ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE: John Markey

HEARING DECISION FOR INTENTIONAL PROGRAM VIOLATION

Upon the request for a hearing by the Department of Health and Human Services (Department), this matter is before the undersigned Administrative Law Judge pursuant to MCL 400.9, and in accordance with Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulation (CFR), particularly 7 CFR 273.16. After due notice, a telephone hearing was held on December 12, 2019 from Detroit, Michigan. The Department was represented by ██████████ ██████████ Regulation Agent of the Office of Inspector General (OIG). Respondent did not appear. The hearing was held in Respondent's absence pursuant to 7 CFR 273.16(e). During the hearing, a 59-page packet of documents was offered and admitted into evidence as Exhibit A, pp. 1-59.

ISSUES

1. Did Respondent traffic Food Assistance Program (FAP) benefits that the Department is entitled to recoup?
2. Did the Department establish, by clear and convincing evidence, that Respondent committed an Intentional Program Violation (IPV) with respect to FAP?
3. Should Respondent be disqualified from receiving FAP benefits?

FINDINGS OF FACT

The Administrative Law Judge, based on the competent, material, and substantial evidence on the whole record, finds as material fact:

1. On ██████████, 2017, Respondent submitted to the Department an application for FAP benefits. Exhibit A, pp. 15-54.

2. On the application, Respondent acknowledged that she received, reviewed, and agreed with the pamphlet entitled "Important Things to Know." Exhibit A, p. 36.
3. The "Important Things to Know" pamphlet advised Respondent that trading, selling, or misusing FAP benefits was considered FAP trafficking and that such action violated the law and if proven, would result in criminal and/or civil penalties, including disqualification from the program. Exhibit A, pp. 43-45.
4. Respondent did not have any apparent physical or mental impairment that would limit her understanding or ability to fulfill her responsibilities to the Department. Exhibit A, p. 23.
5. Respondent was approved for FAP benefits. Exhibit A, pp. 55-57.
6. On October 9, 2017, Respondent's EBT card was used to make one transaction at a [REDACTED] location in [REDACTED], Michigan. The receipt shows that Respondent's $188 purchase consisted of five cases of Red Bull energy drinks and nothing more. On November 3, 2019, Respondent's EBT card was used to make one transaction at a [REDACTED] location in [REDACTED] Township, Michigan. The receipt shows that Respondent's $299.12 purchase consisted of eight cases of Red Bull energy drinks and nothing more. Exhibit A, pp. 10-12.
7. From October 9, 2017 until December 4, 2017, Respondent did not use her FAP benefits to purchase anything except bulk quantities of Red Bull. Exhibit A, p. 13.
8. Respondent's case was flagged for fraud, and the OIG investigated the matter.
9. Respondent's transaction history and account information was reviewed, and it was concluded that Respondent's GFS transactions were not bona fide purchases of eligible food products meant for household consumption.
10. It was further concluded that sufficient evidence existed to allege an IPV against Respondent for engaging in fraudulent trafficking of FAP benefits.
11. The Department's OIG filed a hearing request on July 23, 2019, to establish an OI of benefits received by Respondent as a result of Respondent having allegedly committed an IPV by engaging in two fraudulent transactions on October 9, 2017 and November 3, 2017 totaling $487.12. Exhibit A, pp. 1-8.
12. The OIG requested that Respondent be disqualified from receiving FAP benefits for a period of one year. Exhibit A, pp. 1-8.

13. The Department's OIG indicates that the time period it is considering the fraud period is October 9, 2017 through November 3, 2017 (fraud period). Exhibit A, pp. 1-8.
14. A Notice of Hearing was mailed to Respondent at the last known address and was not returned by the United States Postal Services as undeliverable.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Department policies are contained in the Department of Health and Human Services Bridges Administrative Manual (BAM), Bridges Eligibility Manual (BEM), and Reference Tables Manual (RFT).

The Food Assistance Program (FAP) [formerly known as the Food Stamp program] is established by the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, 7 USC 2011 to 2036a and is implemented by the federal regulations contained in 7 CFR 273. The Department (formerly known as the Department of Human Services) administers FAP pursuant to MCL 400.10; the Social Welfare Act, MCL 400.1-.119b; and Mich Admin Code, R 400.3001 to .3015.

The Department has alleged that Respondent committed an IPV by trafficking $487.12 of FAP benefits via her October 9, 2017 and November 3, 2017 Red Bull transactions at the [REDACTED] store.

Intentional Program Violation

Suspected IPV means an OI exists for which all three of the following conditions exist:

- The client intentionally failed to report information or intentionally gave incomplete or inaccurate information needed to make a correct benefit determination, and
- The client was clearly and correctly instructed regarding his or her reporting responsibilities, and
- The client has no apparent physical or mental impairment that limits his or her understanding or ability to fulfill reporting responsibilities. BAM 720 (January 2016), p. 1; 7 CFR 273.16(c).

