether an individual has the residual functional capacity to perform work despite limitations. 20 CFR 416.920(e).

Here, the Petitioner has satisfied requirements as set forth in steps one and two of the sequential evaluation. However, the Petitioner's impairments do not meet a listing as set forth in Appendix 1, 20 CFR 416.926 for step 3. Therefore, vocational factors will be considered to determine the Petitioner's residual functional capacity to do relevant work and past relevant work.

In the present case, the Petitioner was seen by his treating psychiatrist on [REDACTED] for a psychiatric evaluation. He was diagnosed with anxiety disorder, NOS and major depressive disorder, recurrent, severe, with psychosis. He was given a GAF of 45. The Petitioner has psychiatric issues for a long time without treatment due to both head injuries and longstanding depression. He does have difficulty with self-control. He has found medication helpful and reports less psychotic symptoms and better sleep. His mood is somewhat improved, but he is still very anxious. He had a blunt affect. He had auditory hallucinations, but there are improved with his medication. He did have delusions, but no suicidal ideation. There was no evidence of homicidal or suicidal ideations. Petitioner Exhibit 1, pgs. 176-184.

On [REDACTED], the Petitioner underwent a mental status examination at [REDACTED]. He complained of headaches, problems with concentration, shoulder pain, and voices mumbling in his head. He denied homicidal or suicidal ideation, but admitted to voices to hearing voices. He had had a dull and blunted affect. His mood was emotionless. He was diagnosed with borderline intellectual functioning, rule out cognitive disorder secondary to history of brain injuries. Mood disorder secondary to traumatic brain injuries managed with medication. Alcohol abuse in remission. His prognosis was fair to guarded. He is able to manage his benefit funds. There are no cognitive impairments that would prevent him from engaging in work related activities or follow simple 2 to 3 step directions. Since he remains compliance with psychiatric medications, he should be able to perform routine work related activities and appropriately interact with others. Department Exhibit 1, pgs. 4-8.

On [REDACTED], the Petitioner was seen by his treating psychiatrist. He had auditory hallucinations. He denied suicidal and homicidal ideations. He was diagnosed with anxiety disorder, NOS and major depressive disorder, recurrent, severe, with psychosis. He was a GAF of 48. He reported disappointment and irritability with DHHS situation. He tends to ruminate over issues and has difficulty managing his situation. His Prozac medication was increased to improve his mood and increase stability. His medications were continued as they are helpful and he has no side effect from them with decreased anxiety and auditory hallucinations. He was encouraged to continue with therapy. Petitioner Exhibit 1, pgs 63-69.

On [REDACTED], the Petitioner was seen by his treating physician for a 1 month follow up. He was diagnosed with degenerative joint disease (djd), herniated nucleus pulposus, anxiety disorder, unspecified, and major depressive disorder, single episode, unspecified. He was provided medications for his djd. Department Exhibit 1, pgs. 44-48.

On [REDACTED], the Petitioner's treating psychiatrist found him markedly limited in all areas of the Mental Residual Functional Capacity Assessment. He cannot take care of any financial issues alone. He is withdrawn, isolative, and misinterpretations of other's intention. His GAF was 45 to 48. He would be absent from work 4 days a month from his mental conditions. His diagnosis was depression, major, severe recurrent with psychotic features. Petitioner Exhibit 1, pgs 58-60.

It is the finding of this Administrative Law Judge, based upon the medical evidence and objective, physical and psychological findings that the Petitioner testified that he does not perform most of his daily living activities. However, that is not supported by the objective medical evidence on the record where the Petitioner was independently completing his activities of daily living. The Petitioner does feel that his condition has worsened because he has fallen and increased fatigue. The Petitioner stated that he does have mental impairments where he is taking medication and in therapy at the [REDACTED]. The Petitioner stopped smoking in 2011 where before he smoked a pack of cigarettes every 2 days. He stopped drinking in 2010, which before he drunk occasionally. He stopped using illegal and illicit drugs of marijuana when he was a teenager after trying it a few times. The Petitioner did not feel there was any work he could do.

At Step 4, this Administrative Law Judge finds that the Petitioner has not established that he cannot perform any of his prior work. The Petitioner was incarcerated from 2010 through 2011 and 2013 through 2015. He was last employed for a temporary service for a couple month in 2004 as a laborer at the light to medium level. The Petitioner is in therapy and taking medication for his mental impairments. Therefore, the Petitioner is disqualified from receiving disability at Step 4. The Petitioner is capable of performing his past work at the simple, unskilled, light level. However, the Administrative Law Judge will still proceed through the sequential evaluation process to determine whether or not the Petitioner has the residual functional capacity to perform some other less strenuous tasks than in his prior jobs.

