HEARING DECISION FOR INTENTIONAL PROGRAM VIOLATION

Upon the request for a hearing by the Department of Health and Human Services (Department), this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9, and in accordance with Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulation (CFR), particularly 7 CFR 273.16. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on July 3, 2018, from Lansing, Michigan. The Department was represented by Dana Mikko, Regulation Agent of the Office of Inspector General (OIG). Respondent, [REDACTED] did not appear. The hearing was held in Respondent's absence pursuant to 7 CFR 273.16(e)(4).

ISSUES

1. Did Respondent receive an overissuance (OI) of Food Assistance Program (FAP) benefits that the Department is entitled to recoup?
2. Did the Department establish, by clear and convincing evidence, that Respondent committed an Intentional Program Violation (IPV)?
3. Should Respondent be disqualified from receiving FAP benefits?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. On August 11, 2015, Respondent applied for assistance from the Department, including food assistance. The Department found Respondent eligible and issued benefits to her.
2. On August 23, 2016, the Department issued a Notice of Case Action to the Respondent. The Notice of Case Action advised Respondent that she was approved for FAP benefits. The Notice of Case Action instructed Respondent to report to the Department within 10 days after the end of the month if her monthly income exceeded $3,078.00.

3. Respondent did not have any apparent physical or mental impairment that would limit her understanding or ability to fulfill her requirements to the Department.
4. The Department performed a wage match and discovered that Respondent's income exceeded $3,078.00 in October and November of 2016.
5. Respondent had not reported that her income exceeded $3,078.00 in October and November of 2016.
6. On January 18, 2018, the Department's OIG filed a hearing request to establish that Respondent received an overissuance of benefits and that Respondent committed an IPV.
7. The OIG requested Respondent be disqualified from receiving FAP benefits for 12 months for a first IPV. The OIG requested the establishment of an overissuance of $762.00 in FAP benefits for May 1, 2016 through June 30, 2016, and $914.00 in FAP benefits for October 1, 2016, through November 30, 2016.
8. A notice of hearing was mailed to Respondent at her last known address and was not returned by the United States Postal Service as undeliverable.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Health and Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) [formerly known as the Food Stamp program] is established by the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, 7 USC 2011 to 2036a and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in 7 CFR 273. The Department (formerly known as the Department of Human Services) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10; the Social Welfare Act, MCL 400.1-.119b; and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3001 to .3015.

Overissuance

An overissuance is the amount of benefits issued to the client group in excess of what it was eligible to receive. BAM 700 (October 1, 2016), p. 1. When a client group receives more benefits than entitled to receive, the Department must attempt to recoup the overissuance. BAM 700, p. 1. In this case, the Department has not established that Respondent received an overissuance. The Department alleged that Respondent received an overissuance because her income exceeded her simplified reporting limit, but the Department did not present sufficient evidence to establish that Respondent's income actually exceeded her simplified reporting limit as alleged. Therefore, an overissuance has not been established.

Intentional Program Violation

The Department's policy in effect at the time of Respondent's alleged IPV defined an IPV as an overissuance in which the following three conditions exist: (1) The client intentionally failed to report information or intentionally gave incomplete or inaccurate information needed to make a correct benefit determination, and (2) The client was clearly and correctly instructed regarding his or her reporting responsibilities, and (3) The client has no apparent physical or mental impairment that limits his or her understanding or ability to fulfill their reporting responsibilities. BAM 720 (October 1, 2014) p. 1.

An IPV requires that the Department establish by clear and convincing evidence that the client has intentionally withheld or misrepresented information for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, increasing or preventing reduction of program benefits or eligibility. BAM 720, p. 1; see also 7 CFR 273.16(e)(6). Clear and convincing evidence is evidence which is so clear, direct, weighty, and convincing that it enables a firm belief as to the truth of the allegations sought to be established. In re Martin, 450 Mich 204, 227; 538 NW2d 399 (1995) (citing In re Jobes, 108 NJ 394 (1987)).

In this case, the Department has not met its burden. An IPV (non-trafficking) is defined as an overissuance in which three conditions exist. Thus, in order for a non-trafficking IPV to be established, there must have been an overissuance. There is no allegation of trafficking here and the Department has not established an overissuance, so an IPV cannot be established.

Disqualification

A client who is found to have committed an IPV by a court or hearing decision is disqualified from receiving program benefits. BAM 720, p. 15-16. In general, clients are disqualified for standard disqualification periods of one year for the first IPV, two years for the second IPV, and lifetime for the third IPV. BAM 720, p. 16. A disqualified recipient remains a member of an active group as long as he/she lives with them, and other eligible group members may continue to receive benefits. BAM 720, p. 16.

In this case, the Department did not establish that Respondent committed an IPV. Thus, Respondent is not subject to a disqualification.

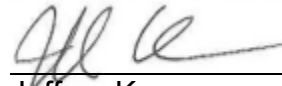

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge based upon the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, concludes that:

1. The Department has not established that Respondent received an overissuance of FAP benefits.
2. The Department has not established, by clear and convincing evidence, that Respondent committed an IPV.
3. Respondent should not be disqualified from receiving FAP benefits.

IT IS ORDERED THAT Respondent shall not be disqualified from FAP benefits.