An IPV is also suspected for a client who is alleged to have trafficked FAP benefits. BAM 720, p. 1; 7 CFR 271.2. Trafficking includes not only the improper purchase, sale, or use of FAP benefits, but also the attempt to purchase, sell, or use FAP benefits for consideration other than eligible food. BAM 700 (October 2016), p. 2; 7 CFR 271.2. Trafficking may be established by circumstantial evidence and can be inferred from the evidence with facts which are inconsistent with an honest person. See Foodland Distributors v Al-Naimi, 220 Mich App 453 (1996). In order to sustain an IPV for trafficking, the Department must prove by clear and convincing evidence that the client intentionally committed an act involving the unlawful transfer or attempted transfer of FAP benefits. BAM 720, p. 1; see also 7 CFR 273.16(e)(6). Clear and convincing evidence is evidence sufficient to result in a clear and firm belief that the proposition is true. See M Civ JI 8.01.

In this case, the Department has established that Respondent was aware that misuse of her FAP benefits is a violation of state and federal laws for which she may be disqualified from the program, fined, and incarcerated, amongst other potential penalties. Further, the Department made Respondent aware that it was unlawful to allow non-group members to use her card or exchange her FAP benefits for anything other than eligible food.

The Department alleges that the October 9, 2017 and November 3, 2017 Red Bull purchases Respondent made at the [REDACTED] store with her FAP benefits were instances of trafficking. The Department conceded that all items purchased in the suspected trafficking transactions were eligible food items. The Department's position in this case is that Respondent purchased so much of a single product that it could not reasonably be consumed by her household, particularly given the ages of Respondent's children. Thus, Respondent must have been doing something other than using the benefits for her own household's consumption. The Department contends that if Respondent was providing the benefits to someone who was not eligible to receive them, Respondent must have received something in return, which is unlawful trafficking.

After reviewing the record, the Department has met its burden of proving by clear and convincing evidence that Respondent engaged in FAP trafficking in the [REDACTED] transactions. When reviewing the receipt for the purchases, it shows that the only items purchased were 24-packs of Red Bull energy drink. In total, Respondent purchased at least 312 cans of Red Bull, which is a completely unreasonable amount to expect a household to consume, even if they were meant to last for a long time. The quantity of Red Bull purchased is clearly not indicative of a normal purchase made for household consumption. Clearly, Respondent used her benefits to purchase items for other, non-household members. Further bolstering the conclusion that Respondent unlawfully trafficking her FAP benefits is the fact that these purchases were the only purchases made by Respondent for a nearly two-month period.

While there is no direct evidence of consideration received by Respondent in exchange for the unlawfully transferred FAP benefits, the Department showed by clear and convincing evidence that the amount in question was unlawfully trafficked. Respondent provided to someone else other than a member of her FAP group the proceeds of her FAP benefits in a manner that is highly indicative of fraud. The evidence on the record clearly shows that the highly suspicious purchases were made using Respondent's EBT card and pin. The nature and timing of the purchases are indicative of trafficking. When combined with Respondent's lack of any rebuttal testimony regarding the suspicious incidents, the record is both clear and convincing that Respondent engaged in FAP trafficking, which is an IPV. Despite being made aware of the requirements and penalties for noncompliance, the evidence clearly shows Respondent engaged in two fraudulent transactions in October and November of 2017.

Disqualification

A client who is found to have committed an IPV by a court or hearing decision is disqualified from receiving program benefits. BAM 720, p. 15; 7 CFR 273.16(b). Clients are disqualified for ten years for a FAP IPV involving concurrent receipt of benefits, and, for all other IPV cases involving FIP, FAP or SDA, for standard disqualification periods of one year for the first IPV, two years for the second IPV, and lifetime for the third IPV. BAM 720, p. 16; 7 CFR 273.16(b). A disqualified recipient remains a member of an active group as long as he/she lives with them, and other eligible group members may continue to receive benefits. BAM 720, p. 16.

In this case, there is no evidence that Respondent has ever been found to have committed an IPV related to FAP benefits. Thus, this is Respondent's first IPV related to FAP benefits. Therefore, Respondent is subject to a one-year disqualification.

Repayment

The amount the Department is entitled to recoup and/or collect for trafficking-related IPV is the value of the trafficked benefits as determined by: (1) a court decision; (2) the individual's admission; or (3) documentation used to establish the trafficking determination, such as an affidavit from a store owner or sworn testimony from a federal or state investigator of how much a client could have reasonably trafficked in that store. BAM 720, p. 8; 7 CFR 273.18(c)(2). In this case, the evidence shows that Respondent trafficked $487.12 worth of FAP benefits. Thus, the Department is entitled to recoup and/or collect from Respondent $487.12.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Administrative Law Judge based upon the above Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and for the reasons stated on the record, if any, concludes that:

1. The Department has established by clear and convincing evidence that Respondent committed an IPV with respect to FAP.
2. The Department is entitled to recoup and/or collect the total of $487.12 as a result of Respondent's unlawful trafficking of that amount of FAP benefits
3. Respondent is disqualified from receiving FAP benefits for a period of 12 months.

IT IS ORDERED that the Department is authorized to initiate recoupment and/or collection procedures for the amount of $487.12, less any amounts already recouped and/or collected.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Respondent is disqualified from receiving FAP benefits for a period of 12 months.