The objective medical evidence on the record is insufficient that the Petitioner lacks the residual functional capacity to perform some other less strenuous tasks than in his previous employment or that he is physically unable to do any tasks demanded of him. The Petitioner's testimony as to his limitation indicates his limitations are non-exertional and exertional.

For mental disorders, severity is assessed in terms of the functional limitations imposed by the impairment. Functional limitations are assessed using the criteria in paragraph (B) of the listings for mental disorders (descriptions of restrictions of activities of daily living, social functioning; concentration, persistence, or pace; and ability to tolerate increased mental demands associated with competitive work).... 20 CFR, Part 404, Subpart P, App. 1, 12.00(C).

In the instant case, the Petitioner testified that he bipolar disorder, mood swings, paranoia, and schizoaffective disorder. The Petitioner is taking medication and in therapy for his mental impairments. See MA analysis step 2. There was no evidence of risk factors. He did have auditory hallucinations that were minimized with medications. He had a GAF that ranged from 45 to 48, which is serious symptoms or any serious impairment in social, occupational, or school functioning. The Petitioner is capable of performing simple, unskilled, light work.

In the final step of the analysis, the trier of fact must determine if the Petitioner's impairment(s) prevent the Petitioner from doing other work. 20 CFR 416.920(f). This determination is based upon the Petitioner's:

1. residual functional capacity defined simply as "what can you still do despite your limitations?" 20 CFR 416.945;
2. age, education, and work experience, 20 CFR 416.963-965; and
3. the kinds of work which exist in significant numbers in the national economy which the Petitioner could perform despite her limitations. 20 CFR 416.966.

The residual functional capacity is what an individual can do despite limitations. All impairments will be considered in addition to ability to meet certain demands of jobs in the national economy. Physical demands, mental demands, sensory requirements and other functions will be evaluated. 20 CFR 416.945(a).

To determine the physical demands (exertional requirements) of work in the national economy, we classify jobs as sedentary, light, medium and heavy. These terms have the same meaning as they have in the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, published by the Department of Labor. 20 CFR 416.967.

Sedentary work. Sedentary work involves lifting no more than 10 pounds at a time and occasionally lifting or carrying articles like docket files, ledgers, and small tools. Although a sedentary job is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out job duties. Jobs are sedentary if walking and standing are required occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met. 20 CFR 416.967(a).

Light work. Light work involves lifting no more than 20 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 10 pounds. Even though the weight lifted may be very little; a job is in this category when it requires a good deal of walking or standing, or when it involves sitting most of the time with some pushing and pulling of arm or leg controls. 20 CFR 416.967(b).

Medium work. Medium work involves lifting no more than 50 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 25 pounds. If someone can do medium work, we determine that he or she can also do sedentary and light work. 20 CFR 416.967(c).

Heavy work. Heavy work involves lifting no more than 100 pounds at a time with frequent lifting or carrying of objects weighing up to 50 pounds. If someone can do heavy work, we determine that he or she can also do medium, light, and sedentary work. 20 CFR 416.967(d).

At Step 5, the Petitioner can meet the physical requirements of light work, based upon the Petitioner's physical abilities. Under the Medical-Vocational guidelines, a younger age individual with a high school equivalent education, and an unskilled work history, who is limited to light work, is considered not disabled. 20 CFR 404, Subpart P, Appendix 2, Rule 202.20. The Medical-Vocational guidelines are not strictly applied with non-exertional impairments such as bipolar disorder, mood swings, paranoia, and schizoaffective disorder. 20 CFR 404, Subpart P, Appendix 2, Section 200.00. Using the Medical-Vocational guidelines as a framework for making this decision and after giving full consideration to the Petitioner's mental and physical impairments, the Administrative Law Judge finds that the Petitioner could perform simple, unskilled, light work and that the Petitioner does not meet the definition of disabled under the SDA program.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, finds Petitioner not disabled for purposes of the SDA benefit program. The Petitioner could perform simple, unskilled, light work and that the Petitioner does not meet the definition of disabled under the SDA program.

Accordingly, the Department's determination is AFFIRMED.
